WORLD'S LONELIEST SPOT.

What is said to be the loneliest outpost in the world for human beings has been set up at Karsk, on the Kara Sea, an arm of the Artic, in the form of a wireless and hydo-meteorological station. The Kara Sea is blocked by ice the greater part of the year, being passable for ships during only a few weeks in summer.

The Academy of Sciences in Leningrad announced recently that four smaller stations also had been established on the Kara Sea by the Soviet Government, each of these being combined with a hydo-meteorological bureau.

The wireless station at Karsk keeps in touch with vessels in polar waters and sends out weather forecasts regularly. There are but two men at the station and, because of the ice and weather conditions, it is possible to send them supplies only once every year. The chief recreation of the meteorologists and wireless operators is hunting and fishing.

—Farmers of Lower Delaware are to make the experiment of growing pickles this season for bottling purposes, and if the crop is found to be profitable hundreds of acres will be contracteed for next year.
