WE ARE in receipt this week and have frequently received communications bearing no signature. It is the policy of this and other newspapers not to publish communications unless accompanied by the writers signature. The writer's name is not published, but the newspaper must know the name of the author. This is required in order that the editors may know whether or not the article was sent in good faith. The article received this week is in reference to the condition of some of our county roads.

A LARGE number of homes in the county are close enough to streams and rivers to give them ample fire protection with the new county truck of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co. but are absolutely cut off due to the fack that the truck cannot get to this water supply. Every person owning or having in a home within reach of running streams, rivers, or ponds should build a good road to that water supply so that they may take full advantage of the fire protection which they enjoy. If small communities throughout the county will provide them selves with additional hose with proper couplings, which when coupled to the available hose carried by the fire truck will reach to a water supply, a whole village may be saved from the ravages of fire. Then again inland villages away from necessary water supply may, by the daming of a sluggish stream, save thousands of dollars in case of fire.

Prof. Owen C. Blades, coach of the Chestertown baseball team, issued a call for candidates the past week, and a lively bunch of youngsters responded with an enthusiam which promises a champion team during the coming season. There is a lot of promising material at the school for the organization of a winning team and Coach Blades is giving the candidates long tryouts before making his final selections. An effort is being to organize a county high school league for the purpose of developing the fine material at the varous schools, and the athletic authorities at Washington College are keeping a close watch on the youngsters with a view to getting them to matriculate at the college in the fall.

On Friday, March 20th, the Massey Athletic Association held their annual meeting and organized their team for the coming season. Massey has many good prospects for another successful season such as has been their lot for the past two years. The team is losing a valuable star in H. A. Groff pitcher. Groff was Massey's tower of strength on the mound. He pitched the Massey team to the championship series and with the help of Lefty Pryor won the championship of Kent and Queen Anne's counties in 1923. During the season of 1924 Groff developed into a dangerous hitter and many games have come to the home club by his timely hitting and fine twirling. Groff has been signed for a tryout in the Eastern Shore League with Easton. He carries the best wishes of the Massey team with him. Manager Newnam has engaged Bobby Kennedy of Kennedyville to resume the responsibility of the mound when Groff leaves for Easton in May. Massey's Roster is complete with the exception of P. Jones, second sacker.

They will carry ten men until Groff leaves as follows: G. Newnam, 3b; G. Groff, S. S.; E. Haley, 1st.b; R. Jones C; L. Newnam, R. F.; J. Hicks, L. F.; H. A. Groff, P; R. Kennedy, P.; P. Jones, 2b.
