DEATHS

Chestertown was deeply shocked by another tragedy on Monday morning, when Sidney P. Townshend, Esq., of Chestertown, loved, honored, respected and held in high esteem by all, sacrificed his life at his home on Washington avenue. A jury summoned by Coroner H. L. Dodd returned a verdict to the effect that the pistol-shot wounds which caused his death were self inflicted.

Mr. Townshend, was apparently in good health, but had worried considerably over some intricate bankruptcy proceedings which he was settling. This is believed to have unbalanced the genial and pleasant man for the time and caused the performance of the rash act which has robbed the community of one of its very best citizens.

Mr. Townshend was a prominent lawyer of the local bar for about twenty years. He was formerly in the consular service of the United States and served in a German City for a number of years. Some years ago he was appointed referee in bankruptcy for this district and his efficient work in this capacity had marked him as a man of unusual ability as well as one conscientious to do his duty in full.

Mr. Townshend at one time taught school in Queen Anne's County and while there met and took as his happy bride Miss Charlotte Evans, daughter of the late Col. and Mrs. John H. Evans, of Rolph's Wharf, Queen Annes county.

He is survived by his wife and four sons, who have the sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement. The deceased is 64 years of age.

The funeral was held from his late home Wednesday, at noon, services being conducted by the Rev. Dr. C. L. Atwater, assisted by Rev. T. J. Sard. The Judges of the Circuit Court, and members of the bar, were honorary pall bearers, and the following active bearers: Senator W. B. Copper, Herbert E. Perkins, Thomas W. Eliason, John Gale Usilton, Wm. S. Collins, and R. Hynson Rogers. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd had charge of arrangements; interment in Chester cemetery.

The Circuit Court was adjourned during the hour of the funeral and the judges and fellow lawyers of the deceased attended the service. The directors of the Third National Bank for which the deceased was the attorney, adjourned their board meeting and attended the service in a body. A large number of relatives and friends from Kent and Queen Anne counties attended.

Mr. Townshend had the confidence and respect of local people through an unbroken period of years, not only because of a genial,likable disposition,but because of work well and faithfully done for all his clients and the public who dealt with him. In fact, what he did was the very antithesis of what constituted his general make-up in the many past years in which he has struggled toward the goal of right and honorable living. Rather was he of that school of old-time, genial, trusting men, always making friends and always holding to them just as tenaciously.

Life seldom furnishes sadder incidents than this, or more heart-rending, and who can tell where the next storm, perhaps now gathering in the twilight, may burst forth, or who can tell whose armor is so strong that the most frail arrow may not pierce it through and bring the work of years crashing earthward!

Let us ever hope and trust that the sweet spirit and useful life of Sidney P. Townshend may be an inspiration for right living for all who who knew him, and that his untimely death may hold us closer to the safety-line so that, in our lives, the thin veil between this and the other world may not be so shattered again.

Cleveland F. Christopher, Jr., infant son of Cleveland F. and Mary Christopher, died at its parents home on Cross street Sunday, October 19, aged 11 months. Funeral services were held Tuesday, October 21st, at 2 p. m. Interment in Chester cemetery. Rev. N. O. Gibson officiating, C. L. Dodd undertaker.

Emory Perry Listen, son of Mr. and and Mrs. William Lister, fell from a tree Sunday while descending from playing on the roof of a vacant house near his home in Baltimore and fractured his skull, dying shortly after in St. Joseph's Hospital. The boy was nine years old. His mother was formerly Miss Pearl Middleton, of Piney Neck. The remains were brought to Kent Oct. 21 and interment made in Piney Neck cemetery, the burial service being read by Rev. Barrett, of Piney Neck M. E. Church. Thomas H. Casey undertaker.

Joseph thirteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smithson, of Elkridge, died Sunday night of bronchial pneumonia, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parsons on Eastern Neck. The child's mother, formerly Miss Tyrone Davis, had come Saturday with her two children for a visit and the little one was taken ill Sunday. The remains were taken to the home Monday for interment.

—The October meeting of the Old Kent Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of Mrs. Percy V. Hendrickson, with Mrs. Hendrickson and Miss Frances Morris, hostesses. Mrs. Geo. Baldwin was elected Treasurer, and Miss Sarah Elizabeth Stuart was elected Historian. Plans have made to entertain the Capt. Jeremiah Baker Chapter of Cecil County, at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth, in Nov.

Mrs. Enoch Pleasanton, of this town, wife of Mr. Enoch Pleasanton, formerly superintendent of Chester Cemetery, was found dead in bed in Wilmington yesterday morning. Mrs. Pleasanton was on a visit to her daughter, who resides in that city. Facts concerning her sudden demise or the funeral arrangements were not obtainable when we went to press.

FIRE FLIES

In the United States last year more than 15,000 people were burned alive. Thousands of others were injured.

The national fire loss in 1923 was over $500,000,000.

The total monetary loss, including fire waste, cost of fire prevention, loss of business due to fire, etc., was over $1,000,000,000.

Seventy-five per cent. of the fires last year could have been prevented.

This is Fire Prevention Week. If you have or have not observed it, do more. Make every day Fire Prevention Day. Remember that every fire prevented means lives and money saved!

Suggestions

Industrial plants, mercantile establishments and homes should be thoroughly inspected by their owners to determine whether dangerous conditions exist.

General cleanliness is a large contributing factor in reducing fire losses. Preventable fires seldom start in clean places.

Many fires in dwellings would result in no damage if first aid apparatus, such as extinguishers and water pails, were kept handy.

Every citizen should know the location of the alarm box at the Fire House of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company and should learn how to turn in an alarm.

In turning in an alarm by phone it is important that the exact location of the fire be described so that the apparatus will lose no time in responding.

The Chestertown Fire Company desires to cooperate in every possible way with neighboring fire companies, not only in the matter of actual fire fighting, whenever and wherever that is possible, but also in matters of mutual assistance, as organizations.

The spirit of cooperation manifested among the fire fighters of Maryland and especially of the Eastern Shore reacts to the public good.
