TRY TO ELIMINATE GARLIC

Suggestions That May Help Our Raisers Of Cattle Produce Better Milk

Just as soon as the snow is off the ground, and even before the roads dry up after the snows leave the ground in the spring, the milk buyer begins to worry about garlic.

Cows are eager for the first taste of green food after the winter months and the dairymen in many sections seem especially anxious to get the cows out on green pasturage. The result has been in previous years and undoubtedly will be again this year garlic flavored milk.

Many years of constant efforts to eliminate garlic flavor from milk emphasizes the importance of prevention in this respect. It is impossible to eliminate the garlic flavor after the milk has once been affected, and in prevention lies the only remedy for garlicy milk.

Every effort should be made to carry the cattle along on winter feeding until after the grass obtains a good start in the spring months. Where, through shortage of feed, it is necessary to turn the cows out in the very early spring, great care must be exercised to prevent garlic flavored milk by bringing the cows off pasture several hours before milking.

It is a good practice, when first turned out on early pasture, rye wheat or other green feeds that may be affected with garlic, to begin by pasturing only one hour after the morning milking and then returning the cows to the yard or stables and feeding of hay, corn stover, or other roughages. If no noticeable taint is contained in the milk the successive milking, the pasturing period may be extended the next day.

Great care should be taken, however to stretch out over a period of from two to three weeks the change from stable feeding to full pasturage, and in many cases even a longer period will be required to make the change without danger of contaminating the milk either by garlic or other obnoxious flavors.

Consumers of milk object to flavors that may be derived from grass, green rye, wheat, and practically all of the green pasturages where the change is made too suddenly from stable feeding to pasturage.

Conditions will vary from one farm to another and from one district to another. The problem of preventing bad bavor in the milk is one that rests with each individual daryman.

Make every effort to safegard against trouble by being sure that you enter the pasturing period so gradually that you cannot distinguish bad flavors in the milk that you use on your own table. If you can detect flavors in your own milk supply, you must rest assured that the buyer of milk will find objection to it.

Now is the time to plan your crop rotation so as to provide yourself with ample feed thus avoiding the necessity of pasturing unduly early in the spring of the next year.

Safeguard your market by eliminatfing garlic and other objectionable flavors from your milk.

BOYS' CALF CLUB BANQUET

Friends, Relatives and Patrons Honor Lads Who Improve Stock

The second annual banquet and reunion of the Kent County Boys' Calf Club was held Friday evening in the assembly hall of the Chestertown High School. It was served by the ladies of the Christian Endeavor Society of St. James' Methodist Protestant Church. County Farm Agent Horace B. Derrick was the toastmaster. Members of the club who spoke were Norman Pennington, Franklin Moffett, Walter T. Morris, Martin L. Sutton and Stanley B. Sutton. Mrs. Linwood A. Sutton spoke on "A Mother's View of Club Work;" J. Elwood Morris, who owns one of the finest herds of dairy cattle in the county, spoke about "Boys' Club Dairy Cattle Judging;" Linwood A. Sutton spoke on "Boys;" Mrs. Harry Williams "Community Responsibility for Club Work" and Edgar R. Pennington, the pioneer of pure bred Holstein cattle breeding in the county discussed "Future Dairying in Kent."

Representatives of the banks in the county which have assisted the boys in financing their purebred stock buying made short addresses as follows: Chestertown Bank of Maryland, Allan A. Harris; Kent County Savings Bank, Fred G. Usilton; Millington Bank of Maryland, Samuel J. Johnson Peoples' Bank of Chestertown, Chas. F. Wheatley; and Third National Bank, Thomas D. Bowers. William G. Smythe, secretary of the Kent County Farm Bureau, discussed "The Farm Bureau and Club Work;" Senator W. B. Copper, special representavtie of the Maryland's State Bankers' Association, spoke on "The State Bankers' Association and Boys' Club Work," while E. G. Jenkins discussed "Club Work in Maryland and in the United States."

The Boys' Calf Club enjoys an unique history. Since its organization several years ago every bank in Kent county has become interested in the development of the dairy industry and in the breeding of purebred cattle and has readily responded to the appeals of its members for initial assistance in purchasing their breeding stock. Through the influence of the club farmers generally throughout the county have turned away from the mongrel herd of cattle and have begun the breeding of only the finest purebred dairy cattle to such a degree that at present there are some of the finest herds of Guernseys, Holsteins and Jersey cows in Kent county to be found on the Eastern Shore. Individual members of the club have made a systematic study of cattle judging through the instruction of Agent Derrick with the result that two years ago Kent county's team of three boys from this club won not only the state judging championship, but also the national judging contest and were given a free trip to the World's Congress in London, England.

The past year Kent's team composed of Martin L. Sutton. Walter T. Morris, and Stanley B. Sutton, again won the state judging contest at the Timonium fair in Baltimore county, and Martin L. Sutton was one of the three boys throughout the state to win the highest individual record in judging and was selected with one boy from Frederick and another from Harford county, as Maryland's judging team at the National Show held in Milwaukee, Wis., winning fourth prize in competition with teams from almost every state in the union.

These boys have been largely the means of developing the dairying industry in Kent county to such a degree that it is easily the best paying department of farm work and many of their heifers have won not only county and state but national first prizes and represent thousands of dollars in value.

CAUSE OF GOITRE

Not Baffling Chiropractors

The above statement is not exaggerated, or extravagant by any means. but simply conveys to you just what vast numbers of people would say if you ask them. The claims of Chiropractic are founded upon results, consequently we have no hesitancy in setting forth the facts as stated.

Few conditions present greater fear and disconfort in women than Goitre, or enlargement of the Thyroid Gland.

CHIROPRACTIC

Bear in mind that every organ in the body has a definite duty, and in order to be healthy we must have these organs, and they in turn must be healthy to function properly. The Thyroid glan is no exception. This gland is controled by a dense plexus of nerve fibre, whose duty it is to control the activity of this important gland. When there is a pressure upon this important nerve trunk from which the Thyroid nerves emanate, the gland functions abnormall, and becomes swollen and enlarged. The skilled Chiropractor is able to locate the point of pressure upon this nerve trunk, and by skillful manipulation of the spine, relieve the nerve preessure so that normal function can take place in the Thyroid Gland, and the Gioter disappears.

Simple Way To End Night Coughing

No matter how long you have been troubled with exasperating coughing at night, robbing you of valuable sleep and thereby weakening your system and laying you open to dangerous infections, it can usually be stopped at once by a very simple treatment. Most people have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you usually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup and almost every throat irritation. It contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for
