WOMEN TO ORGANIZE

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN TO HAVE FEDERATION OF DEMOCRATIC CLUBS IN MARYLAND.

Demoratic women from all over the state of Maryland gathered in Annapolis, Md., several days ago and formed a temporary United Federation of Democratic Womans Clubs, and that meeting dcided to call together democratic women from all over the State at a Convention to be held at Baltimore, Md., at the Belvedere Hotel, on March 21st, when a Committe women, Vice Chairman, and four delegates to the Democratic National Convention in New York City will be named. They will also select permanent officers for the United Federation at this Convention.

The temporary officers elected the other day at Annapolis, Md., were Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, Chairman, Miss Laura Gilliland, Secretary, Mrs. J. Enos Ray, Treasurer. Mrs. George M. Gather, Chairman of Organization, Mrs. Armstrong Kirby and Mrs. Andrew Annon, co-Chairman of Membership, Mrs. Victor Dulao, Chairman Constitution, Mrs. Richard F. Irwin, Chairman Nomination.

At this meeting the women most prominently mentioned for Committee woman was Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, of Chevy Chase, Md. she has organized and is president of the Womans Democratic Club of Montgomery County, having a membership of 1000 members and her Club is regarded at National Headquarters at Washington, as the banner Club of the Country, for harmony, teamwork and accomplishments, They hae been organized for three year, have no factions, and are regarded as the best organized Club in the State. They hav raised over $2000 since their organization by their own efforts and are now publishing a paper called "The Woman Democrat" Mrs. Nicholson being its efficient editor.

Mrs. Nilholson is the mother of three rhildren, is a member of the League of Ameriran Pen Women, of the Sationai Democratic Club, and has been in newspaper work for nearly twenty years, she was correspondent for the Washington Star, for over fifteen years, and is at present correspondent for the Washington Post.

During the world War she organized and became the first President of the Chevy Chaes Branch of the Montgomery Chapter of the American Red Cross and raised more money for Red Cross work than any Branch in the State. She was presented with a service medal for the work she had done by the Ameriran Red Cross.

Mrs. Nicholson is an accomplished speaker and was heard only last Saturday evening in Rockville at a large Democratic meeting when Senator Pat Harrison was the other speaker on that occasion.

The Womans Democratic Club of Montgomery County have unanimously endorsed their President Mrs. Nicholson for Committee woman for the State.

Each County will be allowed to sent four voting delegates, with four alternates to the Convention in Baltimore, which is to be held on March 21.

Any democratic woman desiring information about the Convention should communicate with the Secretary Miss Laura Gilliland, Chevy Chase, Md.

From The Century Theatre Press Department

"Under the Red Robe," the $1,500,000 Goldwyn-Cosmopolitan picturization of Stanley Weyman's famous historical novel of the same name, will be shown at the Century theatre during the week beginning Monday, February 25.

The picture was directed by Alan Crosland from the scenario by Bayard Veiller, the famous playwright and author of "Within the Law" and other stage successes. Joseph Urban designed the lavish settings.

Robert B. Mantell has the role of Cardinal Richelieu while John Charles Thomas the famous baritone singer appears as the hero Gil de Berault. Alma Rubens is seen as Renee. Others in the cast includ: Genevieve Hamper. William H. Powell, Rose Coghlan, Ian MacLaren, Mary MacLaren, Otto Kruger, Evelyn Gosnell, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Sidney Herbert and Arthur Houseman.

A special musical act will be given in conjunction with the regular program of moving pictures, in which Charles Kaufman, a well known pianist and Miss M. Rosemary, vocalist will render selections.

Both these artists are thoroughly familiar with concert work and have had wide experience in playing and singing before the public.

According to the new policy which has been inaugurated on the Century Roof, a new show will be presented every week. The old prices now prevail. They are: Nightly, $1 plus tax and Saturday nights, $1.50 plus tax. William Ranklin is directing the shows and the music for dancing and for the show is furnished by Robbin's Century Roof Orchestra, directed by Samuel Robbins.

—Maryland's largest tree, an oak, on "Wheatland" farm, adjoining Queenstown, was felled by the woodman's axe recently. The tree trunk was cut 16 feet long and measured across the bottom 6 feet and 10 inches and 6 feet 6 inches at the top. Three men have been working on the tree for four weeks and have produced 18 cords of wood ad 7 cartloads of chips so far. It is expected to get 7 more cords of wood and 3 loads of chips when the job is finished.

FARM STOCK

Tuberculin Test Should Be Applied to All Stock

Since tuberculosis continues to be probably the most important disease affecting man and the lower animals, causing in man alone one-tenth of the deaths from all causes and occasioning an economic loss in the United States of over $200,000,000 annually, a few facts relative to the present status of this disease may be opportune.

1. The disease is caused by a specific germ so small that a magnification of nearly 1,000 diameters is necessary in order to see it distinctly.

2. It is possible to isolate the germ from both man and animal tissues affected with tuberculosis and to grow same on artificial media.

3. The germ of tuberculosis is quite resistant to many of the natural influences that affect bacteria and if embedded in sputum will withstand the direct rays of the sun for 24 hours or longer. In dark recesses at low temperature, the germs may live for many months and even a 5 per cent strength of carbolic acid requires 24 hours to effect destruction of these organisms.

4. In addition to man, practically all mammalians are susceptible.

5. Among the lower animals the disease is most frequently seen in cattle and hogs. Horses and sheep are rarely affected.

6. In man the disease may involve the lungs, (pulmonary tuberculosis; consumption), the intestines; be confined to the lymph glands, or the skin, or it may be localized in the bones and joints.

7. It is a very common disease of chickens, although turkeys and pigeons also frequently suffer from it. Ducks and geese do not appear to be susceptible.

8. Fowls apparently do not contract the disease from diseased cattle, although swine may do so.

9. Heredity plays but a very minor part in the transmission or communication of this disease.

10. Tuberculosis may be contracted by inhaling air contaminated with the germs, or by the organism gaining entrance into the digestive tract with various articles of food, particularly milk.

11. Cattle are frequently affected with both the intestinal and lung forms. The udder of cattle is not an uncommon location for the disease.

12. A large share of the cases in children showing the intestinal form of the disease is due to the tubercle germ of bovine origin being transmitted through milk from diseased animals.

13. Animals may be fairly "rotten" with the disease without any symptoms being manifest.

14. Tuberculosis in cattle, swine and fowls can be diagnosed with a high degree of accuracy by means of the tuberculin test. The ones showing a positive reaction should be disposed of at once.

15. Tuberculosis is a preventable disease and will decrease in prevalence with the development of sanitation, personal hygiene, supervision of the production and distribution of milk by health officers; veterinary inspection of all meat products designed for food; and the universal application of the tuberculin test to all cattle, but particularly those supplying milk for human consumption.—William H. Feldman, Pathology Section, Colorado Experiment Station.

Careful Management Big Need in Building Herd

It takes good feeding, careful management and considerable patience to build up a herd. Good food alone cannot do much if feed and care are neglected. When handling registered cattle, the calves must be properly recorded and marked so that the pedigrees may be correctly certified. It means considerable loss to sell a purebred as a grade because it has lost its identity or its breeding is not known.

Culling is highly important. A breeder should not be afraid to sell inferior animals for beef. Culls appear in the best herds. Weeding out is a necessary part of the breeding business. A scrub purebred is a bad advertisement for the seller, as well as an injury to the buyer. A satisfied customer is likely to be a permanent customer, while a buyer who feels he has been loaded up with unsatisfactory stock can spoil a good deal of business for the breeder. After a breeder gets to the point where he has a well-selected herd of purebred cattle, a well-merited reputation and a number of satisfied buyers to advertise his stock, he can be assured of a good income. He will have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has a real part in the building of one of the state's great industries.

Powder Recommended to Kill Vermin in Winter

When animals are troubled with vermin, dip them in a bath of commercial coal-tar dip made and used according to directions given by the manufacturer. In winter dust infested parts of skin with powdered pyrethrum, flowers of sulphur and tobacco. Powdered sabadilla is effective for lice of cattle, but is poisonous if licked off. Blanket animals after applying above powders. Use fluoride of sodium on poultry.

—Brokers within the past week have been loading white potatoes at different points in Lower Delaware, and hundreds of bushels have been shipped to the city markets. Growers have been receiving 75 cents per bushel delivered at the freight stations. George H. Bryan, a widely known farmer of Angola Neck, sold 2,000 bushels recently for $1,500. The yield was from 10 acres, which made an average of $150 per acre. His net profits, it is figured, reached about $100 per acre.

THE JOY OF READING

Between the covers of good books are concealed the romances, adventurs, human joys and sorrows, that give color to history and connect us in sympathy and understanding, with people of far off lands and bygone days.

Through the pages of these books we are able to work and talk with the greatest thinkers of all times, or at will, we can swashbuckle down the centuries with drawn cutlassess and smoking pistols, shoulder to shoulder with the boldest adventeurers and the mightiest soldiers of every land and age.

Locked within their printed lines are the accumulated riches of thought and the dearly bought experience of countless millions who have met and conquered the problems of life, that the rest of us must contend with today.

A thousand years at the turn of a page—time, distance, places are all annihilated, as you read in the comfort of your seat by the fireside, who could tell which is the real and the fancy.

Read for pleasure, read for profit, but read to keep open the channels of your mind.

A UNIQUE REQUEST.

Presbyterians throughout the United States were urged today to abstain from movies, chewing gum, rouge and other luxuries from February 17 until February 24 and give the amount they would have spent on these "inconsequentials" to the church. The General Council of the Presbyterian Church in the United States adopted a resolution embodying this request at a meeting here.

Church leaders devising ways and means of raising the $15,000,000 to carry on the church's work for the year, have estimated that if the 1,800,000 members of the 10,000 churches contributed more than $1,000,000 would come through this abstention. The week designated has ben set apart as Sacrificial Loyalty Week.

NO REST—NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Chestertown people recommend Doan's Pills. Be guided by their experience.

Mrs. Mary V. Elliott, 531 W. High St., Chestertown, says: "I had kidney trouble and was down with lumbago for weeks at a time. I suffered from morning until night with pains through my back. I could hardly turn in bed. My feet became so swollen and painful, I couldn't be on them long at a time. My kidneys acted too often and annoyed me. I used Doan's Kidney Pills from Toulson's Drug Store and they soon had me free from all the distressing symptoms of kidney trouble. I seldom have any sign of the trouble now."
