Parent-Teachers Associations

Since the beginning of the school year on September 8th most of the Parent-Teacher Associations throughout Kent County have held their first meeting of the current year and are now working with renewed interest for the improvement of their respective schools. A number of them have already held entertainments, festivals or suppers for the purpose of providing means with which to make further improvements in their school buildings and furnishing certain kinds of materials of instruction for which the Board of Education do not have sufficient funds to suvply all that is needed. Others have advertised such functions to be held during the current week and next week. It is hoped that they will all be well patronized for not only is there much benefit to be derived by one from the personal contact with others on such occasions but there is the satisfaction of knowing that the money spent will benefit the immediate communities through better school buildings or more supplies for the boys and girls.

In order to afford the several associations an opportunity to exchange ideas and to decide upon definite objectives for the balance of the year plans are being made for a meeting of all of the Parent-Teacher Associations in Kent County in the auditorium of the Chestertown High School building on the evening of Thursday, October 30th, 1924, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Notice of the meeting has been sent to the presidents of all of the associations with the request that all the members of each organization who can do so be urged to attend this meeting.

Miss I. Jewell Simpson, State Elementary School Supervisor, of Baltimore is planning to be at this meeting and to tell us "What Supervision Is Accomplishing In Maryland." Having been in the work of supervision of elementary schools in this state since it was instituted in all of the counties and having been most successful in her present work she is thoroughly conversant wfth the progress the schools have made and will give us much interesting information regarding the schools.

Turners Creek School

Another association was added to the list of P.-T. A's. in Kent County last week when the patrons of Turners Creek school met on the afternoon of Friday to consider the wisdom of forming an organization. The superintendent of schools explained briefly the advantages of such an organization to any community and spoke of some of the things that associations previously formed were doing for their schools. All who were present showed a strong desire to help toward the improvement of their school and community and organized an association by electing the following officers: President, Mrs. F. B. Harper; Vice President, Mrs. John Brooks; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Sarah A. Ruth.

There are now only two schools in the County without an active Parent-Teacher Association.

American Education Week

The time that has been selected for the observance of American Education Week throughout the United States of America this year is the week of November 17th-23rd. During that period of revival of public interest in the schools last year the teachers of Kent did much to give their patrons a cleaner understanding of what the schools are trying to do for the children. In some localities the parents responded well to the invitations sent out by teachers to come and observe their work in the class room or enjoy with them and their pupils the special programs that had been prepared. In other places, but little interest was manifested by the parents and their lack of co-operation with the teachers not only during American Education Week but throughout the year has lessened greatly the help that the boys and girls in those schools might otherwise have received from the teacher. For the teachers this year, the assistance of every school patron in the county is asked in making American Education Week a great success. Those who can not find the time to help with special programs can at least visit the nearest school one day in the week and observe the work throughout one or more recitations. Even such passive interest as that on the part of the parent would tend greatly to increase the interest of the child in school. Ministers and others who have the gift of public speaking are asked to offer their services to the principal of the nearby school in the way of giving a five or ten minutes talk on some phase of education during the opening exercises of the school or during some special program.

A program for the week is given here so those who are interested in helping the teachers to make that time of greatest value to the respective communities in which they are working, will know what subjects will be considered on the various days.

Monday, November 17th, Constitution Day.

Tuesday, November 18th, Patriotism Day.

Wednesday November 19th, School and Teacher Day.

Thursday, November 20th, Illiteracy Day.

Friday, November 21st, Physical Education Day.

Saturday, November 22nd, Community Day.

Washington Downs Naval Academy Plebes—Ready For Haverford Today

Washington College added another gridiron victory to her list on Saturday, last when she defeated the Naval Academy plebes at Annapolis 12 to 3.

The local collegians got off to a bad start and gave a rather poor exhibition of foot ball in the first half. The Naval lads completed several long passes which unbalanced the local collegians and paved the way for the yearling's only score—a field goal.

The second half found the Washington warriors playing real football. They outclassed the first year men of Uncle Sam's Academy, not allowing them a single first down. Such a complete reversal of form, as that showed by the locals is seldom seen, two touchdowns were scored.

Jarman played center in place of Kelley, who was called home because of a death in his family. Galvin, replacing Smoot, was the star of the game.

Haverford will be the opponnents of Washington College today, Saturday, at Haverford. Washington was barely beaten by Haverford last year and expect to win from them today.

MILLINGTON

Mrs. Thomas Caldwell, of near Ceciliton, visited Mrs. John L. Smith last week.

Mrs. Merritt Brice and Miss Susie Jones were guests this week of the former's brother, Mr. W. R. Strong, near Rock Hall.
