Wade tribute dinner reported near sellout

BALTIMORE, April 9— The Sunday evening salute to University of Maryland basketball coach Bob Wade has struck a responsive chord in all levels of city life.

As a consequence, the testimonial dinner at Martin's West was within 50 tickets of a projected sellout as early as Tuesday.

The planning committee headed by Circuit Court Judge Robert Hammerman had targeted a 1200 ticket sale. At the group's Tuesday night meeting, the money in hand accounted for the sale of 1150 tickets.

* * *

The testimonial event, while recognizing his later achievements at College Park, focuses on Bob Wade's earlier impact on high school students and the East Baltimore community around Dunbar High School.

It serves to call notice on the many fine young athletes he has developed and aided in going on to college.

Reggie Williams at Georgetown is easily the most visible at the moment. But not to be forgotten are ACC Player of the Year Tyrone Bogues at Wake Forest, two-time ECAC Player of the Year Reggie Lewis at Northeastern University, and countless others: Michael Brown at Georgia Tech. Derrick Lewis at Northeastern and Gary Graham at Nevada-Las Vegas to name a few.

Baltimorean David Wingate, now a prospective successor to Julius Erving with the NBA Philadelphia 76ers, is a Bob Wade protege.

Members of Wade's inaugural University of Maryland team, available alumni such as Williams, Bogues and Lewis, and current members of the Dunbar High School team are expected to attend.

The committee admitted that there is some question as to the number of youngsters who may not be able to attend because of restrictions due to mid-term and spring exams.

* * *

Plains have been completed for the affair to be video-taped and presented later to Bob Wade and his wife. The couple also will be presented a vacation trip of their choice.

President Reagan and Governor Schaefer are committed to letters of appreciation which will be presented the Wade family as keepsakes.

An endowment in the amount of $1,000 will be set aside for Dunbar High School in the name of Bob Wade.

Bird fans like what they see

BALTIMORE, April 9— Despite the ignominious loss of the second (Wednesday) game of their season, 6-4, to Texas, the Orioles have definitely won the hearts of local fans.

Second guessers may wonder why Manager Cal Ripken left inept Larry Sheets in leftfield after the Birds had rallied from two runs behind to tie the score entering the ninth inning.

All spring, Sheets had been referred to as a "designated hitter" because of his deficiencies in the field. So, it shouldn't have surprised that he misplayed into doubles, two fly balls which ordinarily would have been outs.

The O's season-opening victory over the Rangers offered hometown

Tyson to box Pinklon Thomas

PANAMA CITY, Panama (UPI) — The World Boxing Association has given approval for Mike Tyson to defend his heavyweight title against Pinklon Thomas May 30 in Las Vegas, Nev.

Tyson unified the WBA and World Boxing Council heavyweight title March 7 when he beat James "Bonecrusher" Smith in Las Vegas by unanimous decision.

Thomas is ranked the No. 1 contender by the WBC and No. 3 by the WBA.

WBA President Elias Cordova said the Tyson-Thomas fight was approved by a joint WBA-WBC panel and will be a 12-round bout in accord with the rules of the Nevada Athletic Commission.

Ray Leonard camp named in $1 million suit

FORT WORTH, Texas (UPI) — Boxer Donald Curry has filed a $1 million lawsuit against new middleweight champion Sugar Ray Leonard, claiming Leonard deliberately gave bad advice to keep Curry from obstructing his comeback plans.

Curry's allegations were contained in a suit filed Monday by Curry's lawyer, Mark L. Gibbons of Fort Worth, against Leonard and lawyer Michael Trainer.

According to the lawsuit, Trainer persuaded Curry to pull out of a bout with junior middleweight champion Mike McCallum, and to let him advise him in his career, saying there would be no conflict of interest with his representation of Leonard since Sugar Ray was not returning to the ring.

Immediately after Curry pulled out of the McCallum fight, Leonard announced plans to come out of retirement to fight Hagler.

Curry claims that at the same time Leonard and Trainer were discouraging him from seeking success in the heavier class, Leonard had already agreed to fight Hagler and resumed training.

"If Curry had known that Leonard was planning a comeback against Hagler, Curry would neither have entered into an attorney/client relationship with Trainer and would not have permitted Leonard to act as his advisor. Further, Curry would not have withdrawn from the scheduled fight with McCallum," the suit says.

Curry seeks at least $1 million in damages, equal to the purse of the McCallum fight.

Promoters fight after fight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — A fight few people would pay to see — but many would love to watch — broke out Monday night following the Ray Leonard-Marvin Hagler middleweight title bout when Don King and Bob Arum scuffled at ringside.

King and Arum, the two promoters who have waged a long and fierce struggle to dominate boxing, traded blows a few minutes after Leonard was awarded victory by split-decision over Hagler.

Arum, who was promoter of the Leonard-Hagler bout, jumped on King as he tried to climb into the Caesars Palace outdoor ring. The two wrestled and King never made it into the ring to congratulate Leonard.

"The man had nothing to do with the fight and didn't belong in the ring," Arum said. "So I called security. I'm not going to get down to that man's level."

Arum claimed King had a pistol, which fell from his pocket and was taken by security during the scuffle. King was not available for comment.

Lori recovers

Lori McNeil, suffering a siege of nerves, was trounced in her first major tennis final Saturday, losing, 6-0, 6-3, to Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia at the women's world indoor championships.

She recovered, however, in the doubles final, teaming with Gigi Fernandez of Puerto Rico to defeat Betsy Nagelsen of Hawaii, and Liz Smylie of Australia, 6-1, 6-4.

McNeil pocketed $14,500 as the runner-up purse in singles and $5,250 as her share of the doubles prize.

HU to defend MEAC title

GREENSBORO, NC — The Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference is conducting its 1987 baseball championship this weekend in Burlington, NC at Fairchild Park Stadium.

On Thursday, in the opening game of the seven-team, double elimination tournament, the number four seeded team will play the fifth seeded team at 9 am At 10:45 am, number three plays number six, and at 12:30 pm, number two plays number seven.

At 2:15 pm, the number one seeded team (with a bye) will meet the winner of the four-five seeds, and at 4 pm the winners of three-six and two-seven meet to close out Thursday's action.

Eliminations continue on Friday, with five more games on tap. The first two, set for 9 am and 10:45 am will be in the losers' bracket, there is one game in the winners' bracket at 12:30 pm, and then two in the losers' bracket at 2:15 and 4 pm.

On Saturday, a losers' bracket game opens play at 11 am. The possible championship contest is slated for 1:30 pm, and if another game is needed, it will start at 4 pm. Sunday is a rain date.

In 1986, Howard University slipped through the MEAC Baseball Championship undefeated and won the title game 13-2 over Coppin State. Besides those two, 1987 participating member institutions include: Bethune-Cookman College, Delaware State College, Florida A&M University, Maryland Eastern Shore, and North Carolina A&T State University.

Quick Kim kayo

Kim Sands, one of the lesser known blacks on the women's tennis tour, was ousted in first-round singles of the Family Circle tournament at Hilton Head. The 22-year-old Miami hopeful lost, 3-6, 7-5, 7-5, to Angeliki Kanellopoulou, of Greece.

NBA stars join in $1.1 million suit against Tampa law firm

TAMPA, Fla. — Basketball stars Michael Jordan of the Chicago Bulls, James Worthy of the Los Angeles Lakers and several other current and former athletes have sued a prominent Tampa law firm for $1.1 million in a dispute over a land transaction.

The athletes accused the firm of taking money they had paid for development of some land near Bradenton which was subsequently lost to a bank foreclosure.

* * *

The suit, filed in Hillsborough County Circuit Court, was lodged against Burke Kibler, chairman of the board of Holland and Knight, one of the largest law firms in Florida, and 110 other members of the firm's seven Florida and Washington offices.

The complaint stems from a 1984 business transaction in which Jordan, Worthy and the other plaintiffs said they invested $1.1 million to develop land at Terra Ceia Iles, just south of the Sunshine Skyway Bridge.

The development venture was organized by the late John Bassett, former owner of the USFL Tampa Bay Bandits, the suit said.

* * *

Joining Jordan and Worthy as plaintiffs in the professional malpractice action are basketball players Mitch Kupchak, formerly a center for the Washington Bullets and Los Angeles Lakers; Charles L. "Buck" Williams, a forward with the New Jersey Nets; former tennis player and Davis Cup team captain Arthur Ashe; and tennis player Andres Gomez.

Also joining the suit are Donald Dell, president of ProServe Inc., a Washington sports marketing and management company that manages the athletes; and Allen F. Furst, financial manager of ProServe; South Hampton Overseas Inc. of the Republic of Panama.

James Worthy deal dates back to '84

One-on-one

Ben Oglivie, the American League homerun champion while at Milwaukee in 1980, was signed to a contract by the Kintetsu Buffaloes of the Japanese Baseball league during the winter. After three weeks of spring training, Ben became homesick and quit Japan to return to the United States.

Bo Jackson was the starting lefttielder for Kansas City in opening against the White Sox, Royals General Manager John Schuerholz explaining: "We're not planning to put him on the ballclub and not have him play. That would make no sense; besides he's every bit as good at baseball as he was a football Heisman."

Campanis resigns from Dodgers over 'racist' remarks

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles Dodgers Vice President Al Campanis, who told a nationally-televised audience that blacks lacked the "necessities" to become baseball managers, Wednesday resigned under pressure from team officials and political and civil rights figures.

A Dodgers spokesman said owner Peter O'Malley asked for and received the resignation. The team said executive vice-president Fred Claire would temporarily handle Campanis' duties.

On the ABC program "Nightline" Monday, Campanis was asked by host Ted Koppel why there are no black managers, general managers or owners in the major leagues.

"The only thing I can say is that you have to pay your dues when you become a manager," Campanis responded. "Generally, you have to go to minor leagues. There's not very much pay involved, and some of the better-known black players have been able to get into other fields and make a pretty good living in that way."

Asked if he thought racial prejudice still existed in baseball, Campanis said, "No, I don't believe it's prejudice. I truly believe that they may not have some of the necessities to be, let's say, a field manager, or perhaps a general manager.

"So it just might be - why are black men, or black people, not good swimmers?" he said. "They just don't have the buoyancy."

Campanis, calling it "the saddest moment of my entire career," Tuesday released a statement apologizing for the comments.

Vice president for player personnel for the Dodgers for 19 years, Campanis, 70, had served as player, scout, manager and instructor in the Dodgers organization since the 1940s.

Campanis played alongside Jackie Robinson in 1946 when Robinson broke into organized baseball as a member of the Montreal Royals, a Dodger farm team.

Only three black men have managed in the major leagues: Frank Robinson, Larry Doby and Maury Wills. Doby and Wills each managed less than a full season. Robinson managed the Indians from 1975-1977 and the Giants from 1981-1984.

During a news conference Wednesday, both the NAACP and the American Civil Liberties Union said Campanis' apology Tuesday missed the point.

"Blacks should be hired in key management positions and there is no justification for their exclusion," said Raymond Johnson, Jr., president of the NAACP's Los Angeles chapter.

Johnson challenged Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth and O'Malley to establish an aggressive affirmative action hiring program.

ACLU representative Mark Rosenbaum, who joined Johnson at the news conference, said racism has long been a part of baseball.

"For years the color line has been synonymous with the baseline," he said.

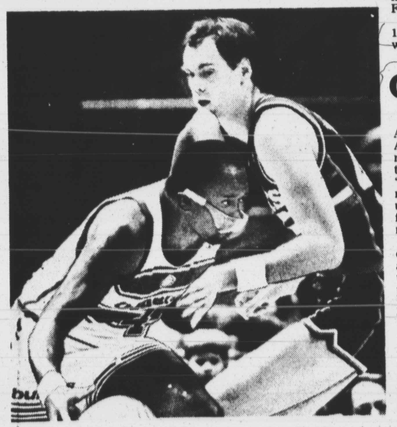
Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley said Tuesday that he "does not accept" Campanis' beliefs.

O'Malley said in a statement issued by the club Tuesday that Campanis had erred.

"The Los Angeles Dodgers deeply regret and apologize for the statements made last night by Vice President Al Campanis," O'Malley said. "Furthermore, as far as the Dodgers are concerned, black Americans are just as capable and dedicated as any other Americans and therefore equally as qualified to hold positions of responsibility, whether in baseball or any other field of endeavor.

"All of us in baseball must do everything possible to hasten the day when all minorities are better represented in key management positions."

In case you missed it, and are interested, the Pointer Sisters sang the national anthem at the Marvin Hagler-Sugar Ray Leonard fight Monday night.



CLOSE BUT NO CIGAR — The Bullets came close but the Bucks got the ringer. Moses Malone (1) loses his protective eye goggles as he drives around Randy Breuer during action in Tuesday night's 95-94 Washington loss to Milwaukee at Capital Centre. The home club staged three late rallies to close within one point of the subsequent visiting victory.

EASTER APRIL 19th

Remember Your Loved Ones With An

EASTER

TRIBUTE

The Baltimore AFRO-AMERICAN on Friday, April 17th, will help you honor your deceased loved one with a special "Easter Tribute Page." With this thought in mind, we are taking this opportunity to suggest the publication of one of the following verses or any similar poem of your choice. Pictures may be used at a small additional cost.

DEADLINE 3:00 P.M. TUES., APRIL 14, 1987

E-1
"UNSPOKEN"
Sometimes along the way of life
I'd hurry thru the day
And often miss the sweet things
I'd really meant to say.
Those little words of tenderness
I felt deep in my heart
But though I cannot tell you
You'll always be a part
Of every loving thought I have
Today and all the year.
Because in words unspoken
I love you husband, dear.

E-2
"OUR EASTER PRAYER"
O' Sacred Heart of Jesus
Keep him by Your side.
For I need not tell You,
He was my joy and pride.

E-3
This Easter brings back memories
Of wonderful times we knew.
A family day together
For then dear, Mom, we had you
And all these recollections
Of the happy days now gone.
Bring heartaches and a longing
As Easter morning dawns.

E-4
Tho' you're not here this Easter
Our wishes to impart.
You know our thoughts are with you
Even tho' we're far apart.
We'll put our wishes in writing
And hope that they'll be read
By the son and brother we loved so dearly
And whose feet have ceased to tread.

E-5
"OUR EASTER MEMORY"
Your memory to us is a keepsake
With which we'll never part
Though God has you in His Keeping
We still have you in our hearts.

E-6
"OUR EASTER MESSAGE"
Farewell, dear father, thy work is o'er
Thy willing hands will toil no more.
A loving father, kind and true
No one on earth we'll find like you.

E-7
"OUR EASTER MEMORY"
Dear Mother, you were the light of our life.
Always happy and gay.
God knows how much we miss you
On this Blessed Easter Day.

E-8
On Easter Day the world becomes the prettiest kind of place.
And thoughts of you enrich each hour.
To give it added grace.
The flowers we place upon your grave
The clouds against the blue.
Seem brighter than they were before
Because we're always thinking of you.

E-9
No matter how many Easters
Come and we're still apart.
I still have the faith, my love one
We're still in each other's heart.
So as ever on Easter morning
I'll say "Happy Easter" dear.
And pretend we never had parted
For your presence I'll feel very near

E-10
Easter brings sad memories
Of a sister who has gone to rest.
She will never be forgotten
By the ones who loved her best
Though her smile is gone forever
And her sweet face I cannot touch
I shall never lose sweet memories
Of my sister I loved so much.

E-11
Flowers will bloom at Easter time
Fresh with the light spring rain.
But the face of our dear sister
We would love to see again.
Sister, when the violets open
And the flowers in beauty wave.
We will gather up some bunches
And lay them gently on your grave
Oh, so often do we wonder
To the place where you are load
And think if God had only left you
Longer on earth with us to stay.

E-12
We are sad within our memory,
And lonely, this Easter Day.
For the ones we loved so dearly
Have forever been called away.
We think of them in silence.
No eye may see us weep.
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.

E-13
In the book of God's Remembrance
Your name is written there.
And it seems to bring you nearer.
As I breathe my Easter payer.
I thank the Heavenly Father
For having known one so sweet and true
And pray, his richest blessings
Will ever rest on you.

E-14
A cross, a thorny wreath,
The blooming dogwood, all are signs
That Easter is a holy time
The thoughts of one so true and good
Renews again the overpowering grief.
He is not dead, just gone before.
We miss him now and evermore.
So on Easter to our loved one so dear
We'll send our love and prayers
That God will bless and keep him always
In His care
