WASHINGTON LOSES TO MT. ST. MARY'S—TO BATTLE AGAIN IN BALTIMORE FRIDAY NIGHT—OTHER SPORT NOTES OF INTEREST

Washington College failed to do its "stuff" against Mt. St. Mary's in Baltimore last Friday night, in the first game for the basketball champion ship of the state, and lost 46-30. From beginning to end Washington seemed away off and did not seem to be able to get going in their usual style. Washington's magnificent defense was unable to cope with Mt. St. Mary's fast and effective offensive drives, which also netted them many easy shots.

Ruiz, the wily Mexican star forward, was the big gun on the winning combination. Twenty points were registered by Ruiz, nine field goals and a pair of good throws from the bargain counter.

Capt. Danny Hart proved a worthy leader for the quintet coached by Walter Halas, playing a sterling game at guard and at the same time scoring 21-to-16 advantage.

It makes the first defeat for Washington College this season by a State college team. Carroll and Carrington, two of its mainstays, were way off color in shooting.

The score at the end of the first half found Mount St. Mary's enjoying o 21-to-16 advantage.

If winter comes can spring be far?
Well, that depends on where you are.
For, while the Northern snow is deep.
Down South the bluebirds' morning chat
Rings out again as echoes leap
Where speeding ball meets crashing bat.

Mike McTigue, the light heavyweight champion, and young Shibling, of Georgia, schoolboy wonder, have been matched to fight 12 rounds in New Jersey in the near future.

Newark Club, of the International League, will train in Salisbury again this year.

President Coolidge greeted Jack Dempsey Saturday as "one who has been before the public longer than I have." The world's heavyweight champion, accompained by Jack Kearns, his manager, called at the White House and was introduced to the Preesident by Secretary Hemp.

Easton will have a baseball team in the Eastern Shore League, according to reports.

About four hundred dogs are listed in Baltimore's dog show for this week.

Quentin Romero Rojas, Chilean heavyweight boxer, may be brought to this country by Tex Rickard as a possible opponent for Jack Dempsey. The promoter has cabled the Chilean an offer of three bouts with the guarantee that if he wins all of them he will get a bout with the world's champion.

William C. Prout, of Boston, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, heads the committee which will select the track and field athletes carrying America's colors in the 1924 Olympics at Paris.

As affairs have shaped up the Firpo-Wills battle can be promoted by Tex Rickard—provided he wishes to promote it, and, again, provided Firpo is willing to meet Wills. Neither of these things is certain. Rickard, speaking for himself, admits the uncertainty. And Firpo's recent actions are as eloquent as any words he could say. Firpo continues to hold the lime-light in spite of the fact that he was the most beaten man that ever contended for a world's championship.

March and April will find Southern polo in full swing. While the galloping game is no new thing in the South and while the winter months have found plenty of activity in that section from time to time, the broadening of the field of play, the progress of new clubs, the continued advent of Northern players and the development of the Southerners, both as clubs and as players, are further testimony to the expansion of the game.

Washington will be in fine fettle and eager to wipe out the stain of Friday night's defeat when they face Mt. St. Mary's next Friday night, March 7th, in Baltimore. We look for Washington to win this game.

With a defense that was almost impregnable, and an offense which swept their opponents from their feet, Washington College scored the second victory of the year over Y. M. H. A., on Tuesday night in Baltimore by the score of 34 to 17. Like the first game on the local floor, the Young Men's Hebrew Association quint spent their engeries in the first half, and the second left them to the none too tender mercies of the Washington's speedy aggregation.

In the second session, however, things were altogether different, the Collegians pulling away at the start and enjoying a comfortable advantage throughout the rest of the game.

Washington showed a complete reversal of former over the game with Mt. St. Mary's—which team lost to the Y. M. H. A. earlier in the season—and were in fine shape. Carrington and Fiore, the Washington College guardsmen, had the Y. M. H. A. cagers spotted too well to cause them much trouble. Dumschott and Carroll together, Washington College forwards, garnered 21 of their team's total.

Dumschott and Carroll ran the count up to 4 to 0 at the start of the game on successive field goals. Berkow had the honor of tallying first for the Hebrew quintet, making good a throw from the bargain counter. After Carroll had scored his second goal Berkow came right back and knotted the count at 6-all on a good toss from the 17-foot mark and a pair of goals.

Carrington sent the "Flying Pentagon" into the lead once more on a throw from the penalty line, which it never relinquished. At half time the scoreboards read, Washington College, 13, Y. M. H. A., 9.

Fiore and Carroll gave the ultimate winners a substantial lead shortly after Referee Halas had blown his whistle for the beginning of the second half, running the count up to 18 to 9, on two goals and a foul. Late in the second half Washington College enjoyed a 32 to 13 advantage.

Blue Ridge College and Washington will play on the local floor tonight, Saturday. Washington should be an easy winner.

Washington College scored another victory over Loyola Wednesday night on the local floor by the score of 28 to 17. The game was hard fought and Washington particularly, was handicapped by the fact that the floor had been waxed for a dance and was so slippery that neither team could hardly get started. Nearly every one of Washington's fast players sustained falls that might have injured them seriously.

Loyola started off as though it meant business when Mention caged a long shot from the center of the floor, and Helfrich duplicated his feat. Carroll and Dumschott tied the score with two field goals. The score then zig-zaged until three finutes before half time when Washington College forged into the lead. The half ended with the locals enjoying a 14 to 8 advantage.

Washington College widened its lead at the very beginning of the second session and never relinquished it.

Mention and Helfrich were the Loyola luminaries. Carroll led the Washington attack with five baskets from the field and one from the foul line. McGran played a most aggressive game.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Mr. W. H. Tinker, of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. has been a guest of the college for the past few days. He addressed the entire student body at chapel on Wednesday and Thursday and has held several meetings of the college leaders. The Intercollegiate Oratorical contest will be held this year at St. Johns College, Annapolis, Md., on April 25th. Undismayed by the defeat handed them last week the basket ball team is preparing to capture the second contest in the State Championship series to be played in the fourth regiment armory, Baltimore on March 7. Washington was far off her usual game the last time and also somewhat tired owing to the fact that she had played Western Maryland College at Westminster the night before. A victory this time will necessitate a third contest to break the tie. Should it be necessary the third contest will probably be staged on a neutral Baltimore court.

Everyone enjoyed thoroughly the third of the series of the Cotillion Club dance held in the Gym on Friday night. Stergers Orchestra of Baltimore furnished the music. The patronesses were Mrs. Scott Beck, Mrs. W. R. Howell and Mrs. A. R. Woodland. The hall was attractively decorated by a committee headed by C. M. Jarman. Punch was served between dances.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.
