SUDLERSVILLE CHILD SCALDED

Prompt and efficient action on the part of Miss Evelyn Knotts, of Sudlersville, who had just returned to the home of her parents, following her graduation at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, probably saved the life of Price Cronshaw, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cronshaw, of near Barclay. While playing in the kitchen of the Cronshaw home with an older brother the lad accidentally upset a kettle of boiling water, and a large quantity of the scalding fluid struck him about the body. He was rushed to Sudlersville, but Dr. C. H. Metcalfe was in Elkton attending court. Miss Knotts responded to the call and in a few minutes had rendered skillful first aid, relieving the injuries very effectively.
