MILLINGTON

The following Boy-Scouts, Richard Comegys, Carlton Wallen, Merritt Gordon, Francis Fitch, Jr., Roland Porter, Morris Hankin, Paul Bowman, Roland King, Baynard Wooleyhand, Millard Porter, Walter Kulley and George Duling, accompanied by Scout-Master, Rev. Joseph I. Barrett, spent this week camping at White Crystal Beach.

Little Virginia Woodall, of Crumpton, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Woodall.

Master Roland Bartlett, of Wilmington, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burris.

Mr. and Mrs. J R. Pendleton, of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sinclair, or Hampton, Va., were guests last week of Mrs. S. S. Comegys.

The barn and stables on the farm occupied by Mr. J. Harry Wiest between Clayton, Del., and Millington, were destroyed by fire last Monday afternoon and two horses, one colt and several calves were lost also a crop of new hay. The fire was supposed to have started from the heaping of green hay in the loft. Mr. Wiest has no phone connection, but word came to town by some colored men in a car and the Volunteer Community Fire Company were soon on the road to Mr. Wiests to do what they could to save the property, but the barn was about destroyed when they arrived on the scene. They stopped, however, for some time to protect the dwelling, which was threatened by sparks from the other buildings. The loss on buildings was partly covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Numbers, Jr., of Flint, Michigan, are spending the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Numbers. They made the trip in their Oakland touring car over the National Old Trails, starting on June 11, spending a week on their way with her sister, Mrs. Fred Grace, of Cleveland, Ohio, and report a very pleasant trip.

Mrs. Warren Painter, of Harrisonburg, Va., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Merritt Brice.

Mr. Charles Dixon, of Newark, Del., who with his family was spending the week-end with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Everett, near town, was taken sick with appendicitis and went to the Emergency Hospital, Easton, Md., on Monday for an operation.

The regular monthly meeting of the Queen Esther Circle of Asbury M. E. Church, was held last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. N. A. Wallen.

Bohemian Women Led in Feminist Movement

Czechoslovakia claims the distinction of being the birthplace of the feminist movement. Historians have found documents showing that a republic in which all the important offices were held by women existed in Bohemia in the Seventh century. The Society for Historical Research will publish a complete account of this republic. It appears that at the death of Queen Lahuzza of Bohemia, a young girl named Wlaska, who had been the trusted counselor of the queen, organized an armed force of a few hundred women and waged war against the barons of the country. Several strong castles were stormed and taken by these amazons and the prisoners were compelled to work the fields and do the most menial labor. An assembly composed entirely of women voted that, 1. Any man in possession of arms should be punished by death; 2. When expeditions were to be made only women would be allowed to fight, the men's role being that of nursing the wounded and driving the carts with food and water; 3. Men were to be allowed to ride with their knees on the same side of the horse (sidewise); 4. Women were to chose their husbands and a man's refusal to accept a woman's choice was an offense punishable by death. This rule of women is said to have lasted seven years, after which, "with bitter fights, the men regained the upper hand."

Fifty Years' Silence Brought to an End

A curious case of the strange workings of what we call the subconscious mind is reported from New York. A man who had been supposed to be both deaf and dumb for 55 years—ever since he was five years old—was put under ether in order to undergo an operation. When he came out of the anesthetic he could both hear and talk, and he did talk fluently and steadily. As a child the man was extremely shy and self-conscious. He learned to talk, but his own voice seemed to frighten him, and he kept silent as much as possible, sometimes for days at a time. When he was five he stopped talking altogether. The doctors say that his vocal organs were perfectly normal, but that he deluded himself into the idea that he could not talk. Later by a similar process of self-hypnotism he became convinced that he could not hear. That he did hear and that his subconscious mind took note of what he heard are evident from his ability to talk when the strange inhibition was removed by the unusual experience of etherization. —Youth's Companion.

Bali Men Steal Wives

The men of Bali, an island in the Indian archipelago, still as they did centuries ago secure their wives by purchase or capture, according to the Family Herald. An exchange of ardent glances in temple or market place and perhaps a few clandestine meetings tell the lover if the lady is not averse to abduction. He knows, however, that if he is caught in the act of carrying her off her willingness will not satisfy father or brother; so he lays his plans carefully and smuggles her away in absolute secrecy. After a few days in hiding the groom sends a friend to his bride's parents to ask their forgiveness.

Though the messenger invariably is received with great show of hostility, the culprits usually are forgiven. But if the third visit of the "go-between" is without result the lover and his bride are doomed to banishment from their village and people.

Be Beautiful at Thirty

"If you're clever, you'll be better looking at thirty than you have ever been before," writes Hazel Rawson Cades in the Woman's Home Companion. "You'll be better dressed, better poised. It's only a question of taking the trouble, and of accustoming yourself to thinking in terms of your own age. It is, I'll admit, more work to be charming at thirty than at eighteen. But it's curious that many women, born to a mediocrity which persisted through their youth, have at thirty found their charm. Because they've seen then the possibilities of their age, and realized that the charm of maturity depends not so much on your natural endowments as on the grooming, grace and mental qualities that you are willing to work for."

Signals

The Martins were preparing to make an evening call. Said Mr. Martin:

"I can't stand too long an evening with those Bergers. We're coming home at ten o'clock if I have to develop a headache to do so."

All went well until about 9:30, when four-year-old Juanita Martin became somewhat bored with the entertainment the Bergers were offering her. Climbing up into her father's lap and putting an arm around his neck, she commanded, in a stage whisper:

"Start your headache, daddy, start your headache!"—Kansas City Star.

That Made Difference

Mollie had fibbed, but confessed the fault readily—in fact, as though she were rather proud of the accomplishment. Mollie was a modern child.

"You know, it was very wrong of you to tell auntie that lie," granny told her. "Your conscience must be troubling you."

"Oh, no, it isn't, granny," said Mollie, promptly. "She believed it."

Now we, as Lumber Producers, and you builders, as Lumber Consumers, we offer you the chance of a life time to break the grip these Birds have on you.

And let us quote you Prices on rough Framing, Plank and Boards, that will completely wipe out all your high freight bills, and on some items wipe out the large Profit the Wholesaler and Lumber Jobber is making off of you.

This fine Large Steam Mill was not put in here in competition with you Retail Lumber Yardmen. It was put in for your benefit, so that you could buy Cheaper Lumber and Build more Houses at less cost.

We as Lumber Producers, Sell to you, the Consumers. You pay no Freight on Our Lumber, and no Middle Man's Profit.

Does not that mean Cheaper Lumber for you.

Chestertown is Our Home and our aim is to help Our Home People in good old Kent and Queen Annes, and all the Eastern Shore Lumber Yards and Builders, within Trucking Distance for our Lumber. Think it over Brothers, as we are ready to sell you cheaper Lumber.

What a beautiful floor!

The visitor is at once impressed with the beauty of a Bruce Oak Floor, and as she is escorted by her gratified hostess through all the rooms, her delight increases as she sees how the atmosphere of her friend's home is enriched by the mellow expanse beneath their feet—dignity and the warmth of hospitality in the living room, good cheer in the dining room and good taste throughout.

There is no floor that can compare with a Bruce Oak Floor; it has character, beauty, and it will last for all time.

If you lack Oak Floors in your present home, there is a special thickness made to lay over the old worn floor.

We will be glad of an opportunity of telling you more about Oak Floors as related to your individual requirements.
