LOCAL MATTERS

—The Tolchester road is now open to the public.

—Chester River was partially frozen over on Monday night.

—Rabbits are so scarce that the average hunter has quit the business.

—Elkton is to have a new and up-to-date postoffice building in the near future.

—Many ducks, geese, etc., are seen in this section and gunners, are killing quite a few of them.

—Cavannaugh is the only Washington man on the "Suns" All-Maryland Eleven, according to reports.

—It is estimated that about one hundred from Kent saw the Army-Navy game in Baltimore Saturday.

—Chestertown Troop of Boy Scouts assisted by a number of ladies in the town, held a successful bake on Saturday, netting about $50.

—Mrs. Julian Coleman was holder of the lucky number that won a set of splendid silver ware at the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday night.

—Manager Russell has booked Van Arnam's Minstrels and the "Covered Wagon" for Lyceum for the near future. See advs. elsewhere.

—A subscription dance held in Rock Hall on Thanksgiving evening netted $70 for the benefit of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church.

—Messrs. Purnell Newcomb and John Moffett had good exhibits of Rhode Island Red chickens at the Baltimore Poultry Show this week.

—The Town Commissioners of Chestertown have had Court Street cleaned up throughly. In the future they will not allow ashes, etc., to be dumped thereon.

—Mr. John A. Anderson, of Cecilton, recovered a claim for $1100 damages in the Easton Court this week. H. W. Vickers, Esq., was attorney for Mr. Anderson.

—The Sinclair Oil Co., is preparing to erect gasoline storage tanks on the Strawboard Mill lot recently purchased from Walter T. Bramble and C. N. Satterfield.

—Washington College will have a hockey team, with the football star Eddie Keenan, as Captain. Urieville Mill Pond, near Kennedyville will be used as a field of operations.

—Because of the fact that lower Princess street pavement, Chestertown is lower than the street, it has been dubbed "Canal Zone Street" because water lays there during rainy seasons.

—Kent and Queen Anne's farmers are planting more acreage in wheat this fall than for several years. Generally speaking, wheat is looking fine and many farmers are pasturing the same.

—Mr. Swepson Earle, State Conservation Commissioner, was in Chestertown last week and examined the lake at Wye Mills. He says that this lake is the best lake for fresh water fishing in the State.

—High fur prices have brought prosperity to the Eskimos who are abandoning their primitive "kyaks," canoes for auxiliary schooners bought in Edmonton, Alberta. Sowing matches are in general use among the people.

—The Somerset Publishing Company has announced that the Somerset Democrat, a newspaper recently established at Deal's Island, will be discontinued as a separate sheet on Jan. 1st., next and will be consolidated with the Marylander and Herald.

—Gulls appeared in flocks of from 4,000 to 5,000 in Pondora County, Montana, and destroyed most of the grasshoppers in that district. Great flocks of the birds preyed on the hoppers in the alfalfa fields immediately after the hay was taken off.

—Dates for the annual meeting of the Maryland State Grange at Salisbury, originally set for Tuesday and Wednesday, December 9th and 10th, have been changed to Thursday and Friday, December 11th and 12th, it has been announced by the State Master B. John Black, of Roslyn.

—Implicating as principal, Andrew Bevans and Luther Bevans, and three negroes of Pocomoke, Alonza Taylor, alias Gumby, and Richard Howard, alias Slim, both negroes, have confessed that they assisted in the burning of the Webb house at Mattaponi Landing on the Pocomoke river. Nov. 8th.

—Under the present law it is unlawful to kill swan at anytime either in this country or in Canada. As a result of this law, Maurice Cole and Harold E. Colburn, of erryville, Cecil county, were convicted before the Federal Court of Baltimore for killing swan, and were each fined $10.00 and costs.

—Seventy-two couples, principally from Pennsylvania, went to the Gretna Green, Elkton, during the week, procured licenses and had the nuptial knot tied. Two couples met with disappointment when refused the necessary permit on account of either or both parties being under the legal age.

—Fined by a Harford Magistrate for starting out on the Susquehanna ducking flats before the hour prescribed by law, William Beck took an appeal, which it was said was set for hearing in Court at Bel Air on Saturday. He proposed to test the regulation and retained Congressman Tydings as counsel.

—Taxpayers of Millington voted by a substantial majority to increase the town tax rate from 50 cents to $1 on the $100, to provide the funds for the erection of a modernly equipped fire house. A lot has been purchased and the building will be erected at once. It will cost about $5,000 when completed and furnished.

—John N. Mackall, chairman of the State Roads Commission, said recently the greatest menace on the roads is the slow-moving vehicle. He expressed the belief that to lessen dangers of highway travel the need is to eliminate the maximum speed law and in its place substitute a law governing the minimum speed. This is a direct opposite to the general view.

—The windows of the different stores in Chestertown are beautifully decorated with Christmas toys and fine gifts for everyone. The business section of the town is a lovely sight with the different colored lights in the varied display. Santa surely has a lot of pretty things to pick from this year and will find the Chestertown storekeepers ready to help him in any way they can.

—The man who deliberattely throws paper, orange and banana peelings on Chestertown streets, would not dare to drop a few scraps of paper on the floor at home because his wife would call him down very quickly, yet the same wife who is so particular at home often tears up a letter while she is up town and throws it in the street. To keep the streets clean all must co-operate.

—According to these estimates the Sate Game Department decided that wild game valued at $750,000 was killed in Maryland last year. It was further estimated that approximately 1,500,000 pieces of game were killed. Questionnaires mailed to hunters in the State were used as a basis for compiling the estimates. Since the majority of hunters failed to reply to the questionnaires, the estimates were made on an average basis of so much game per hunter, according to the reports submitted.

—The automobile license plates for 1925 will have a new variety of color schemes. A number of States will have different colored license plates for passenger cars, trucks and motor cycles within their borders. Louisiana will have seven different color arrangements in its 1925 "tags," the most elaborate in the Union. Officials of the American Automobile Association explain that the States endeavor to use in their plans for registration plates the colors that will show best at a distance, so that a number may be more easily "taken" in case of trouble.

—At a directors meeting of the Business Men's Association last Tuesday night, it was decided to hold the annual Christmas treat for the children of Kent County in the Public Square of Chestertown, on Saturday, December 20th, at one o'clock p. m. Santa Clause has advised us by radio that he will arrive in Chestertown on the eleven o'clock train on that day, and will welcome his little friends with bells on. So don't forget the time and the place. On Christmas Eve a selected choir of voices will lead a Community Sing around the Christmas tree in the square.

Mr. Metcalfe Wins Suit.

The suit for $25,000 damages against Mr. James Metcalfe, one of Kent's most well-known grain dealers, was settled in the Circuit Court for Kent county at Easton last week in favor of Mr. Metcalfe. The suit was brought by Robert L. Allman because of the death of his three-year old son, who ran in front of Mr. Metcalfe's car last summer in Baltimore, while enroute to Virginia with his young son and nurse. S. S. Beck, Esq., represented Mr. Metcalfe; Barroll & Barroll represented the plaintiff.

WEDDINGS

A pretty home wedding took place at seven o'clock Wednesday evening, November 26th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Apsley, Hamilton and Belle Vista avenues Baltimore, when their only daughter Miss Iona Apsley, became the bride of Mr. William Vesper, of Patapsco Neck, the ring ceremony being performed by the Rev. Wood pastor of Gouch Church, of which the bride is a member. Mary Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scott, was flower girl. The immediate members of both families and a few friends were present. After a light supper Mr. and Mrs. Vesper departed amid congratulations for a short trip to Philadelphia, Atlantic City and and other points. Mrs. Vesper was formerly of Rock Hall and was a teacher in the elementary school there. She is now teaching in Baltimore and the young couple will reside at present with the bride's parents.

Health Clinics To Be Held.

Dr. John M. Nicklas will hold a clinic in the Kent County Health Center Dec. 8, beginning at 10.30 a. m. The health center is temporarily located over the garage of Noland, Bennett-Russell Co.; chest and lungs will be examined free.
