LAST NIGHT MARKED the end of Chautauqua week in Chestertown. Chautauqua brings to the town and county a form of entertainment and education which does not reach us through any other source. The literary and musical programs are usually very enjoyable and instructive and are appreciated by many of our citizens. So well pleased are our citizens with the Chautauqua, that the necessary guarantors have been secured for its return in 1926.

SCHOOL CASE OVER

Kent County School Board Hears Charges Against Rock Hall High School Principal—Decision Reserved for Present

Before a large and colorful gathering, at Chestertown Elementary School on Wednesday afternoon and night, the case of a committee of Rock Hall people against Professor W. P. A. Strang, principal of Rock Hall High School, was heard by the Kent County School Board, consisting of Messrs. Harry Davis, C. Romie Skirven and Robert R. Hill, with State's Attorney S. S. Beck, attorney to the Board, present, as was also Prof. L. C. Robinson, superintendent of Kent County Schools.

The decision of the Board has been reserved for the present. The next regular meeting of the Board will be held on Tuesday, August 31, but it is probable that the decision of the Board will be rendered before that time.

At the meeting, both Mr. Strang and his opponents were well represented by constituents, who did not hesitate to express both their pleasure and their displeasure by applause that was unmistakeable in tone and its volume, and, although the president of the Board, after the first few outbursts, warned the audience of any display of their feeling, this failed to damper their ardor when either William F. Russell, Jr., Esq., who represented the committee, or H. W. Vickers, Esq., who represented Mr. Strang, scored a point for their clients.

At the very outset of the meeting, Mr. Vickers asked that the ones who had brought the charges sign their names thereto. This was the storm center around which waged a most eloquent and lengthy debate between Messrs. Russell and Vickers, neither of whom spared either force or eloquence in their defense of their respective positions. The Board, after a conference, decided that it was not necessary for the charges to be signed. The Board also overruled the objection to Mr. Russell representing the committee, on the ground that Mr. Beck was the regular attorney for the Board.

Six charges were brought against Mr. Strang, but two were not allowed by the Board on the ground that in 1921, Mr. Strang had been exonerated on these same charges. Mr. Strang was perhaps the principal witness in his own defense.

Professor L. C. Robinson was also called to the stand and made a strong witness for Mr. Strang, stating that he "was efficient in mental attainments and truthful, regardless of the feeling toward him." Numerous other witnesses, both for and against Mr. Strang, gave their testimony, which was frequently interrupted by the voices and the applause of the spectators.

This case was the most interesting of its kind in the history of Kent County. Seven daily newspaper correspondents and photographers were in the county during the past week, who have kept the people well informed through the daily press of the daily progress of the case.

In spite of the terrific heat of Wednesday afternoon, which at times registered at least 100 in the room, although the room was filled to its greatest capacity in spite of it, it failed to dampen the interest of the crowd, and when, at the close of the proceedings, it was found they would be continued into the evening and night, the same crowd, eager for the final clash of arms between the two attorneys, packed the oven-like room, which had cooled little as the sun went down.

And they were not disappointed. Both Messrs. Russell and Vickers are known throughout the county as real fighters for their clients, Mr. Vickers for his prosecution of the Coleman murderers perhaps, and Mr. Russell for his well known defense in the Lane case a year ago. The two attorneys, each refusing to yield a point as the case progressed, were militant to the last, each striking back with all the power of eloquence, interspersed with sarcasm, that they possessed. These frequent sallies were what the people wanted. They fairly fed on them and grew fat by the feeding. The two clans, each a champion of its cause, were outspoken in their comments and in their display of feeling, and they each made use of their weapon.

At about 10 o'clock, the two sweating and almost exhausted attorneys took up the argument in the case, which was concluded about 11.30 p.m.

The school of which Mr. Strang is principal consists of 275 children, and is the second largest in the county.

WEDDINGS

Miss Lillie Rosette Urie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Urie, of Rock Hall, and Mr. Carl Leon Simmons were maried August seventh by the Rev. Charles L. Venable, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, at his home in Easton. Mr. Simmons is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons, of Cambridge. The young couple will probably establish their home in Salisbury.

A lovely wedding took place on Thursday last at nigh noon when Esther Doris Urie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John David Urie, became the bride of William Dunbar Gould 3rd, of Cambridge, Md. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, only the famlies of the bride and groom being present.

The wedding service was held under a beautiful bower of flowers, by the Rev. Wm. Dunbar Gould, father of the groom, assisted by the Rev. C. L. Atwater. The bride was dressed in white silk and lace and carried a bridal shower bouquet. After a luncheon was served, the bridal couple left by automobile.

The bride is a recent graduate of Columbia University and the groom after graduating at Washington College attended Harvard Law School where he graduated in June, 1924. He is now practicing law in Cambridge.
