The Third National Bank

OF CHESTERTOWN, MD.

The Only Ntaional Bank in Kent County

"THE BANK WHERE YOU FEEL AT HOME."

The ...elness of a Bank, perhaps more than any other business, is measured in t... of Confidence. Founded on approved Banking Principles, conducted ...ight methods, we have established here an Institution worthy of your co... e Confidence. With Confidence in our ability to serve and with experience we offer to the Public a thoroughly modern, up-to-date Bank. We are keeping our Old Friends because through years of active service this Institution has proved itself worthy of their loyalty. And we have established new Friendships because they find here a thoroughly modern Banking Service, alert and in keeping with their requirements. "When a Bank of progressive ideals starts out with the principle that nothing of value is lost by being thoroughly Sound and Conservative—and sticks to it through the years—that Bank usually becomes increasingly popular and prosperous."

We believe that the more points at which we touch human nature and human interests the more alive we become and the longer we will stay so. A true conception of banking accepts graver responsibilities than money changing. We believe in honest service, a constructive and helpful policy in all our contacts. This Bank enjoys its position because it views resposibilities to its people and its community through a wide angle lens.

Sincerely yours,

The Third National Bank of Chestertown, Md.

FIRE AT CLIFFS

Captain Bland's Home Burns To The Ground

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company was called out at 2.20 Tuesday morning to answer a call at Cliffs ...ity when the home of Mr Thomas Bland burned to the ground.

Shortly after the alarm was sounded Truck No. 2, of the company left the fire-house for a trip of ten miles, four over stone road and six over dirt roads that were not in the best of condition. Following the truck were about ten automobiles, all of which made the run in record time. but arrived too late to save the guilding.

There being no available water-supply, the firemen used the chemical tanks to extinguish the burning embers and stood ready to protect the neighboring homes. There being no wind, however, flying embers did no damage.

Captain Bland's house was not occupied at the time of the fire, Mr. Addie Start having moved out shortly before it burned. Captain Bland was in the house the day before making minor repairs, and getting ready for new tenants.

The origin of the fire is unknown, and when descovered by neighbors, flames were shooting through the roof. It will be marked down as another mysterious fire. The building was covered by insurance.

Birthday Anniversary Celebrated

A very interesting evening was spent by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Protestant Church last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Simpers on Queen St. The occassion was the 84th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Faringer, formerly of Baltimore. Mrs. Faringer is the widow of Frank Faringer, a veteran of the Civil War. At a time when old Broadway was resounding to the fanfare of trumpets and flashing with the color of miliary pagentry and when the gallant Fifth Regiment was in the heyday of its glory, this lady of the old regime was then one of Baltimore's belles and participated in the festivities of the social whirl when Broadway was the Main Street of the Maryland metropolis, sixty years ago. Mrs. Faringer was presented with a bouquet of 84 pink carnations. the presentation speech being made by Mrs. Thomas D. Bowers, and also with a large cake bearing the corresponding number of pink candles. Fifty ladies were present and enjoyed with the guest of honor reminiscences of the days that are now mellow and romantic memories.

To Erect War Memorial

Just as soon as Millington's new fire house is completed, it is planned to place a tablet on the building as a memorial to the boys of Kent and Queen Annes counties who were killed in the great war. Citizens of Millington, by constant plugging, have raised sufficient funds during the last two years to purchase a first class fire fighting apparatus, and recently gave out a contract for the erection of a modern and up-to-date fire house.

G. E. NOLAND DEAD

Mr. George E. Noland, one of the most prominent citizens of Kent County, passed quietly into the Great beyond at his home on High Street yesterday, Friday, morning at about ten o'clock, after an illness of about three weeks. Mr. Noland was taken to a Baltimore hospital for treatment, returning to Chestertown about two weeks ago, when it was the earnest wish of his many friends that he was on the road to recovery and health.

Mr. Noland was one of the most active and progressive business men in Kent County. He was endowed with a keen intellect and was capable of exercising an amount of power and physical energy that was far beyond the ordinary man of business. In meeting and dealing with the public, he possessed that keen and diplomatic sense of personal relationship that inspires the confidence of the public and brings them into that closeness and personal regard that inspires confidence and begets friendship.

As a man of business; as one who served his county;; as a citizen who loved his country and its ideals and its institutions; as a friend who was ever willing to extend the hand of help; Mr. Noland stood at the very top among Kent's most exalted men.

Mr. Noland was a staunch Democrat and was active in the promotion of those things which maintained its ideals and promoted its principles. He served his country well in the State Legislature and for his work received the commendation of his constituents.

He was an active member of the Chestertown M .E. Church and took great interest in its many branches of work and was a great aid to the promotion of its affairs.

At the time of his death, Mr. Noland was president of the Board of Election Supervisors of Kent County. In Chestertown he had one of the best stores in Kent County and had built up a tremendous and consistant business that extended to several counties.

The influence of Mr. Noland at Tolchester as superintendant was the largest contributing factor to the great success of that resort of pleasure. Mr. Noland took charge of the affair at that place in 1891. With Mr. Noland's entrance upon his duties as superintendant, many new amusements were installed and in about a year's time, the resort had become almost equal to any similar place in the East, with perhaps one or two exceptions.

Chief of all of Mr. Noland's many sterling assets was his friendship for other people.

He leaves a widow, who has been his daily companion for many decades and has administered to him that undying devotion and helpful usefulness that only a lady of her sterling type is capable of; also one son, Mr. Conlyn Noland, who is one of our well-known and highly-respected young business men.

Mr. Noland was 66 years of age. The interment will be private and will take place in Chester cemetery, the services being conducted by his pastor, Rev. T. J. Sard. Funeral arrangements had not been completed when we went to press. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

BUSINESS MENS' BANQUET

The fourth annual banquet of the Chestertown Business Men's Association, which was held at Washington College Thursday evening was one of the most interesting and inspiring ever held. Short addresses were made by the president, Harry F. Jefferson, Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, Mr. Edwin Brown, and Mr. W. F. Russell,

The feature of the occassion was an address by Mr. A. S. Goldsborough of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, on the subject, "If I Lived In Kent." This address was probably one of the best ever delivered in Chesterown and carried with it encouragement for the farmer and business man of the rural communities on the Eastern Shore.

There were about 100 farmers and business men of Kent County and also a number from Queen Anne's The whole affair was a huge success including the dinner, the music and the addresses.
