Telephone Pioneers

President Ben S. Read and President-elect H. B. Thayer, with Telephone Pioneers of America at Washington's tomb, Mount Vernon.

The Twelfth Annual Convention of the Telephone Pioneers of America—men and women with more than twenty-one years of telephone service—was held in Washington, October 16 and 17. More than 2,000 members from the United States and Canada were present.

Many of the pioneers, who attended the convention, have seen the industry grow from a few telephones to 16,000,000 in this country alone. From "Watson, come here, I want you," the words spoken by Alexander Graham Bell to Thomas A. Watson on March 10, 1876, has come the national service that makes about 50,000,000 calls daily in the United States.

In 1876 there was less than 90 feet of wire connecting two telephone instruments. Today there are 40,000,000 miles of wire connected with the Bell system, 67 per cent. of which is underground.

At the executive session of the pioneers convention the first day, H. B. Thayer, chairman of the board of directors, A. T. & T. Co., New York, was elected president for 1926 with F A. Stevenson director Long Lines Department, A. T. and T. Co., New York, senior vice-president, and J. S. McCulloh, president New York Telephone Company; M. B. Jones, president New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, Boston, and J. E. McDonald, secretary-treasurer, Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company, Denver, vice-presidents. R. H. Starrett, secretary and Frank Powell, treasurer, of New York, were reappointed for 1926.

On Saturday, the second day of the convention, Mr. Thayer addressed the organization on the spirit of the Pioneers, emphasizing the fact that the aims of the organization were to glorify the men and women, who had brought the telephone industry to its present high standard of efficiency and to help "carry on" to future Pioneers the spirit of their predecessors.

The meeting was brought to a successful close with an entertainment by Alexander Graham Bell Chapter, which includes telephone men and women of the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. Moving pictures of events happening during the convention, tableaux of important periods in telephone history and a moving picture with explanation in dialogue by Frederick T. Iddings, engineer's assistant, The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, Baltimore and Miss Virginia Trullinger, of Washington, were features.

Old Pipe, we're pals for keeps

SIX months ago, Old Pipe, we were headed for absolute divorce. We were wrecked on the twin rocks of Tongue Bite and Throat Parch. I tried tobacco after tobacco. Then . . . I found Prince Albert!

Today, Old Pipe, you're closer to me than a tattooed anchor. P. A. made you sweet and cool as the wind from a laden orchard. P. A. led me out of the hot-pipe desert into the pleasant valley of contented smokers. Comfort fell upon me . . . and it was welcome as rain to a dusty frog.

Say good-bye to worry, you fellows who don't yet know the joys of a jimmy-pipe and P. A. Tell gloom to be on its way. Your first fragrant pipeful will give you a 99-year lease on happiness. Prince Albert is the mildest, sweetest, kindest smoke mortal man ever knew.

Prince Albert gives you a lot more for your money in quantity as well as quality. There are TWO full ounces in every tin of P. A. The U. S. revenue stamp shows you that. Make a break now for the nearest shop where they hand out pipe-peace in tidy red tins.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Look at the U. S. revenue stamp—there are TWO full ounces in every tin.
