Kent County Rally Day

May 13 was certainly Providential for the Kent County Rally. It was a glorious day for the event; even the roads which had previously been almost impassable in some parts of the county had improved so much that people from every part of the county could traverse them.

Every body seemed happy on Rally Morning and the children entered into the various events with the spirit of winning. Altho all could not win first honors, everybody apparently, maintained the same fine spirit at the close of the day with which they began in the morning.

One of the finest characteristics for our young people to learn early in life, is to be "good losers." It is the easiest thing in the world to be a "good winner," but it takes a certain amount of real character to be a "good loser." For encouragement to any who might have been disappointed over losing we might quote what one of our poets has given us as follows

"All honor to him who shall win the prize,
The world has cried for a thousand years,
But to him who tries and fails,
I give great honor and glory."

Why do we have Rally Day? To answer this question we might say that this day should be the climax of a year's work in games, athletics, play. It really does not mean much to the children if they get ready for this particular event in a few days or a few weeks. There are two objects in having it. One, and the one which should be paramount is the value of play and athletics to the health and as we have mentioned before to the character as well, of all the children. If they try to reach these goals in a few days or a few weeks it may be most injurious to their health. It must be gradual and should be started in September and be continued until June. In this way they will acquire the strength and correct habits; the skill, ability and the general ability which comes as a result of habitual practice in performing the various activities.

Sometimes real character is more largely developed on the school ground during the play periods than at any other period in the day. Almost any boy will insist upon "A square deal" in a game when he might not look at a similar proposition in the schoolroom in the same way. The wise teacher will utilize this spirit in her class room and many times thru "play" will help to develop and bring out the very best in her pupils.

The most far reaching work of the teacher is not entirely in "Book-learning." It is just as much character building and she must devise and invent ways and means to accomplish the most possible in character building. If play will help her to do this, then "play" should form an important part in her daily program. If some other devise will help, then she will utilize it.

Let's make Rally Day only a climax of Our year's work just for the enjoyment of the children and as a reward for a year's faithful effort toward doing their best.

Chestertown Parent-Teacher Association

The Parent-Teacher Association of Chestertown under the direction of Mrs. Parks Rasin certainly did do an immense amount of work for the good of their organization on Rally Day. Only those who have had a similar experience can understand what it means to plan and carry out such a project.

Mrs. Rasin and her committee made and sold sixteen hundred sandwiches among other things such as ice cream and soft drinks. This was no doubt, a great help to the visitors as the ladies had their refreshment right on the grounds.

They cleared $250 which will be used for improvements for the school.
