LOCAL MATTERS

—Sixty-five couples were married at Elkton during Christmas week.

—The citizens of Betterton are filling their ice houses with ice six and seven inches thick.

—The Steamer Lincoln is tied up in the ice at Rock Hall and will not resume its trips until further notice.

—Dr. William E. Arthur, of Cecil County, is suffering from diptheria, contracted from one of his patients.

—Chestertown has had a regular epidemic of mumps and some of our fairest maids and matrons have not escaped.

—Dogs invaded the flock of sheep on the Crosby farm tenanted by Wm. J. DeFord last week and killed three ewes.

—Fire of unknown origin recently destroyed Morgan Mitchell's canning house at Short Lane, below Havre de Grace.

—The Public Service Commission has rejected the plea of the C. & P. Telephone Co. for an increase in telephone rates in Maryland.

—The Kent County Commissioners have purchased two scow loads of gravel to improve the road near Eastern Neck Island Bridge, in the lower section of the county.

—Mr. Olie Ford, one of Kent's farmers, residing a few miles from Chestertown, fell sixteen feet from a water tank recently and was painfully but not seriously injured.

—The annual Christmas Dance, held in the Washington College Gymnasium Tuesday evening was most successful A large crowd from all parts of the shore were present.

—Wesley Broadway, a well-known colored man, was stricken with paralysis Monday while husking corn at Lynwood Sutton's farm near town. The stroke proved fatal.

—Sheriff Goodman received a letter Wednesday from a sheriff in South Dekota, who was looking for a crimnal who was fleeing from that state. Thus the law reaches out for guilty culprits.

—Misses Margaret Sterling and Agnes Mullen of Galena and Emily Blackstone of Rock Hall, were prize winners for Kent County in the recent essay contest of the Maryland Farm Bureau.

—Thursday was the official moving day in Kent among tenant farmers, and, although the weather was extremely bad, there was a general stir among those who intended to move regardless of the weather.

—The rectory of Sacred Heart Catholic Church has been thoroughly renovated and redecorated under the direction of Father Earner. Mr. Leonard C. Needles had charge of the wall decorations.

—While repairing a car that was running in a closed garage on Monday, William and Lawrence Duyer came dangerously near being gassed. The latter was made especially sick and did not recover for several days.

—Another of Sudlersville's lads is to go with Frank Baker, manager of the Eastern Club of the Eastern Shore League. He is Chris Wallace, who a year or two ago, was the star catcher of the Sudlersville High School nine.

—Ten shares of the capital stock of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland belonging to the estate of the late Arthur Harris were sold at public sale here on Saturday morning to Allen A. Harris, cashier of the bank for $96 a share. The par value is $25.

—Mr. W. Raymond Moody, general Secretary of the Chestertown Business Men's Association, has submitted a report showing that it cost the merchants and private contributors $200 to provide the annual Christmas treat for the children of the town and county.

—The Postoffice Department has asked for bids for carring the mails over the star route between Chestertown and Rock Hall twice daily for a period of four years. All bids are to be submitted by January 5. Thomas Hogans is the present carrier.

—Clarence W. Miles, twenty-eight, city solicitor of Salisbury, has been appointed by Governor Ritchie as People's counsel to the Public Service Commission, effective January 1. William Milnes Maloy had resigned the position earlier in the day to resume private law practice.

—Protests from business, publishing and other national organizations against the proposed increases in postal rates were made before the joint congressional sub-comitteeas it virtually concluded hearings on the Adminis tration bill providing for means to meet the cost of proposed postalsalary increases.

—The final valuation for rate-making purposes of the property of the Maryland, Delaware Railway Co. was fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission at $2,656,312 for the property used for common-carrier purposes and at $390,000 for the property used but not owned. The valuation is as of June 30, 1915.

To the Boy Scouts for their effective aid and to all others who attended to minor details, without which the celebration would not have been possible, the Association extends its best wishes of the seaon and it gratitude.

Many Canvasback Ducks Killed

Canvasback ducks by the thousands have been feeding in the Chester River this season, and, while there have been a considerable number killed, it has remained for this week to be the record week of the season. A great many exceptionally big bags have been killed in all the blinds along the river, while people from Water St. and the bridge have seen a great many sporting between the ice flows. A most unusual gunning incident occured yesterday, Friday, morning, when Mr. R. Hynson Rogers killed seven canvasback ducks from his own back yard.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear little girl Edna Mae Crew who departed this life five years ago, Dec. 25, 1919.

Cherished flower but half unfolded,
Precious pearl that turns to dew;
Jesus hold her in thy keeping,
Till our pilgrimage is through.
A little while together,
We trod life's onward way,
And gathered up its roses,
Frail blossoms of a day.
And then a place was vacant,
A voice we heard no more,
Our precious little loved one
Had passed to yonder shore.

By Mother and Father,
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crew.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my beloved husband and our father, R. Emmitt Taylor, who departed this life July 12, 1923.

A happy home we once enjoyed
How sweet the memory still
But death has left a vacant chair
The world can never fill.
I can see your dear face in mind
The last sweet look that you gave us
Father still lingers in our minds,
The only link death cannot sever
Is love and memory which live forever.

By his Wife and Daughters.

Old Deed Found

Missing for over one hundred years, the original deed to the Asbury M. E. property, Salisbury, where the first religious edifice of that denomination was erected in the county, has been unearthed from the files of Worchester County where it has lain forgotten while the changes of a century have turned the modest little meeting house into a handsome building of stone, with the completion next year of an addition, which will make it one of the largest and most modern churches on the entire Peninsula. Search through the records of Somerset county had failed to reveal the old deed, and until Jay Williams, prominent attorney of Salisbury and active member of the Asbury Church, suggested that the old papers might be located in Worchester County, and had been overlooked, as at the time of the sale the land was situated in Worcester County. Fifty dollars was the sum paid, in installments, for the church site, which is quaintly referred to as being in the vicinity of the town of Salisbury. The village at that time lay along Main St., which was known as Bridge St.

Happy New Year!

To All the Good People of Kent County and Vicinity

I wish to take this opportunity to wish the good people of Kent County, one and all, a Happy and Most Prosperous New Year.

I want to also thank all my friends for the splendid cooperation they have given me during the past year. It would have been impossible to make the new health system of Chiropractic so popular in the short space of a year or so without this necessary cooperation.

The splendid success we have attained here has inspired me to begin the new year with renewed effort to justify the confidence and good will you have placed in me.
