EDUCATION WEEK AT CHESTERTOWN SCHOOL

Education Week at the Chestertown Elementary School opened on Monday. The exercises will continue throughout the entire week. The school is beatifully decorated with flags, potted plants and cut flowers making it look like a veritable flower garden. The children are bright and happy and in splendid spirits.

A splendid and stirring address was given by Dr. Titsworth, of Washington College. The day being set aside as "Patriotic Day," the flag salute was given, and "My Country 'Tis of Thee," "Star Spangled Banner" and "Maryland, My Maryland" were sung by the school.

Excellent solos were rendered by different pupils in the school and the seventh grade sang "Oh, Dr. Titsworth" with great enthusiasm.

Through the great kindness of Mr. Bates Russell, the Lyceum has been loaned to the school for the lecture and pictures given by Professor Karl Pheiffer of the State Board of Forestry. This lecture will be given at 2 o'clock on Friday. The lecture will be free and the public are invited as guests of the school.

The program for the entire week is given below. On Wednesday afternoon, after the demonstration lesson in music an afternoon tea will be given by the principal and teachers of the school to the visiting teachers and parents.

"THE AGE OF INNOCENCE"

The word "innocence" has been interpreted in so many different ways, that one almost loses sight of its original definition: "to be untainted by sin and blameless," according to the dictionary. But, still another and even more unusual interpretation of the word is given in the Warner picture, "The Age of Innocence," which is the attraction at the Lyceum Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week.

In this production which was adapted from the "Pultizer Prize novel" by Edith Wharton, the word "innocence" not only refers to people but is all-embracing, entwining itself around the emotional struggle that Beverly Bayne, a Russian noblewoman, makes to retain her freedom of soul. Elliott Dexter, who loves her, is caught between the millstones of duty and desire, while Willard Louis is a charming droll rascal, whose philanderings excite considerable laughter. Edith Roberts, Stuart Holmes, Fred Huntly, Maxine Elliott Hicks and others complete the cast while Director Wesley Ruggles is responsible for the smooth development of the plit.
