Old Kent County Resident Praises New Method Of Healing.

Mr. Robt. McKenny, who for 62 years has been living near Chestertown, is one of hundreds restored to good health by Chiropractic the new method of drugless healing. Mr. McKenny suffered for years with neuritis between the shoulder blades, and rheumatism in the back. He tried all sorts of liniments, medicines, etc., without relief, finally he went to the offices of Dr. Dill, the Chiropractor, at the Hotel Imperial and after taking a course of spinal adjustments he was able to bend, and do all sorts of work he couldn't do before.

IN MEMORIAM

Grace Rood Davis daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Davis passed away 3 years ago today Aug. 9, 1921.

The home circle is broken,
Our hearts are broken too;
Till the mission of life is through
Every feature of your face
Is enshrined upon our hearts;
Sad and lonely we have been
Since the day we had to part,
We are trying to bear our cross
For the sake of Him Who died to save
Who gave us hope for redemption
And life beyond the grave,
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
To part with Grace dear;
It happened all so suddenly,
When you were asleep as it seemed to me.
Well do I remember three years ago today,
The sunshine of our home fled,
We are so lonesome since you were called away.

We who loved you sadly miss you,
As it dawns another year;
We miss your kind and willing hands,
Your fond and earnest care—
We miss you everywhere.
Sadly missed by mother.

PRODIGAL SON RETURNS

Finds Mother Gone, But Father Is Still Living.

For years Mrs. J. Frank Wilds, of Kenton, awaited the home-coming of her son, Harry, who had left home while a young man and enlisted in the navy. Since he had left she had not heard from him. Monday, Harry returned, only to find that his mother, who had been waiting for his return, had died several months ago. When Harry left home his family lived in Smyrna Time and again he wrote home, but his mother never received his letter, the family having moved to Kenton. The boy, thinking his mother and father did not care to hear from him discontinued writing. However, his parents were always looking for him and wondering why, he did not write. While there is now rejoicing in the Wilds home, and Harry's father and brothers overjoyed at his return, there is a note of sorrow in the fact that the boy did not arrive home before his mother died.

HOG CHOLERA OUTBREAK

Summary of Outbreaks of Hog Cholera in Maryland During July, 1924

While more than the usual number of outbreaks were reported during the month, the situation was not alarming, for teh reason that but few cases occured on farms wrere hogs are bred and raised. The disease was reported to exist on 52 premises. Forty-four of these were classed as primary outbreaks, and 8 as secondary. 41 were backyard outbreaks, although 12 of these occured on small truck patches. 11 were on farms.

Queen Anne County showed the way to the rest of the bunch with 14 outbreaks. Somerset and Wicomico were tied for second place with 9 each, Dorchester, Frederick and Caroline were all in a bunch with 3 each. Howard, Talbot and Washington shared honors with 2 each. While Cecil, Baltimore, Prince George, St. Mary's and Worcester could only make claim to one each.

Of the primary outbreaks 38 were apparently due to infected pork, fed in garbage or table scraps. 2 were due to new stock, 1 was a "break" following the use of the double treatment, and in 3 cases, one of which was a doubtful diagnosis, no history could be obtained on which to base the source of infection. Of the secondary outbreaks all were due to permitting hogs to run at large by which it was possible for sick and well animals to come in contact. The infection in these cases all spread from outbreaks caused by garbage feeding.

The Sho' scored heavily with 42 of the 52 outbreaks reported during the month.

This was a month of cheap noteriety. There were only 31 pigs involved in the 14 outbreaks in Queen Anne county Somerset had 34 swine involved in its 9 outbreaks, while on the 9 premises in Wicomico County where the disease appeared there were only 30 shotes.

When a specialist arrived at a certain place, to investigate an outbreak of hog cholera he was met by the irate owner, who was much peeved because there was a 24 hour delay in answering his call for help. The investigation showed that the hogs had been sick for 10 days, and the outbreak of cholera had been caused by feeding garbage containing infected pork. When the owner was asked if he had not ben warned that he should not feed garbage, he admitted he had, but stated that he did not believe in such rot. The specialist is now recuperating in the violent ward.

A farmer who is very prominent in his locality had been warned against permitted table scraps that might contain infected pork to be fed to his hogs. He however, disregarded the instructions, and when his hogs sickened with cholera, instead of reporting the case he turned the animals loose and permitted them to wander to the premises of some other farmers in that locality. Two of these parties are now suffering losses from the disease, and they are men whose financial condition is such that the losses will fall heavily on them. Ho-hum! Hog cholera is a terrible disease.
