NEWS OF THE FIRE COMPANY

Prizes Will Not Be Given Away—Insurance Is Lowered.

The Volunteer Fire Company of Chestertown has wisely decided not to give away the three prizes that were offered sometime ago and for the simple reason that it was discovered enough money could not be raised through this means to justify the continuance of this particular form of campaign. The money subscribed in this manner will be refunded to the donors in the near future and each person will be given the opportunity either to accept his subscription or to donate it to the Fire Company. Inasmuch as this fund is going straight back to the people of the town and county in the form of a speedy and powerful fire engine, which is now in process of being equipped, it is felt that a large number of individual subscribers will see the advisability of contributing the fund to this specific purpose. That, however, will be left to their own good judgment and desire. The money will be refunded to them as an evidence of good faith on the part of the Company.

The securing of the present fire equipment resulted in a reduction of 19 per centum on certain forms of insurance and therefore it has been deemed proper that the fire apparatus now in use be not taken out of Chestertown. It is for that additional reason that plans are being rushed to equip the new county-wide engine. During the last six months the Company has been called out to about nine fires; four of these calls coming from outside of Chestertown. It will thus be seen that there is a real and imperative need for the new county apparatus and it will further be realized that the people of Kent County, outside of Chestertown, have a pressing obligation to support the campaign for funds in this respect. Approximately $2000 will be required to complete the necessary amount. A committee of business men has been appointed to cooperate in this final drive. To those who have already contributed the Company desires to extend its cordial thanks, as well as to those public spirited persons who gave of their time and effort in the campaign. Upon those who have not so far contributed, both in town and county, we urge the realization of what this new equipment means in proper fire protection the county over. Send your donation as soon as you are able to Mr. Barber R. Bartley, campaign treasurer, Chestertown. If each reader of this paper meets the issue promptly the remainder of the fund will be raised in a short time.

And please do not forget; fire protection in this community is afforded solely through the willingness of the active members of this Company to hold themselves in readiness at any and all times to drop their work, both day and night, and voluntarily to go to the assistance of those that need them.

FARM NOTES

The Maryland Farm Bureau will fight the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution, the matter being thoroughly discussed at the last meeting of the Executive Committee.

A referendum of its 7000 or more members in Maryland will be taken to determine the exact position of the farmers. This vote, or record, will be submitted to the next session of the state legislature when the question of ratification of the amendment comes up. This referendum policy has been adopted by many other Farm Bureau states, all of which will fight to prevent the ratification of the amendment, believing it would deal a death blow to agriculture. The American Farm Bureau is also strenuously opposing the amendment just as it was while it was being considered before Congress. A little later on a "ballot" will be placed in the State Farm Bureau Magazine, "The CO-IP" on which the Maryland Farm Bureau members will register their sentiments either for or against the amendment.

Announcement is made at the office of the Washington Representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, that the national organization has no idea of changing its front on the Muscle Shoals Proposition because of the withdrawal by Mr. Ford of his offer for this plant. The offer made by Mr. Ford passed the House by a large majority and the subject was made the first order of business in the Senate, when it convenes to December 2, and no other business can be taken up until it has been disposed of.

Procrastination is one of the farmers' greatest enemies. In times of prosperity and affluence he pays comparatively little heed to the matter of organization, but let the dark days of hard luck and reverse make their appearance and almost instantly he rushes, and many times blindly, into and sort of an organization hoping to offset entirely or even minimize his bad luck. This has been one of the greatest forces operating against the best interests of the farmer. What the farmer really needs is more thoughtful discussion and deliberation thinking in normal times and less heated sentiment when times get bad.

From this time on and right up until the very day of its opening, every effort and every energy of the state and county Farm Bureau officials will be directed toward the success of the annual meeting of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation which meets in Cambridge, Md., January 7, 8, and 9.
