STATE ROAD

Millington Sudlersville Highway To Be Opened on July 28

The dedication of the new state road between Millington and Sudlersville, which will take place on the day of its opening to traffic, July 28, is attracting wide attention in various sections of the state. The new road is to be known as the Eastern Shore Trail, because it will furnish an entire boulevard from northern cities to the lower peninsula and points south and will furnish a much shorter route than the present one, by permitting automobiles to travel by way of Elkton, Galena, Millington Sudlersville, and Centreville then through Chestertown, saving some twenty-five miles in the distance to the lower shore towns. Citizens of Millington and Sudlersville are arranging a program comprising a pageant which is to include a float from each of the counties on the Eastern Shore and business men have been asked to contribute exhibits. The invited guests of honor will include Governor Ritchie, of Maryland; Governor Robinson, of Delaware; Secretary of State, Taylor of Delaware; Chairman John Mackall, of the Maryland State Road Commission; State Comptroller, Gordy; Secretary of State E. Brooke Lee, Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough; and State Treasurer, John M. Dennis, and the nine senators from the Eastern Shore counties. The pageant will start at Millington at three o'clock in the afternoon and proceed to Sudlersville, where the dedicatory exercises will take place at four o'clock. Supper will be served to 100 guests by the Sudlersville Chamber of Commerce. Visitors from all sections of Maryland and Delaware are expected to attend.

BIG HELP FOR CHESTERTOWN

Figures Compiled Show Washington College Big Factor In Community

A recent tabulation computed by the department of commerce in Washington College shows that over a period of 33 weeks 110 students spent the sum of $19,614.21 is Chestertown. It is said that a single student, in the above length of time, spends on an average of $178.53 in this community. Each week the 110 students, upon whose expenditures the calculation is based, put into circulation $594.37. In the course of one week alone each student spends $5.41 in drugs, food, clothes, transporation, recreation and general luxuries. The entire computation is based upon thesesix items. A total of $346.50 is spent by 110 students in drugs alone over 33 weeks; for food they expend in Chestertown $4,622.31; for clothes, $8,136.81; for transporation, $913.26 and for luxuries, $3,674.22.

These figures, accurately arrived at, may astound those who do not realize just how much money is put isto circulation in Chestertown by the college students alone. And, be it said, these figures do not take into consideration any items other than those mentioned. It ill therefore be soon as a serious matter to the commerical and business life of this community not only that the college be substantially supported and adequately porpotuated but that the enrollment of students be greatly iscreased as time goes on.

On the above basis of figuring 200 students at Washington College would spend in the community a sum approximating $40,000 in the short time of 33 weeks. If the time should come when a thorough going and permanest summer school were established at the college and if 100 students were attractedto Chestertown for the summer course of six weeks about $3600.00 would be added to the total expended. On the same basis. of course, 200 summer students would spend an additional approximate sum of $7200.00.

All this is something for the people of Chestertown to think about and the cold figures show conclusively that any reckoning of the future business and commercial life of the community must seriously consider the college as a powerful factor.
