SUCCESS

"And for success, I ask no more than this—To bear unflinching witness to the truth.
All true, whole men succeed; for what is worth success's name, unless it be the thot,
The inward surety, to have carried out
A noble purpose to the noble end."

Our National Association

The sixty-second annual meeting of the National Education Association will be held in the Nation's Capitol June 29 to July 4.

This program will begin with Vesper Services on the steps of the Nation's Capitol with music by the Marine Band, Sunday afternoon, June 29 followed by a Union Service Sunday evening.

On Monday morning June 30, will occur the first general session and in the afternoon of that day, opportunities will be given for the visitors to see the interesting spots about the city. Monday evening a meeting will be held when all past presidents of the association will be seated on the platform at a general meeting.

According to the constitution of the association, every nook and corner of this country is represented. If the teachers of any locality cannot come, they may be represented by delegates who have the same privileges of voting and taking part in the shaping of the affairs of the association as do the delegates from any other country locality, village, town, or city in the country. On Tuesday morning a meeting of these delegates will be held. On Tuesday evening, a general meeting, representing all branches of the profession will be held.

A meeting of all Representative Delegates will be held Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon there will be Open House by National Organizations with headquarters located in Washington. Opportunity to visit the National Red Cross, D. A. R. Hall where the Arms Conference was held will be given on Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday morning the Representative Assembly will hold its final business meeting. All departments and allied associations will continue their meetings on Thursday afternoon A remarkable meeting will be held on Thursday evening. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Senator Royal S. Copeland and Mr. Samuel Gompers will appear on this program.

On Friday morning, July 4th, a Patriotic Service will be held which is open to the World. Friday afternoon. Patriotic Pilgrimages to Sacred Shrines of America will be taken followed by brief programs at the White House at noon; among the Sacred Shrines will be: Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Lincoln Memorial, Gettysburg; Washington's Tomb and many other spots dear to every good true American.

The editor of this department is willing to say as a result of personal experience that a visit to the Nation's Capitol is more than worth while. When we meet there, the keys of the city are given us and the city is ours while we are there. The teachers of this locality can well spend the time and money to attend for the splendid bits of personal information and real intimacw with Washington. If a teacher were to attend this meeting and see none of the attractive places about the city, she would be more than repaid. If she visited the city and saw only the attractions, she would be more than repaid. A visit to the Corcoran Art Gallery is worth many times the price of a trip from here to Washington. Here, we can see the very finest productions of French, Dutch and English art, but it is really representative of American art. The sculpture alone in Corcoran is wonderful. The Free Art Gallery where the famous collection by Whistler is wonderful. The Library of Congress is perhaps the greatest library in the world. it contains 8,000,000 books. Other libraries are those of the Bureau of Education Department of Labor, Department of Agriculture, Geological Survey and the Astronomical Library. The Smithsonian Institution is under government control and has 300,000 books most of which are housed in the Congressional Library. The National Zoo covering two hundred acres is under the control of the Smithsonian, Washington's Zoo, the largest zoological park in the United States, the National Museum, the National Gallary of Art, the International Exchange Service where publications between the U. S. and foreign countries is handled, the bureau of Ethnology for the study of the Indian, the Astrophysical Observatory for the investigation of radiation phenomena, the National Geographic Society; Public School, Private Schools, Universities etc. These are only a part of what may be seen and studied during a visit in our Capitol.

This will be the greatest educational meeting that has ever been held any place and every teacher who can accept this privilege will be glad and will be able to make the hearts of her children glad many times as a result of this meeting.

Kent County Commencement Program

On Wednesday, June 11th, at 7:30 P. M., will occur the Sixth Annual Commencement Program for the Elementary Schools of Kent County. An attractive program is being prepared and the parents and friends of the graduates and the General Public are cordially invited to be present.

The program will be held in William Smith Hall in the Washington College. The graduates are requested to be present at 7:00 P. M. to get ready to march into the hall in a body. The names of the graduates will appear in this column next week.

A Victory

The pupils of Flatland School won the enviable record during the month of May of being present every day and on time. Mrs. Annie D. Brown, the teacher of Flatland has reason to be very proud of this record. While it is true that all pupils, barring sickness or severe weather should be present every day and on time, the fact remains that this has not happened often so we are stamping it as a victory.

—Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, of New York, and Charles N. Randall, formerly a representative in Congress from California, are among those most prominently mentioned for the nomination for President by the Prohibition party at its national convention in Columbus Ohio.

Judge Landis, official head of organized base ball, will visit the Eastern Shore in the near future. He will be asked to stop off at Easton for a day as the guest of the club. It will be known as "Landis Day" if the arrangement are carried out as anticipated.
