Democratic Ticket

For President of the United States
JOHN W. DAVIS

For Vice President
CHARLES W. BRYAN

For Congress
T. ALLEN GOLDSBOROUG

TUESDAY, Sept. 30 is the first day for registration and all those who would like to see the Democratic Victory have a chance to help throw Maryland for Davis, by first registering yourself if necessary, and then inducing all your democratic friend to register if they have not done so. Don't look lightly upon this all important duty.

THOSE who are not taking any interest in the coming Presidential election are missing a great deal the fun and interest that comes with politics. We read of straw votes, they must be the out-of-date straw hats, as the straw votes from the south show that the straws have not been discarded yet. Straw votes like straw hats don't carry much weight.

THE Democratic party has a candidate for President of the United States in the person of the Hon. John W. Davis of which every fairminded citizen of this great country should be proud. He comes from a line of God fearing and brilliant ancestry who were equally at home with a kit of tools or a shelf of books. His opinions have been based always upon study, reflection and conscience. He says of himself: "I have been at the bar nearly thirty years, but no client of mine has ever controlled, or fancied he could control my personal or political opinion." His arguments are terse and convincing. The late Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court of the United States laughingly said one day: "The court thinks so much of Davis' learning and character that when he appears for the Government the other side does not get due process of law." Mr. Davis, if elected, and we believe he will be, will be placed in the class of the late President Cleveland, President Wilson and President Roosevelt, the only three presidents of the United States in our recollection who have not been controlled by designing politicians. Elect Davis and you will have a president to be proud of.

There is a reaper whose name is Death
And with his sickle keen,
He reaps the bearded grain at a breath
And the flowers that grow between.

Shall I have naught that is fair? said he,
Have naught but the bearded grain?
Though the breath of these flowers are sweet to me,
I will give them all back again."

They shall all bloom in fields of light,
Transplanted by my care,
And saints upon their garment white,
These sacred blossoms bear.
