CHURCH REOPENED

Kennedyville M. P. Church, Greatly Improved and Renovated, Reopened Sunday Morning With Appropriate Services.

On Sunday morning, Aug. 31, Kennedyville M. E. Church held its Reopening service.

This church was closed for several weeks, with improvments being made. A new pipless heater has been installed. The walls and floors of the church have been painted, a new velvet carpet purchased, pulpit chairs, also altar chairs have been upholstered and look like new ones. Expenses amounted to over eight hundred dollars, of which all is noc paid except fifty dollars.

It being a beautiful day the church was well filled even friends from a distance were present.

Our much loved pastor, Dr. J. W. Trout, preached in his usual impressive manner the morning sermon.

Our special music in the morning consisted of a beautiful authem, a ladies' quartette called "The Wondrous Cross," and a pretty solo by Miss Helen Baxter, of Chestertown. Rev. B. B. Staats made the morning prayer and assisted with the service.

The evening service opened with songs, followed with a quartette called"Toiling and Rowing," also a pretty solo by Miss Ruth Newton. One of our former pastors, Rev. F. S. Cain, but now of Leeds, preached from the text "It is written my House is the House of Prayer."

At the close of the sermon, a very pretty anthem was sung.

We always are glad to have our former pastors with us on such occasions as these.

A beautiful Holman Pulpit Bible was donated by a friend of the church, also very pretty doily's, a nice rubber foot mat and a lovely oak pedestal for the silver collection plates to rest on. We wish to assure these friends each one of these pretty and useful gifts are much appreciated by the whole church.

Prepairres For Oysters

Last year proved a banner season for Kent county watermen, but from unconfirmed reports now in circulation, it seems that the season of 1924 will break even the unprecedented records of last year. It is stated there is every reason to expect that the oyster season will open with bivalves worth in the neighborhood of $1. a bushel. Last year on September 1 the prevailing prices were between fifty and sixty cents a bushel. Watermen already are preparing for the season, now only a few days distant, and if prosperity arrives even to the extent that was experienced last year, a large section of the county will be materially benefited.

FIRE RATE LOWERED

Good Equipment Caused This In Easton, Md.

The following is from the Baltimore Sun of August 17th:

Before the new auto fire engine was installed at Easton, Md., the insurance rate was 30 cents. Upon applicatcn this rate was cut to 22 cents. It is believed by insurance men here that the new county engine will further reduce the rate at least 2 cents, making the basic rate 20 cents. It is believed at the present time Easton has the lowest insurance rate on the Eastern Shore, made possible by efforts to rectify deficiences that have been indicated by the underwriters from time to time.

Now is the time for Chestertown and the county towns of Kent to clip a leaf from Easton's book of experience. Now is the time for Kent to install her new county fire equipment and kill two birds with one stone. The towns of the County now have the opportunity to give themselves the proper fire protection and at the same time to make a bid for insurance rate reduction. Back up the Fire Company's drive for funds with your money and your moral support and the results will show for themselves. He who runs may read.

Gunners Find Still.

Dr. Gould Returns From Europe.

Dr. Clarence P. Gould, president of Washington College for several years, who has been in Europe for the past year, returned to America recently and paid his many friends in Chestertown and vicinity a most welcome visit this week. Dr. Gould will be a member of the Faculty of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, this year, where he will teach history. Dr. Gould went abroad last year for a study of history and other things and located in Paris. From that point he traveled to all parts of Europe, including England. He made several trips to London and Rotterdam by the air route, which required about three hours to make each trip, the air-craft traveling at the rate of about 70 miles an hour. Dr. Gould was a most pleasant visitor at The Transcript office and gave us, at our request, a most elaborate and interesting account of his travels. He dwelt at some length upon the political situation in Europe at this time and said that in France it was believed that in about twenty years or so Germany would be able to recuperate to such an extent that it would be a contender in world affairs, both from a military and an economic standpoint He also said that about 25,000 Americans were located in Paris. Dr. Gould expects to leave for Cleveland in a few days and will make the trip in his automobile.

SPORTS

Items Of Interest For Lovers of All Kinds of Games

During a recent visit to Atlantic City Mr. W. B. Usilton played a game of checkers with the champion of the United States and, at one time, had the champion 4 to 3, but finally lost the game.

Thomas F. Healey, Esq., has prospect of a good football team at Loyola College this fall. Mr. Healey will coach the team.

Parksley unexpectedly won the championship of the Eastern Shore League. They won a double header on Monday, While Salisbury lost.

Coach Kibler will begin the building of his football team in a few days. A good many stars will return.

Washington and New York in the American League and New York, Pittsburg and Brooklyn, in the National League, are fighting hard for the respective pennants.

The Olympic games show that football is more attractive to the public than any other game. The results were interesting and were as follows, according to the gate receipts:

Football	1,800,000 francs
Athletics	1,600,000 francs
Swimming	400,000 francs
Polo	350,000 francs
Tennis	350,000 francs
Rugby	350,000 francs
Winter sports	115,000 francs
Boxing	100,000 francs

One of the most interesting deductions to be made is that, if polo, on account of its expense, is beyond the reach of the general public as players, it is, at any rate, a game appealing as much to the masses as a spectacle as lawn tennis or rugby football.

Great Progress By Cheviolet

An understanding of how the remarkable rate of progress is effected in the automobile industry may be had by a study of the story of an individual manufacturer. The Chevrolet Motor Company, the popularity of whose product has so greatly increased within the last few years, is a fair example.

Commenting on these charges R. H. Grant, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company said: "It has been the policy of the Chevrolet Motor Company to combine economical transportation with quality. We felt that this could be achieved only by a constant study of popular requirements and a constant endeavor to keep our product in line with the best improvements made in automotive construction. These improvements were not made all at one time so that one year's model would be radically different from the other but were incorporated from time to time just as fast as they could be introduced into the car after the desirability of such a change became obviously worthwhile.

"The changes in our present Superior model, introduced a few years ago, have been made from time to time without any stress being placed on them until at present the changes made in the last two years number more than a score."

The adv. of Mr. Clarence Newsome, of Betterton, proprietor of Newsome's Garage, appears in this paper every week. This firm is agent for the Chevrolet.

WALTER L. MAIN CIRCUS

Two full grown men doing hazardous stunts on the top of a slender pole in the very peak of the circus tent with the pole perched on the chin of a third member of the troupe is one of the seemingly impossible and extermely hazardous acts performed by the Three Orantos who are now appearing with The Walter L. Main Circus as one of the lengthy list of special Feature Atrractions on the 1924 programme. Other notable members of Main Circus Colony includes the Famous Maximo holder of the diamond medal presented by the King of Siam as a prize award for the most hazardous, thrilling and artistic slack wire exhibition ever presented before the Royal Family.
