—Messrs Duyer Bros., have begun the erection of a handsome bungalow home for Mr. Claude E. Truslow. This residence is a few hundred yards to the north of the present home of Mr. Wm. H. Truslow and family and faces Chester River. The new homes built in Queen Annes during the past ten years have developed the section considerably and there is talk of Chestertown furnishing gas and electricity to the people residing there in the near future.

SPORTING NOTES

WASHINGTON COLLEGE LOSES TO MT. ST. MARY'S—OTHER NOTES OF INTEREST

Washington College lost the best game of the baseball season to Mt. St. Mary's Friday afternoon before a good crowd by the score of 3 to 2. Washington had the lead until the last inning, when several miscues were made, which cost them the game. Washington played in fine form until the last inning and should have won the game.

Now that baseball season is here in earnest, there is much talk concerning the game. How does the game of the present compare with the baseball of the past? Is it as fast? The tendency of today is speed, and more speed. Speed in motor cars, speed in aeroplanes, speed in business, speed in living. Has the game of baseball kept up with the modern trend? Is it faster than it used to be? If so, why? And where? These are questions clamering for consideration.

Gibbons and Carpenter clashed yesterday in Michigan. We pick Gibbons to beat the Frenchman.

The Eastern Shore Baseball League opened yesterday. Many things have conspired since the close of the 1923 schedule of the Eastern Shore League to instill the belief in the minds of Eastern Shore baseball fans that this year will be the most successful since the inception of the circuit three years ago. Close followers of the sport of the Shore predict on the eve of the opening of the 1924 schedule that not only will the six clubs produce a better brand of ball, but that a decided increase in attendance is a certainty. Chiefly because the league this year covers considerably more territory than ever before, a larger attendance in all the six towns is thought a practical certainty.

Washington College defeated the Salisbury Eastern Shore League baseball team on Wednesday by the score of 4 to 2. Salisbury led Washington until the sixth, when home run drives by Carrington and Smooth put Washington into the lead. Simmons was on the mound for Washington and pitched a good game. Washington's team played good ball.

The next game on Washington Field will be on Saturday, June 4, when the W. C. Alumni will play the local collegians.

While the weather has been most unfavorable for baseball and has resulted in the cancellation of many games, the 1924 baseball season has been quite favorable for an undeveloped team like the W. C. aggregation. Another year under Coach Kibler should make them much better.

The Methodist Protestant Sunday School defeated the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School team at baseball recently 8 to 3.

Flowers is now playing for Fort Smith, in the Western Association, and is doing good work.

Goldey College baseball nine, of Wilmington, defeated the Chestertown High School nine here Tuesday in a one-sided contest 14 to 3. The visitors pounded the delivery of Williams hard, and also took advantage of errors on the part of the home club to score many runs. Durnell with a circuit clout was the leading hitter for the winners.

DEATHS

Mr. George N. Numsen. for years identified with Democratic politics, died Saturday at his home in Baltimore. He was stricken in March while in Pasadena, Cal. Mr. Numsen was 72 years old, having been born in Baltimore November 1, 1851. He is survived by a grown son and by Mrs. Numsen, who was before their marriage in 1873, Miss Grace Newman. Beginning in the late 90's Mr. Numsen was prominent in Democratic politics for 20 years. His first office was that of City Councilman from the old Twenty-first ward. Mr. Numsen was well known in Kent county. He owned and operated the cannery at Chester River Steamboat Wharf for many years.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. McCleary, died at her late home in Morgnec, on Saturday evening, May 24th, of heart trouble, aged 61 years. She leaves a husband, Hervey D. McCleary, two brothers, Messrs, John B. McKee, of Kent and James F. McKee, of Washington, also a sister Miss Mary T. McKee. Funeral service was held Wednesday morning at 10.30 a. m. at Sacred Heart Church. Rev. J. F. Earner, officiating. Interment in St. Dennis Cemetery near Galena.

The bearers were: James Quigley, Charles Quigley, Frank Quigley, Wm. H. McKee and Charles E. McKee. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mr. John H. Ellis, formerly of Baltimore a retired dry goods merchant, died sudden at his late home "The Idle While Hotel" in Betterton, Md., Sunday, May 25th at 8 a. m. after a brief illness of three days. He is survived by his wife, Catherine Ellis nee Adams, also by five daughters, Mrs. E. P. Mullen, of Philadelphia, Mrs. J. H. Sayles, Mrs. M. J. Koyne, Misses Elizabeth and Vancit Ellis all of Baltimore. Six sons. Mr. J. Herbert Ellis, of SanFrancisco, Cal., Mr. Carral Ellis, of Philadelphia; Mr. Newton R. Ellis, of Betterton;; Messrs. Allard J., Frank A. and Charles H., of Baltimore, and six grandchildren. He will be buried from his Baltimore residence, 616 Dunbarton Ave., Wednesday, May 28. Requiens Mass at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament. Undertaker B. R. Fellows.

After a long, a happy and a useful life, Mrs. Barbara Delano Anthony, of Chestertown, reached the end of her earthly journey on Tuesday, May 27. 1924, and laid her burdens down. She was 68 years of age.

She was the widow of the late Capt. Jonathan Anthony, who for many years was an officer upon steamers which plied the Chester. Her parents were the late Carl and Susanna Delano. Mrs. Anthony is survived by four children, as follows: Henry Delano Anthony, of New York; Mrs. Mary L. Anthony Woodruff, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Barbara Anthony Elliott, of Chestertown; and Mrs. Iris Anthony Masten, of Harrington, Del.

The funeral services were conducted at her home on High Street, Chestertown, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Revs. T. J. Sard and C. L. Atwater. The pall bearers were: Henry D. Anthony, William H. Elliott, A. L. Woodruff, John Masten, George W. Hughes, Carl Delano, Louis C. Robinson and Dr. H. G. Simpers. Interment was in Chester Cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mrs. Anthony was a prominent figure in the activities and life of Chestertown for many years. She was loved by the many who knew her, not only because of a charming personality, which, naturally, draws one to another but because of her kind, human sympathy for those with whom she came in contact. Of a cheerful disposition. she had a friendly smile and a word of encouragement for everyone upon the hand of affliction had been heavily laid. She was the center of pleasure and the maker of joy for others for many years and when the hand of affliction had removed her from active participation in the pleasures which before she had enjoyed so well, even in sickness and pain her splendid fortitude and kindly disposition never forsook her, but seemed rather to be strengthened. Many years shelived in the quiet seclusion of her home, happy in the loving care and ministrations of her daughter and her son-in-law. Her life was filled with honor, kindness and loving deeds. Her life filled the lives of others with sunshine and joy. The whole community mourns the death of one of the most prominent figures of Chestertown as well as one of uor most beloved citizens. Those who stand close in the shadow have our most heart-felt sympathy in their period of bereavement.

Mr. Wm. D. Evans died at his residence near Middletown, Del., May 23, aged 59. A wife and three daughters, Mrs. Norman C. Hicks, Mrs. Wm. Ennison and Miss Margaret Evans survive him.

Funeral services were held at his late residence Monday, May 26. 1924, attended by a large number of relatives and friends. He was a member of the Masons Lodge in Middletown, which lodge conducted the services at the grave.

Ellen Yorker one of our most esteemed and faithful colored citizens died at her home on Queen street on Tuesday of this week, aged 74 years. For a number of years she has been an invalid and bore her suffering with great fortitude. She was a devoted member of Janes M. E. Church.

GOVERNMENT BONDS FORGED

Summoned as the first witness before the House comittee investigating alleged irregularities at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Charles B. Brewer, special assistant to the attorney general declared yesterday that there had been duplication of government bonds to a value of "about $1,-000,000."

Brewer read a long statement in reply to a recent treasury report which declared there was no foundation for many of his charges. He insisted he had spent nearly three years investigating conditions at the bureau and had uncovered "both carelessness and fraud," and could provee that "many government securities have been stolen from Treasury vaults."

There had been glaring irregularities ,he said in the destruction division of the bureau. and many bonds supposed to have been cancelled and destroyed were in fact retained. He charged also that the Treasury had done its utmost to block and discredit him, and that "vigorous attempts" were made to override Presidents Harding and Coolidge in their efforts to get at the truth.

—George P. Culleny, commander of Captain Hydrick Post, G. A. R. of Seaford, Del., and one of the most active and best known Grand Army men in lower Delaware, was stricken with paralysis, Sunday. He is also equally well-known in other lodge circles.

—Yesterday, Memorial Day, was appropriately observed in Chestertown.
