THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

The young lady across the way says the quiet victims of melancholia are the ones to be watched and she doesn't believe there's a person living who threatened to commit suicide and really did.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

MORE PRETENDERS

IN ALL communities there is a class of men and women who cannot stand up straight and put a name upon their actions. If you will take time to scrutinize them closely, you will find that they float through life like chips on the waters, governed in their movements by the whims of the tides and winds.

They nod an indifferent good-day to failures, which in their lives have a habit of coming often, and quite as supinely put out a listless hand to welcome opportunity, not concerned in the least whether it shall remain or soar away.

To these people nothing assumes importance but their pretentious selves and their unsought opinions, which usually are as threadbare as the tattered garments of a mendicant.

Being the mere pretenders that they are, they are their own court, judge and jury, oblivious to criticism and strangely indifferent to the scorn of good society.

From acquired habit they puff out their breasts, disregard all accepted laws of propriety and go parading through life as if they were specially privileged to embarrass and humiliate their fellow-beings.

Their behavior forms a sort of background which is recognized at first glance by the unassuming, well-educated and cultured as supremely artificial and brazen.

So thinking and so acting they contaminate everything they touch.

No man or woman of earnest intentions can come in contact with these pretenders without experiencing a feeling of disgust which sometimes is tinged with genuine sorrow.

If kindly suggestions should be proffered, these wretched hypocrites turn on their heels in mock civility, bow themselves out and continue their foolish course in proud disdain.

Like dolls stuffed with sawdust, they make excellent playthings for children, but are of no material use to men and women who are waging the serious battle of life, performing nobly their role in the affairs of the world, humble in their attitude towards one another, encouraging and consoling the true-hearted, but constantly frowning upon sham.

Mother's Cook Book

Oh, do you know the woods in the wonder of the morn?
White mists breaking,
A million voices waking,
Ev'ry tree top reaching to the glow of the dawn
Blazoning o'er heaven that soul of earth is born.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

A SALAD which is easy to prepare and usually easy to assemble in any season is:

Any-Day Salad.

Take two cupfuls of diced apples, one cupful of finely diced celery, one-half cupful of minced ripe olives and one-fourth of a cupful of walnut meats chopped. Add salad dressing and mix well; serve on crisp lettuce.

Braised Liver.

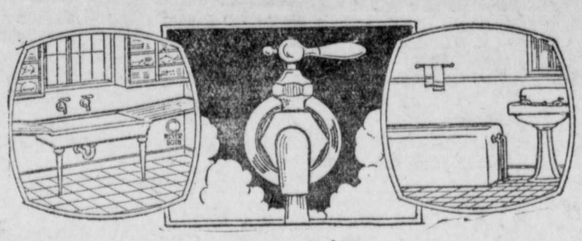

Wash two pounds of fresh liver and flour well, seasoning with salt, pepper and a little lemon juice. Lay in a casserole, add two sliced onions and six carrots shredded lengthwise, a bay leaf, a sprinkling of parsley, and a pint of boiling water. Place thin slices of bacon over all; cover tightly and bake for an hour and a half, then remove the cover, baste and brown for ten minutes. Serve with chili sauce or tomato.

Ripe Pear Salad.

Cut ripe pears into halves, scoop out the core with a potato scoop, leaving a good-sized perfectly round cavity. Make cream cheese into balls seasoning with lemon juice, cayenne, and add a little cream to soften. Roll into balls, dust with paprika. Fill each cavity with a ball. Arrange the pears on lettuce and serve with French dressing to which some of the pear juice has been added. Muskmelons and bananas may be served in the same manner, using a scoop to shape the balls of the fruit, and arrange on lettuce.

Among the NOTABLES

SUMNER KIMBALL

SUMNER INCREASE KIMBALL was the man who first conceived and organized the life-saving service. He is responsible, primarily, for the saving of thousands and thousands of lives.

He was born in Maine September 2, 1834, and, like most of the "brainy" men of the period, studied law. Politics appealed to him, however, and he was elected to the house of representatives in his state, being by far the youngest man of that body. After a while he entered the revenue cutter service, and then began the work that was to make him one of the great men of the world—work far better known than his name or connection with it.

At that time, there were a very few rough sheds along the coast built to shelter small boats. These were for the convenience of any fisherman who might feel able to get out to sea and rescue people from wrecked ships. The nominal keepers of these places lived miles from them frequently, and the service was not of much use.

By 1878 Kimball had disciplined crews on all ocean and Great Lake fronts; had organized a patrol system, signals and telephonic connections; had men trained to resuscitate half-drowned persons, and was rapidly building up what is now the best life-saving service in the world. A separate bureau was created for it on a strictly non-partisan basis. Each year sees new improvements being made.

STOP THAT BACKACHE!

Many Chestertown Folks Have Found the Way.

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this Chestertown resident says:

Elmer Newton, 403 N. Cannon St., says: "If I took cold it settled in my kidneys and caused backache that interferred with my work. I also had frequent headaches and my kidneys acted irregularly, too. I used Doan's Pills from Sterling's Drug Store and they soon strengthened my back and kidneys." (Statement given January 26, 1921.)

On June 4, 1925 Mr. Newton said: "Doan's Pills have always rid me of kidney trouble. All I said in my previous statement holds good today."
