LOCAL MATTER

—Editor J. Waters Russell, of Easton, was in town this week.

—The Chestertown Public Library will not be open today, Saturday, July 4th.

—Gordy and Johnson are doing well for Cambridge, the latter acting as temporary manager.

—Chestertown stores and business places will close today, Saturday, in obervance of the fourth.

—Work on the Tolchester road is progressing rapidly and will be completed around the last of July.

—The blackberry crop of this section was hard hit by the drought and gives promise of being considerably short.

—The Shore Radio, Inc., receives the baseball scores every evening and post them on a black board in the store.

—The improvements to the town continue. A curb is now being laid on Cannon street, between Queen and Water.

—Mr. George Titter has sold to Messrs. Daniel McKee and sister and Harry Pencil Studebaker Coaches this week.

—At the lawn fete and show at the Green Point farm last week for the benefit of the local fire company, over $50.00 was realized.

—The A & P Tea Co., have added to their grocery business a fresh and salt meat department. Mr. Theodore Wood being engaged as meat cutter.

—Threshing is now going on in full swing in Kent and the crop is a good one. Local buyers have been offering around $1.50 per bushel.

—Mr. Brown Metcalfe has purchased of Mrs. Harrison W. Vickers, Sr., the residence on Water Street now occupied by Mr. John Clendanial and family.

—Mr. Reginald P. Dulin, has rented the Violet Farm, on Lankford Bay, formerly rented by Mr. Charles Brown. Mr. Brown will move to the Legg Farm near.

—Cats raided the chicken coops of Miss Elizabeth Wickes on Queen street and killed 100 of the finest young chicks. Others in the town have sustained losses of half grown birds.

—Mr. H. W. Moore has sold his residence on Kent and Cannonstreets to Mrs. Rosa Howard and will move to their new bungalow in course of erection at McLaines Corner.

—Honorable Josiah Marvel, of Wilmigton, Del., will be the speaker at the Woman's Democratic Graden Party to be held on the lawn of Mrs. W. W. Hubbard next Friday, July 10th.

—Hyland Copper has been appointed sexton of old St. Paul's Church in place of Walter Hickman, who has resigned to engage in work in Chestertown. Mr. Copper will also be in charge of the cemetery.

—The twenty third annual convention of The Maryland Rural letter Carriers Association will be held at the Frances Scott Key hotel, in Frederick, this Friday and Saturday, July 3 and 4.

—Santa Barbara, the picturesque little city perched high above the ocean suffered disaster early Monday morning in an earthquake which was general over Southern California but which apparently struck lightly in other towns. The damage was colossal.

—Mr. Laurence P. Strong, residing on "Stephany," the Walter B. Strong farm, near Lankford, will discontinue farming and move to Chestertown; Mr. Sewell Lee at present tenant on the Mann Chapman farm near Lynch has rented the Strong farm and will move there the first of 1926.

—A clinic for diseases of the chest will be conducted in the Health Center, Chestertown, Monday, July 13, at 10.30 a. m. individuals complaining of cough, expectoration, etc., shall see their family physician and attend this clinic.

—The Bramble Poultry Farm is still operating their mammoth incubators at almost full capacity and will have a hatch every week until the last day of July. Starting the first day of January, this means a straight run of seven months for this hatchery, which is perhaps the longest hatching season of any plant in the east.

—Improved farm land sold for as low as forty cents an acre when eighteen pieces of private property were put up for public sale at Dover, Del., recently for non-payment of county taxes. It was the first sale of its kind to be held in Kent county, Del., since 1895. The real estate, which had an assessed value of about $12,000, brought in a total amount of $849.50.

—A heavy infection of aphis is defoliating the maple trees along the Eastern Shore to an alarming degree. Automobile tops and bodies are spotted and stained from the "honey dew" that drops from the leaves. The side walks, lawns and gutters in various towns are covered with fallen leaves and a severe check to the trees is possible unless the insects are destroped.

NEARLY COMPLETED

Buildings Will Be Completely Equipped And Will After Big Outfit For Crops.

Kent's two new cooperative canneries, one at Rock Hall and the other at Fairlee, are rapidly nearing completion and will be in readiness for the opening of the canning season, which will be about August 20. Both buildings are about completed and machinery will shortly be installed.

Quarters for the foreign labor which will be used at both cannaries are being built, and both plants give every indication of a successful season. Ralph Blackiston, of Rock Hall, has been appointed bookkeeper at the Rock Hall plant and is in New York city studying the methods of keeping the intricate accounts to be encountered in the handling of thousands of baskets of tomatoes.

Mr. Benj. C. Willis will manage this plant. The officers of the Co-op are R. A. Shallcross, Pres.; Howard S. Leaverton, Vice Pres.; Roy Strong, Secy. and Treas.

At Fairlee, Leonard A. Pennington has been employed as superintendent, and H. Stockton Startt, the treasurer of the company, will be in charge of the books, with his son, Skirvan Startt. as assistant.

Both canneries are owned and will be operated by a company of about thirty farmers, who have contracted to deliver tomatoes from more than 300 acres, which is about the capacity of each cannery, if there is an average yield.

The promoters of the cooperative movements in the county are confident of the success of the venture.

The canneries have received a number of flattering offers from many of the largest packers in the country to supply them with their goods during the season.

The destruction of plants in the middle West by hailstorms and serious drought in many other sections of the country, it is believed, will be the means of boosting the price of tomatoes, and there is a fine prospect now throughout Kent county for a good yield and the acreage is larger than for a number of years.

WEDDINGS

Miss Maryland Russell Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Bryan, of Chestertown, Md., and Mr. Leonard Leurs Howeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Haweth, of Hurlock, Md., were quietly married at 4 oclock June 27th, at the home of the brides parents. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of powder blue silk crepe with slippers to match and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses Lillies of the valley, and Orange blossoms. Her going away gown was tan ensemble suit with hat to match. They were married under an arch of ferns interspersed with white and pink carnations Mendelsolin wedding March was played by Miss Dorothy Rawlings cousin of the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Omar E Jones, of Middletown, Del., presiding Elder of the Wilmington Confrence. Manp valuable and useful presents were received after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Haweth left for Boston via water and will tour the New England States and Canada after which they will return to their home in Wilmington, Del.

A military wedding in which the khaki uniforms of the United States Army mingled with colorful summer gowns, took place Friday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church in Indianopolis when Miss Flora Josephine Shattuck, of that city was married to Lieut. Joseph Howard Harper, of Fort Benjamin Harrison, son of Mrs. Lavina Harper, of Still Pond Md.

The bride was lovely in white Chiffon, trimmed with orange blossoms with a train of chiffon. As the ceremony ended, the ushers formed an arch of sabers, under which the bride and bridegroom passed. Following the wedding a dinner was held at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Harper will reside in Haines, Alaska. The bride is a graduate of Denver University also having studied at Cornel Conservatory of Music. The groom is a graduate of the University of Delaware.

Alfred Perkins, of Lansdown, Pa., on July 7, 1925, at Friends Meeting House, Gwynedd, Pa. Mr. Perkins has a number of friends and relatives in Kent county.

Cowboy Lingo For Local Rodeo Fans

Just as a dictionary of the French language is essential to a European trip, so will a dictionary of rodeo lingo be of much use to the visitor in the West. For the especial benefit of the many here who are contemplating trips to the cattle country this year, the Transcript publishes the attached list or terms used by cowboys both on the ranch and in the rodeo. The round up and World's Championship Rodeo this year will be held in Grant Park, Chicago, August 15 to 23 under the direction of the Chicago Association of Commerce, with "Tex" Austin, world famous cowboy, in charge of the contests.

"Rodeo" is the Merican word for day'-o."

"Broncho" is another word originating in Mexico and signifies "mean" and "bad tempered" as applied to a vicious and unbroken horse. A "broncho buster" is ftrely a horse breaker.

"Bull-dogging" is steer wrestling.

A "hazer" is a bulldogger's assistant. He must pick up the former's mount after the leap and protect him from being gored when he realizes his hold on the steer. "Houlihaning" is accidentally knocking down a steer instead of wrestling it. This will not be permitted in the Chicago Roundup.

"Sunfisher" is a bucking horse that twists its body in the air standing on its hind legs so that the sun hits its stomach. "Crow hops" is a term describing mild bucking motions of a broncho. "Salty" signifies spirit or viciousness in a horse.

"Eating gravel" means being thrown from a bucking broncho or stetr.

"Pulling leather," "shaking hands with grandma," "grabbing the safety knob" all mean holding to the saddle which disqualifies a broncho rider. "Dog fall" is putting a steer down with its feet under. The throw is not complete until the steer is flat on his side with all four feet out.

"Chuck wagon" is the cook wagon. "Doughie" is an unbranded calf less than a year old that has lost its mother. "Maverick" is an unbranded animal more than a year old.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

A competitive examination was given by the Board of Education of Kent County, Maryland, at the Chestertown Elementary School building on Saturday, June 27th, 1925, for scholarships at St. Johns and Blue Ridge Colleges, St. Mary's Female Seminary and The Maryland Institute for the Promotion of the Mechanical Arts.

All four of the applicants who took the examination were interested only in the scholarship at St. Johns College. They were Stanley Matthews, Still Pond; Chester Davis, Galena; Marion Rosen, near Sassafras; and Richard W. Comegys, Millington. Unless some boys and girls in the county become interested in the scholarships at the other three schools before the end of vacations Kent County will not have any representatives at those institutions next year.

Richard Comegys, of Millington, obtained the highest score in the examination and was therefore awarded the State Senatorial Scholarship at St. Johns College by the Board of Education at their meeting held on the morning of Tuesday, June 30, 1925. This scholarship entitles the winner to tuition, board, fuel, lights and laundry for the next four years.

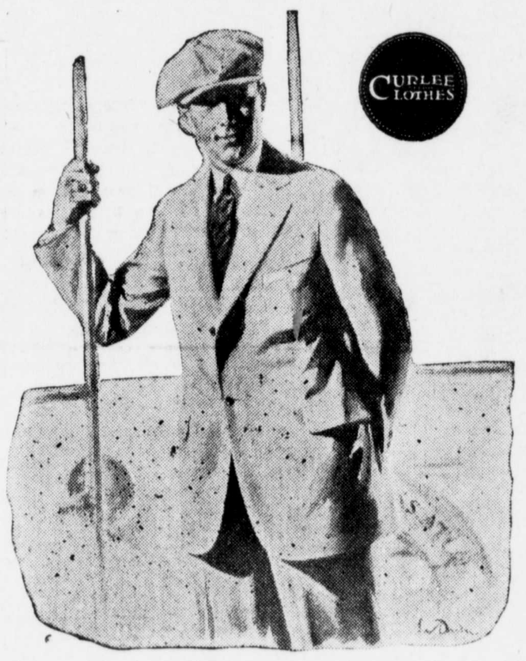

There was also vacant a Tuition Scholarship for Kent County at St. Johns College and that was awarded to Marion Rosen who stood second in the examination.
