DRILLS

"SUPERIOR" the name that tells the true story when applied to Drills. Years of satisfactory seeding service is the record of the Superior.

Then another important feature is the Superior Service. A stock of repairs that meets most every call, right here at your very door, right ready for you if you have a break down.

If you are considering a new drill it will pay you to consider superior QUALITY and SERVICE.

DISC HARROWS

We have these in several sizes, some that only use two horses. This is the "I H C" lines the harrows that have the magnesia steel bearings, the bearings with the long life.

These harrows are no more Expensive than many lighter makes, but they have a long life.

Arrangements have been made to allow all who participate in the line of march to witness the Fire Apparatus and men of the visitors when they pass down High Street the second time.

Was aSuccess

About five hundred people attended the tournament held Saturday near old Shrewsbury church for the benefit of the parish, and for the first time in twenty-two years witnessed a revival of a sport which at one time was a leading event in the county. There were classes for amateurs and professional riders, with the privilege of winners in each class contesting for the final prizes. The winners of the final tilts were George Lee, of Worton, first; Edward Fowler, Knight of Flatland, second; Adam Fowler, of Worton, third and Thomas Fowler, of Worton, fourth. George Lee, the successful knight, crowned Miss Skirven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skirven, of Fairlee, as Queen of Love and Beauty, while Edward Fowler, crowned Miss Emma Legg, maid of honor. Miss Louise Duyer was crowned Queen of Worton. Dr. E. A. Scott delivered the charge to the knights, and Prof. William R. Howell, of the Washington College faculty, delivered the coronation address. The judges were: Dr. Edward A. Scott, of Galena; James Z. Lusby and Dr. R. M. Glack, of Cecil county. Edmund B. Hurtt, of Locust Grove, was chief marshall. The proceeds were for the benefit of Shrewsbury parish and amounted to about $300.

Automobile Thefts

Two automobiles were stolen in Kent county this week, one of which has not been recovered to date.

The Ford car of James Turner, Jr., of Chesterville was stolen but later recovered in Galena and Sheriff Goodman has Charles L. Rianhart and Bernard Wagner in the county jail charged with the theft.

The Ford car of Charles Kessick was stolen from his home in Rock Hall and at the time of going to press no trace of it had been found. In the car was a suitcase with contents valued at about $100.

Won At Timonium

Mr. Purnell Newcomb, of Lynch, one of the leading breeders of highclass Rhode Island Reds of this state, was the biggest winner of all the poultrymen at the recent Timonium Fair. Mr. Newcomb won first, second and third prizes on pullets, hens and cockerels and first on general exhibit. Mr. John Moyett won several prizes at the same exhibit. These Red breeders are well known all over the state.

Elementary School

Departmental work has been introduced this year in the upper grades of the Chestertown Elementary School, and is now in full force, being carried on by the principal and upper grade teachers. This change in the work of the school is a marked progressive step towards raising the standards.

At the end of each month the names of children, who by their conduct in the class rooms, in the corridors on the play grounds, in the lunch room and on the streets, have contributed towards the good citizenship of the school, will be posted on the bulletin boards in the halls of the school.

While the school is open at all times to visitors, one special visiting day a month will be set aside for visitors, when all parents will be asked to visit the different class rooms and note the progress of their children. On these days, only the regular school work will be given. The schools of Buffalo, N. Y., followed this plan last year and recorded seventy thousand visitors during the school year.

Institution Discontinued.

By order of the Circuit Court of Dorchester County the Cambridge Female Seminary, a Maryland corporation, will be dissolved October 5 unless cause for continuance of the institution be shown. Dissolution of the corporation was asked by the County School Board which holds all the stock of the corporation.

The Cambridge Seminary was organized in 1858 and occupied the building now used by Cambridge High School. Use of the building as a seminary was continued until 1890, when it was purchased by the Dorchester School Board and made a part of the public school system. Andrew J. Foble, named as a trustee in the petition to the court, is the son of the president of the seminary and has served as his father's successor since 1882.

FALL OPENING FOR MEN!

Showing the Newest Styles in

Fine Suits and Overcoats

The quality of your Suit or Overcoat cannot be judged by the price you pay. A few manufacturers, by good management and careful buying, are able to place upon the market, garments thas radiate style, quality and distinctiveness, at prices within the reach of the ordinary pocketbook. Curlee and Kirschbaum clothes have long been noted for their exceptional value. In our fall opening we can show you scores of very fine Suits and Overcoats at prices that are below what you ordinarily expect to pay. You are cordially invited to come in and make an inspection.

Articles Needed When Cool Weather Comes

THE last of September marks the coming of autumn. In a few days, no doubt, the evenings will be cool, very cool. Too cool, in fact, for summer garb. Prepare now. Come in and buy the little extras that you will need this fall. You will want a new hat, a sweater, perhaps, and dozens of other articles. We carry Stetson Hats—no more need be said. And too, something should be said about sweaters. We have over fifty from which you may make a selection. Every style and every color is here. All are priced very low. May we see you this week?
