—Fruitless discussion for many days on ways to draft a new wage contract brought an end to the anthracite conference Wednesday. This means continuance of the strike of 158,000 men and boys indefinitely. There appears to be no way out unless the Federal Government tries its hand at mediation. Outwardly, there has not been the slightest intimation that Washington is ready to step in.

—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Third National Bank was held Weduesday. The following directors were reelected: T. Benjamin Durding, Samuel J. Johnson, Andrew W. Wilson, W. B. Copper, Thomas G. Wroth, P. Medford Brooks, G. Ellsworth Leary Ellsworth G. Bowers, H. Stockton Startt and Thomas D. Bowers. All of the officers were also reelected.
