Dempsey has all the lithe grace and the effortless movement of a big panther. There has never been a heavyweight who moved about and struck with such ease and swiftness and power combined. There is about no outward sign of exort—no lurching, waste motion, overtrying.

Easton is making big preparations for its baseball team. Chestertown and Kent fans will flock to the games at Easton and help swell the receipts.

—The Chestertown Candy Kitchen installed last week a handsome new soda fountain that cost $3000.

—Tuesday next being Maryland Day and a legal holiday the banks and other public offices will be closed.

—Two big shad were caught off Oxford recently, which is another sure sign of the approach of spring.

—Many Kent hunters participated in the big hunt in Queen Annes County last week, near Sudlersville.

—The fish hawk has arrived and is making its nest in the dead tree in the field of Mr. Henry Smith's in Queen Annes.

—Thieves stole the entire flock of chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese belonging to Mrs. John B. Roberts. of Elkton, recently.

—The Washington College quintet easily defeated the Salisbury Y. M. C. A. team on Wednesday night by the score of 48 to 25

—The dwelling on Cannon street occupied by J. E. Newton and owned by Mr. Owen C. Smith has been purchased by Mr. Walter S. Trew.

—St. Patricks' day passed off in Kent without the usual convulsion of nature in the form of raging winds and fluttering snow.

—The public debt has been cut more than $4,800,000,000 in the four and a half years since the great war indebtedness was at its peak, August 31, 1919.

—John T. Gibbons, brother of the late Cardinal Gibbons and retired business man of New Orleans, La., died early Saturday at his home in that city.

—The season for catching muskrats in Kent has closed. The season has not been as profitable as usual in Kent because of the scarcity of the marsh rodents.

—Egypt's largest pyramid—that of Cheops of the Gizeh group—contains 89,000,000 cubic feet of masonry, and the total weight of the stone has been estimated at over 6,000,000 tons.

—Seventeen hundred herrings were caught by one boat at Williston, Md., last week. This is said to be the best catch of branch herrings at that point in fifty years.

—The annual county debate, held Friday night last in the auditorium of the Rock Hall High School, was decided in favor of Betterton, who upheld the negative side of the debate.

—We are offering at this time some of the very biggest and best screen productions ever made. Indeed it is doubtful if any theatre, anywhere ever presented a greater program than will be shown at the Lyceum during the next two weeks.

—The new freight and passenger line from Rock Hall to Baltimore was unable to make their schedule as announced last week, due to the steamer not being delivered on time. However, it is thought the line will be in operation next week.

—Through the efforts of the Volunteer Fire Co., a representative from the Board of Fire Underwriters was in town Wednesday inspecting the new fire equipment and water supply. A demonstration was given by Chief Wright at the High School Building. The outlook for a cut in the insurance rate is very favorable.

—Kent farmers have made a step toward advancement by agreeing to raise early tomatoes. The Easton Rotary Club some time ago appointed a committee to aid the farmers in bettering their condition, realising that wheat and corn are not paying crops. Either the farmer will have to change his methods of work by raising crops that are profitable or eventually be ruined.

—The proposed establishing of a Sales-Stable in Chestertown by the Samuel G. Caldwell Company will mean a drawing card as a business proposition for Chestertown as it will bring large crowds to the town. Crowds mean more business that is what the merchants and business men want. We understand the stock of this company is being rapidly taken and there seems to be no doubt it will be a go. A location is being considered near the depot but nothing definite has yet been determined as to just where it will be located.

—Representatives of the National Underwriters' Association were here this week testing the new fire truck and the town fire plugs with the intention of readjusting the fire insurance rates in the town if the fire equipment is up to the standard required by the association.

—Public spirited citizens of Millington, who have responded enthusiastically, to the support of the Community Fire Company, an organization which is now confidently believed to be without a peer in efficiency on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, may soon reap material benefits by substantial reduction in their insurance rates, as the result of their far-sighted and commendable open-handed policy.
