THE TRANSCRIPT

Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as second-class matter.

WE FEEL that those who contributed to the Washington College Campaign Fund Drive have done a great deal for the Spirtual and Educational betterment of Kent County, the Eastern Shore, and the county at large. They will have an added interest in Washington College, and an interest and enthusiasm on the part of the populace will do wonders toward making the college the pride of the Shore. A great deal of credit is due those who gave their time in helping to put Kent County over the top, and also the people of the county who so willingly gave and thus made these men and women's work as pleasant as possible.

ALL EFFORTS on the part of Senator W. B. Copper and his friends, who represent the Governor Ritchie organization of the Democratic party in this county, to get together with the other element of the party here on a divided delegation to the State Convention, seems to have failed and a primary election seems emminent. Such a primary will involve heavy costs to the tax payers of this county. Senator Copper had a recent interview with Mr. W. B. Usilton and H. W. Vickers, Esq., and suggested to them that his friends and their friends get together, divide the delegation and thus avoid a primary and the expense necessary thereto, but the proposition was rejected. S. Scott Beck, Esq., was also interviewed by a representative of this paper on two occasions within the past ten days in an effort to avoid a primary by sending a compromised delegation, but it could not be accomplished, therefore it seems a primary is unavoidable, and the taxpayers will have to pay the bill. The responsibility for a primary cannot be charged to Senator Copper and his friends but must rest on those who refuse to agree to a divided delegation.

In a recent article by Dr. Frank Crane in the Baltimore News, he has this to say:

"The Chinese are a wonderful people of an old civilization and thousands of years of culture. What is the matter with the Chinese today? They are stuck in the mud! They need railroads and roads for transportation."

Mr. Editor—that is just the trouble with us here on the Eastern Shore. We, too, are an old cultured people. We have a high state of civilization, a pure religion and democratic principles inherited from our forbears. But alas, we too, are stuck in the mud!

I have been in your pretty town week after week this winter and have been surprised to find the stores and banks practically empty.

On inquiry I was told the people could not get in over the roads. The exchange of commodities between towns and country is thus hampered to the detriment of the prosperity of both. We depend on each other, Neither can prosper or even live without the other.

Let us get together on this matter. Everything is done by organization these days. If we want good roads we can have them and nothing can prevent us.

TO PROTECT DUCKS

GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES HAVE TAKEN STEPS TO STOP DESTRUCTION

Ingenuity of the War Department is being employed to protect wild fowl on the Susquehanna flats in Maryland.

Scores of ducks and swan were found dead on the flats and theories were advanced that they were killed by poisons dropped by airplanes or by poisons originating at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

Representatives T. Alan Goldsborough, of the First Maryland district, called the matter to the attention of John W. Weeks, Secretary of War.

Secretary Weeks informed Mr. Goldsborough today that investigations revealed that the fowl evidently had been killed by phosphorus accidentally deposited in shallow water incident to the firing of experimental projectiles. Steps have been taken to keep phosphorus out of the feeding areas, he said, but there seems to be no satisfactory method of removing that already deposited or of neutralizing it.

However, Secretary Weeks wrote, a device resembling a scarecrow was put into the feeding area and gave every indication of being effective in preventing the ducks from alighting and feeding there. The scarecrow, wrecked by storms and ice, has been replaced by a device which gives at frequent intervals a noise resembling the firing of a shotgun.

HOMICIDE ON CHINCOTAGUE

The comely twenty-year-old wife of Captain Austin R. Melvin, forty-eight, a mariner, was killed instantly in their island home Friday, when shot through the heart.

Shortly after her body was found by her mother, Mrs. William Lewis, and her four-year-old son, Robert, Melvin surrendered to the police. He confessed, police said, that he killed his wife in a jealous rage.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Holston, uncle of the slain woman, who placed Captain Melvin under arrest, said the middle-aged husband long had been irritated by the fact that his wife, half his age, enjoyed a popularity which was beyond his reach.

The trouble, police said, resulted when Mrs. Melvin received a check from the War Department for insurance on her brother who was killed in France. Melvin, it was declared, waxed furious when she refused to give him the check.

The prisoner was taken to the county jail at Accomac to await the grand jury action.

—An airoplane bound from Langly Field north, while crossing the Chesapeake Bay became disabled, and fell within a few feet of Harris's Wharf, near Betterton. The pilot was rescued with the aid of a breecus bouy rigged from the wharf to the disabled plane. The plane was badly damaged.
