WHEN GOV. REITCHIE was put in nomination for President by Mr. Bruce at the National Democratic Convention in New York Thursday, he was given an ovation that lasted for nearly a half hour. Gov. Ritchie's stand on States rights and his constructive administration has brought him prominently before the people of the country. Better nominate him; he will prove a winner. He has never lost in any political battle, and has done what no other man ever did in this state—succeeded himself as Governor of Maryland. If nominated for President we believe he would win.

CONVENTION IN PROGRESS

The Democratic National Convention in session in New York to nominate a standard bearer for the Presidential Contest for 1924, was occupying the center of the nation's attention, when we went to press yesterday, Friday. Radios, for the first time in the history of National Political Conventions, were keeping in touch with the proceedings not only close followers of politics everywhere, but also many people who, in years past, paid little or no attention gatherings of this character.

Many claims are being made by the various candidates' managers, but, at this time, the nominee has not been decided upon. The pent of fires of Democratic enthusiasm fed by the rivalries that are moving beneath the surface, found tumultuous outlets in the big convention hall as the different candidates were placed in nomination.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, the oil committee prosecutor, set the convention aflame when he appeared on the platform to make his address as permanent chairman as did also Senator Harrison, the temporary chairman

Overshadowing every feature the demonstration which broke forth at hearing the speech of the temporary chairman, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, when he expressed the need of democracy for a man with the vision, the leadership and splendid courage of a Woodrow Wilson in the White House will always stand out as one of the dramatic incidents of this great gathering.

Suspended high above the heads of the vast crowd were large pictures of Cleveland, Wilson and other great men of history. The senator from Mississippi first made reference to Cleveland, and instantly there was wild cheering and applause. And when a few moments later, he mentioned the name of Woodrow Wilson, it seemed as if the very foundations of Madison Square garden trembled. The immense gathering arose as one, and in a demonstration that probably has never been equalled at a national convention in this country, paid tribute to the man whose features looked down from the roof of the garden, and whose very spirit seemed to mingle in the myriad of flags and color which filled the auditorium.

Resolutions were then passed in honor the deceased War President.

The Democratic Convention was deadlocked in advance and nonimating speeches were made with each candidates' backers trying to outdo the other in the magnitude of the applause.

The platform, advanced early Thursday by a drafting sub-committee to the point of being put into its first tentative form, is not to be taken up until all of the nominating speeches have been made, it is not even expected to be ready until Saturday morning, and there was no way of knowing, while the delegates are assembled, whether the platform committee would be able to eliminate all of the explosive elements that might hurl the convention into a turmoil.

On Thursday Afternoon Albert C. Ritchie, Governor of Maryland, took his place among the major candidates for the Democratic Presidential nomnation. Tihs was granted on every hand after a 22-minute demonstration on the convention floor following the presentation of his name by Howard Bruce, of Baltimore. It was the most spontaneous demonstration of the convention proceedings. It had not been staged or remotely anticipated. It just seemed to come forth by unanimous consent and the genuineness of it undoubtedly lifted Governor Ritchie out of the "favorite son" class and make him a highly important factor in the convention.

When we went to press yesterday, Friday, balloting had not yet begun and there seems no doubt whatever but that the convention will go over into next week.

Candidates before the convention are as follows:

Sen. Underwood, of Alabama.
Sen. Robinson, of Arkansas.
Hon. W. G. McAdoo, of California.
Gov. Smith, of New York.
Hon. Willard Saulsbury, of Delaware.
Gov. Davis, of Kansas.
Hon. D. F. Houston, of Missouri.
Sen. Ralston, of Indiana.
Gov. Ritchie, of Maryland.
Sen. Ferris, of Michigan.

Cooperative Extension Work in Agriculture and Home Economics

A reception by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge at the White House, a welcoming message from Secretary of Agriculture, Henry C. Wallace and an evening lunch amid the cool environs of Rock Creek Park, Washington, were the outstanding features of a sightseeing trip to the national capital that brought a close to the second annual Rural Women's Short Course at the University of Maryland, June 20.

More than three hundred women were in attendance during the week and profited by the splendid courses of instruction that were provided in clothing, foods, household management, house furnishings, landscape gardening, parliamentary law, millinery, home dairying, poultry and health.

Numerous social features, including receptions, afternoon teas, motion pictures and musical entertainments, in addition to the trip to Washington were enjoyed during the week.

Those who attended from Kent County were as follows: Miss Susan Hill, Mrs. Wm. H. McKee, Chestertown; Miss Margaret B. Logan, Millington; Mrs. Chas. H. Ashley, Rock Hall; Mrs. Harry Williams, Worton.

POULTRY

In any and every avenue of life, the ability to blend and bring nature's forms and forces under the dominion of law, and render all her operations subservient to the actual wants of men and women is the worthiest triumph of the most transcendent genius.

We have all heard that experience is the best teacher. If we estimate value from cost, it is certainly the best teacher in existence. The only reason why it is the best is because being so costly, its lessons are more liable to be remembered.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County
In Equity No. 2281

The object of this bill is to obtain a decree for the sale of real estate and the distribution of the proceeds of sale among the parties according to their respective rights and interests therein and for general relief.

The bill states that on the 25th day of August, 1923, John Chaires late of Kent County departed this life leaving a last Will and Testament which has been set aside on the ground that he was not of sound and disposing mind and at the time of his death he was seized and possessed in fee simple of a tract or parcel of land lying in said Kent County which is described as follows:

That the said John Chaires during his life time purchased a lot or parcel of land located in the corner formed by the road leading from Quaker Neck wharf to Brice's Mill and the road leading from Quaker Neck wharf to Chestertown in the village of Pomona which said lot or parcel of land with improvements thereon he purchased from Claude F. Parks and Ida Skipper Parks, his wife, under deed bearing date the 12th day of July in the year nineteen hundred and nineteen and recorded amongst the Land Records of said Kent County in Liber A. P. R. No. 5 folio 274, a certified copy of which is filed herewith as a part hereof.

That at the time of his death John Chaires left surviving him as heirs at law his widow, Annie Chaires, and the following children, John H. Chaires, Albert B. Chaires, Cora L. Stouffer, Sadie Stafford, Annie Hendrickson and Nathan S. Chaires and also the following children of his deceased daughter Emma Stant, to wit: Clara Benney, Alva Stant, Della Beauchamp, George W. Stant, Ruth Stant, Olivia Stant and William Stant.

That the defendant, Clara Benney, is a resident of the City of Washington and District of Columbia.

That the defendant, Della Beauchamp, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and resides at Delmar in the State of Delaware.

That all the other defendants are residents of the State of Maryland.

That the said real estate will not admit of being divided amongst the parties entitled thereto as aforesaid without loss or injury to said parties.

The petition prays that a decree may be passed for the sale of the said real estate.

That the proceeds of sale may be distributed between your Orators, Annie Chaires, John H. Chaires, Agnes M. Chaires, Albert B. Chaires, E. Carroll Stafford and the defendants Annie Henderickson, George P. Hendrickson, Nathan S. Chaires, Clara Benney, Bernard Benney, Alva Stant, Bertha Stant, Della Beauchamp, Charles Beauchamp, George W. Stant, Ruth Stant, Olivia Stant, William Stant and Margaret Stant, according to their respective rights and interest.

And that your Orators may have such other and further relief as their case may require.

It is thereupon this 20th day of June A. D. 1924, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity, that the plaintiffs, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Kent County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 28th day of July next, giving notice to the said Clara Benney, Bernard Benney, Della Beauchamp and Charles Beauchamp, non-resident defendants, warning them to appear in this Court in person, or by Solicitor, on or before the 11th day of August next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Can this Engine ever wear out?

Pressure-Feed Lubrication: In the Oldsmobile Six engine you find pressure-feed lubrication to every revolving part. This superior lubrication system means long life.

Big Crankshaft: Perfectly balanced. That means elimination of vibration—and vibration is another foe of long life.

Oversize Bearings: Airplane type—used in Liberty engines during the war. Require no adjustment or replacement for 30,000 or 40,000 miles.

Splendid Cooling: Water flows all the way around all the six cylinders, valve seats and spark plug openings. Result—perfect cooling, no distortion, longer life. Valves are unusually large, cylinders are "honed" to a glass-like smoothness, perfectly-fitting grey iron pistons carry hammered rings. Result—perfect compression, surplus power and unusual long life.

You owe it to your pocketbook to investigate this Oldsmobile Six thoroughly.
