THE CALENDAR changed on Thursday last to 1925. We hope the change will bring prosperity and happiness to our people.

ACCORDING TO REPORTS from many financial sources, the year 1925 promises to be a very successful business year. This information, as usual, comes from concerns engaged in manufacturing and not from agricultural sources and therefore is confined to the large cities and manufacturing centers. There can be but little hope for success in the rural districts until there is created in some way a better market at a better price for the farmer's products—a price that will give the farmer a profit after the necessary costs of production are deducted. Let us hope a way can be found to do this, and then real prosperity will come to the rural sections.

Sunday School at 2 O'clock, preaching by pastor, Rev. S. L. Hanby at 3 p. m. All are welcome.

Amost appropriate service was held at Chestertown M. E. Church, Sunday evening. Rev. T. J. Sard preached most appropriately, while the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Merrick Clements, rendered the Christmas carols. At the M. P. church a most appropriate Christmas program was held. Large crowds were present at each church.

All three of the Protestant Churches of Chestertown held their Christmas tree treats on Monday and each had most attractive programs.

Rev. Dr. G. I. Humpreys, president of the Maryland Methodist Protestant Conferences, has made formal announcement of the transfer of Rev. F. B. Bailey, pastor of West Wilmington Methodist Protestant Church to Lauraville, Md., to succeed Rev. Paul F. Warner as pastor. W. M. Douglas, a student at Western Maryland College, Dr. Humphreys said, will fill out the unexpired term of Dr. Bailey at West Church. Dr. Humphreys announced also that the Rev. J. Payton Adams will be transferred from the church at Reliance, this state, to fill the vacancy at Calvary circuit, Towson, Md., caused by the resignation of the Rev. Paul M. Cassen.

Rev. Ivanhoe Willis, well-known in Chestertown and pastor of Marshallton and Ceders M. E. Churches, at the quartely meeting last Wednesday evening announced that he will ask the next session of the Wilmington Conference to grant him a change. Rev. Mr. Willis has been pastor of the two churches nearly five years, and in that time $40,000 has been raised for current expenses and improvements. The Marshallton Church has been rebuilt at a cost of $20,000, and has become a social as well as spiritual center of the community. At the anniversary service there last Sunday the pastor's appeal resulted in collection within a few minutes of $1,600 toward payment of the $3,000 due on construction. Mr. Willis is the brother of Mr. Thomas Willis, of Chestertown.

One of the busiest organizations connected with the churches during the Christmas season was the triangle club of Christ Methodist Protestant Church, of which Miss Laura Nicholson is the president. This club braved a chilling mist on Christmas Eve and went to the homes of the shutens of the town where 42 baskets of fruit and flowers were left, and to the homes of the poor where four large baskets filled with provisions gladdened the hearts of the inmates. The club also presented the Volunteer Fire Company with $5 as a Christmas present and sent a contribution of $25 to the Methodist Protestant Orphanage at High Point N. C., as a Christmas present. The By-Kota Club of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which Mrs. Louise C. Hess is the president, was also equally as generous and gave numerous well filled baskets and boxes of fruit and confections, as did also the Ladies' Guild of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.
