TO CONNECT POMONA ROAD.

Through Senator Copper's Influence State To Construct Concrete Highway Down Princess Street To Quaker Neck Road.

In the very near future, High street, Chestertown, will be connected by a concrete road with the recently completed cement road at the limits of the town in Quaker Neck, which leads to Pomona. A contract for the erection of this road was awarded to the Old Line Construction Company, of Chestertown on Thursday. This company built the two-mile stretch of road from the Peerless Fertilizer road to Lovers Lane, and has nearly completed the new road from Pomona to that point.

This new road has been secured through the efforts of Senator W. B. Copper. Senator Copper realized the great need of the people of Quaker Neck, who use this road bringing great quantities of corn, wheat, etc., to Chestertown to boats and train, which they are compelled to do, they having no other outlet for their shipments, since boats have been discontinued on Chester River.

The fertilizer factories of the Peerless and of Massey & Wilmer also the large grain Elevator of the Metcalf Bros. are all located along this road.

This strip of concrete road, which will make an unbroken stretch of good road from Pomona to Chestertown and elsewhere, constitutes one of the biggest improvements made in this county in years. The road from Pomona to Chestertown has been for years virtually impassable in winter and early spring, with great ruts and holes in other seasons, making traffic toilsome and rough, causing much hardship to our farmers. This new road will greatly improve transportation conditions in Quaker Neck.

The following telegram, received Thursday, August 28, by Senator Copper, assures to the people of Quaker Neck this much needed highway:

Baltimore, Md. Aug. 28, 1924
Senator W. B. Copper,
Chestertown, Md.

We have awarded extension on Pomona Road through Chestertown to Old Line Construction Company.

KENT BOY KILLED.

William F. Faucett Ground To Death Beneath Wheels Of Railroad Train

William Franklin Faucett, of Philadelphia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Faucett, of Quaker Neck, Kent county was ground to death beneath the wheels of a railroad train Saturday evening in Philadelphia, where he had been residing for some time.

Alice Stoppel, of Collingswood, N. J. to whom Mr. Faucett was engaged to be married, was a witness of the accident and the last person to speak with Faucett. He had been standing just outside the door of the second car, talking with his fiancee and started for his post between the cars as the train neared the Fifty-second street station.

According to officials of the road, a signal post was responsible for the conductor's death. They say he leaned out between the cars, and that his head was struck, causing him to fall from his post to the tracks. People saw the man go between the cars to the spot from which the sliding doors are operated. He had scarcely stepped outside the car before they saw him disappear.

Young Faucett was 26 years old. He leaves besides parents, two sisters, Mrs. Muriel Warrington, of New Jersey, and Mrs. Clarice Bauer, of Mauricetown, Pa., also two brothers, J. Aubrey and Leroy Faucett, of Qauker Neck.

His remains were brought to the home of his parents, on Monday evening and funeral was held at Bond Chapel Church Wednesday at 3 p. m., conducted by Rev. McClintoock and Rev. T. J. Sard, interment at Chester cemetery. C. L. Dodd undertaker.

The pall bearers were: John Ashley, Joseph Sewell, Robert Bland, Harry Schrieber, Arthur Burris, Charles Brown.

Anniversary Celebrated

Quite an enjoyable day was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Capel, of Piney Neck, last Sunday in honor of their forty-eight wedding anniversary which their children and friends gave them a surprise dinner After dinner lemonade and refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Capel, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Capel, of Marcus Hook; Mrs. Wm. McClyments and children; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sparks and son, of Centreville; Mr. Powell and Myrel Taylor, of Piney Neck; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Plummer, of Centreville; Mr. Joseph Ward, Church Hill; Mrs. Martha and Ella Ward and son Elwood, of Piney Neck; Mrs. Samuel Fulton and daughter, of Newark, Del., Mr. Wm. Middletown, of Marcus Hook. Many useful presents were received.

Sad Accident At Tolchester

Omar Jones, twenty three years old of Baltimore, was drowned, while bathing at Tolchester Beach last Sunday. Young Jones was of athletic build, and apparently a good swimmer. He dived from a float and did not reappear. A search was made for his body which was found about 25 minutes later by J. R. Sloan, of Hillsboro. An effort was made by Dr. Frank W. Smith to resuscitate him but without success. After the inquest the body was taken to the undertaker's parlors of Mr. B. F. Fellows, of Still Pond, until Monday when the remains were taken to Baltimore via Tolchester and later shipped to Baltimore for interment. He leaves a father and two sisters.

Another Sad Accident

Tolchester was the scene of another sad accident, on Monday, following which Raymond Price, 23 years old, of Piney Neck, had his right hand amputated by Dr. H. P. Copeland, of Chestertown. It seems that he was sitting near one of the mechanical amusements when he had the misfortune to have his hand caught in the cogwheels of the machinery. This is to be regretted by everyone in the county.

Seventeen Bootleggers Arrested.

Prohibition officers made a decided raid upon operators of whiskey stills in Queen Annes and Kent county last week. A total of seventeen were arrested, sixteen in Queen Annes and one in Kent county. It is said the officers went into the communities under the masquerade of farm laborers, getting the information wanted. They then made the arrests.

Fire Alarm Sounds.

On Wednesday, at about 8 o'clock, the fire alarm sounded shrilly on the morning air, and quickly responding the local fire company were on the scene at once. The fire was found to be at the yard of Davis & Satterfield, at the foot of Cross street. However, it proved to be nothing bu ta gasoline engine ablaze, which was soon extinguished with little loss.

—Kent had a real downpour of rain on Monday, which lasted for about 20 hours.
