Not Even One Honest Man in French Village

Just as New England has its stories of wooden nutmegs, so France has certain classics revealing the tendency of her countrymen to save pennies now and then at the expense of their fellows.

One of the best concerns a popular village priest. The villagers voted amid great enthusiasm to give him a barrel of their best wine for his birthday. Each of the wine growers was to bring a bottle and empty it into the barrel.

On the appointed day peasant after peasant marched up to the barrel, eulogized the priest, and plunging the nozzle of his green bottle through the bunghole poured its gurgling contents within.

When the last contribution had been made the chairman of the committee made an even longer speech of praise, and drew from the barrel to drink the health of the priest.

To the astonishment of everybody, the glass contained only clear water. Each farmer had assumed that the other would bring the wine.

Speed Contests That Are Not on Record

An exciting contest took place recently between a motorcyclist and an express train along the 500 miles between Sydney and Brisbane, Australia. The lone cyclist won, reaching his destination 30 minutes before the train. A kangaroo raced a train in Australia, keeping alongside the locomotive for three miles, according to Tit-Bits.

Perhaps the most grotesque railway races have been on occasions when members of the crews have had to race their own trains, after having signaled the train to proceed and then being unable to board any of the cars. One man in England gave the "right away" signal and then found the train had gathered speed so quickly that he was unable to board it.

His absence was not discovered until the next station was reached.

After several minutes the guard was seen sprinting after the train. He lost the race by 11 minutes. Another guard missed his train, but pursued it on a motorcycle which he commandeered.

Dig Up Martyrs of 1684

An ancient coffin was recently unearthed in the Townhead district of Glasgow which contained the skeletonized remains of a man. The coffin was found some 15 feet behind the well-known Martyrs' monument, which fronts Castle street, a circumstance that gave rise to the theory that the remains were those of one of the three men—James Nisbet, James Lawson and Alexander Wood—who were martyred in 1684. The excavation process has disclosed only one grave, and it is suggested that the remains may be buried near the monument erected in 1818 and renewed in 1862. The three martyrs commemorated by the monument were apparently originally laid to rest in a piece of ground now of triangular shape situated behind James Nisbet street, but no longer marked as a spot of sanctity or sepulcher.—London Mail.

Eruption of Mount Pelee

Mt. Pelee is an active volcano on the northwestern side of Martinique, an island in the West Indies belonging to France. Notable eruptions of Mt. Pelee occurred in 1762, 1851, 1902 and 1906. During the eruption of May 8, 1902, a giant rock 1,000 feet high was forced out through the crateral dome. The town of St. Pierre was completely destroyed and between 25,000 and 30,000 people were killed. In the fall of the same year another eruption partly destroyed Morne Rouge and killed about 2,000 people. —Pathfinder Magazine.

He Wasn't Fired

One morning an invoice clerk turned up at his office even later than usual. His employer, tired of waiting for him, had himself gone about the work. The enraged merchant laid his pen aside very deliberately.

"Mr. Jones," he said, sternly, "this will not do!"

"No, sir," replied Jones, glancing over his employer's shoulder, "it will not. You have made these invoices out to the wrong people. Far better to have waited till I came!"

Hester English

Hester English was a Frenchwoman by extraction, and she was eminent for her fine chirography in the time of Queen Elizabeth and James I. Many of her performances are still extant, both in the public libraries and in the hands of individuals. She was thought the most exquisite writer of her age. She married, at the age of forty, Bartholomew Kello, a North Briton, and had a son, who was educated at Oxford and was minister at Speckshall, in Suffolk.—Chicago Journal.

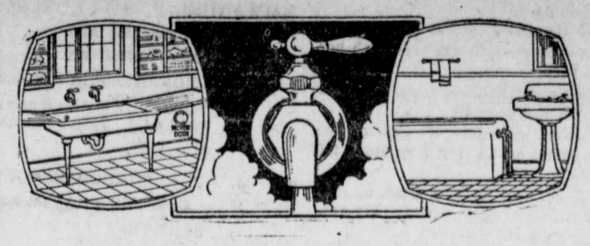

Making Real Pearls

Japanese pearls formed by an oyster round a nucleus of mother-of-pearl can now be definitely told from real pearls by spectrography with monochromatic X-ray waves. The mother-of-pearl center in the Japanese pearls produces a definite figure arrangement not unlike the Lane figures, while the real pearl shows a definite unstriated series of rings. The difference between the simple structure of the true pearl and the double structure of the Japanese-grown pearl can be immediately recognized.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day, lucky jewel

PENELOPE

FOREMOST among the names which literature has made immortal is Penelope. It means weaver and its history is one of the most interesting in feminine nomenclature.

There are numerous explanations of its origin. Some etymologists claim that it came originally from the Irish Finnghuala (white shoulders) which, though softened to Fenella, was later translated into Penelope. It is to this that we owe the numerous Penelopes of England, beginning with the Irish Penelope Devereux with whom is connected the one shade on Sidney's character.

The more common explanation of Penelope connects her with Ulysees' faithful queen who sat day after day before her loom while the hero of the "Odyssey" wandered the seven seas. This explanation makes Penelope a weaver in truth; another account claims that she had been exposed as an infant and owed her life to a kind of duck whom the Greeks called penelops.

The carnelian is Penelope's talismanic stone. It is the gem of faithfulness and of a trusting, loving heart. It is said that no love doubts will come to her when she wears this stone. Tuesday is her lucky day and 5 her lucky number.

STOP THAT BACKACHE!

Many Chestertown Folks Have Found the Way.

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this Chestertown resident says:

Elmer Newton, 403 N. Cannon St., says: "If I took cold it settled in my kidneys and caused backache that interferred with my work. I also had frequent headaches and my kidneys acted irregularly, too. I used Doan's Pills from Sterling's Drug Store and they soon strengthened my back and kidneys." (Statement given January 26, 1921.)

On June 4, 1925 Mr. Newton said: "Doan's Pills have always rid me of kidney trouble. All I said in my previous statement holds good today."
