The following new books have been added to the Chestertown Public Library:

The Eternal Cirlce, by William J. Hudson.

Queer Judson, by Joseph Lincoln.

The Red Pirogue, by Theodore Roberts.

Soames Green, by Margaret Larminnie.

Three Farms, by Cynthia Stockley.

Andrew Bride of Paris, by Henry Harrison.

The Strolling Saint, by Raefael Sabatni.

The Runaway Bag, by Albert Terhune.

Romeo in Moon Village, by G. B McCutcheon.

Skookum Chuck, by G. Edward White.

Barberry Gate, by Jane Abbott.

—Corn prices are low, "hogs are high." This puzzles, farmers and packers. Corn and hog prices should go up and down together, since the pig is really corn changed into meat. There is always something to puzzle and distress the farmer. He has no sufficient national organization, and after election day he hasn't much influence in government, compared with railroads and other big financial units.

LOCAL MATTERS

—The ducking season closed Saturday and was the most unsuccessful in this section in many years.

—Prof. Hunt Vantier delivered the fourth lecture of the year in the Court House Monday evening.

—Mr. Thomas G. Wroth has sold the large dwelling on High street near Kent, to William H. Cooper. Price $3,200

—Jones & Satterfield are re-modeling and enlarging their store room on Cross St., to accommodate their rapidly growing business.

—The Young Men's Bible Class of the Chestertown M. E. Church will give a minstrel and musical show in the Lyceum Theatre on March 1.

—Terrific gales swept Kent and the Eastern Shore Wednesday night, blowing down trees and doing considerable damage in a general way.

—Col. C. E. Woods, rural route carrier on Route 3 from Chestertown, has retired from service. Mr. Ridgely Brown has been appointed to fill the position.

—Chester Lodge A. F. and A. M. will hold a banquet Tuesday evening, Feb. 16, at Washington College. Grand Master Warren S. Seip, will be present and address the assembly.

—The sale of the sixteen-acre farm in the First Election District, advertised by Wm. Frazier Russell, Esq., attorney for owner, was withdrawn by the attorney Tuesday, and can be purchased at private sale from Mr. Russell.

—The Kent passenger train demolished the automobile of Mr. Tilden C Hadaway yesterday morning at the crossing to Mr. John Gale Usilton's farm. No one was injurned. Mr. George Hadaway, the owner's son was driving the car.

—Last week a horse owned by John W. Smith, of near Sudlersville, died and according to a veterinarian, death was caused by the animal having eaten a quantity of dry musty straw which was of a poisonous nature. A short time ago Fred Stevens, of near Crumpton, lost two from the same cause.

—"Congressman J. Charles Linthicum will be glad to send a copy of the latest Agricultural Yearbook (1924 edition) to anyone interested in reading this valuable book. Representing a City District, he has few calls from his own constituents for this book. Address him—House of Representatives, Washington, D. C."

—The cold weather apparently cooled Cupid's ardor at Maryland's Gretna Green last week, only fifty-eight couples obtaining marriage licenses, compared with an average of over seventy. Three couples were refused licenses—one couple on account of color and the other two because the prospective groom was under the legal age.

—"Booty" Conrad, who escaped from the Maryland Boys School about two weeks ago, was captured last week by Sheriff Hopkins just below Bruceville. This boy got in some trouble a short time ago and was sent away to the school. He effected his escape but enjoyed his freedom but a few weeks. He was picked up by Chestertown people Tuesday of last week and brought here.

—Members of the Delmarvia Press Association, comprising newspaper publishers from all sections of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, the Eastern Shore of Virginia and Delaware, met in Wilmington Saturday for the annual convention of the organization. An interesting program had been arranged and the newspapermen were entertained at noon at a luncheon in Hotel DuPont. Edwin H. Brown, Jr., publisher of the Centreville Record, is president of the Delmarvia Assiciation.

—Kent dairymen have been notified that a reduction in the price of milk takes place this month. This is not really a reduction but a return to the price in vogue prior to November 16 last. At that date the price was boosted up 23 cents for a short time, but it was stated at the time that the market probably would not warrant the raise for any length of time. This time of the year there is generally a surplus of milk. This speaks well of the dairymen, who have studied the business sufficient to keep the milk supply near normal even in cold weather.

ORPHANS' COURT NOTES

Tuesday, February 2nd, 1926, Court met pursuant to adjournment with Hon. Edward A. Scott, Chief Judge and Hons. J. Henry Thompson and W. K. Hudson, Associate Judges.

The first and final admr. acct. of M. E. Newsome, admr. of estate of Daniel Ruth, deceased, filed, examined and approved.

The first and final admr. acct. of Harry A. Bolton, admr., of estate of Ellen Bordley, colored, deceased, filed, examined and approved.

Notice of caveat to the will of Robert N. Boston, deceased, filed by S. Scott Beck, attorney for Robert Leon Boston, filed, and ordered to be recorded.

ANOTHER JAIL DELIVERY HERE

Not satisfied with escaping through the bars of the side window of the Kent county jail here, two negroes tore a hole through the brick wall under the same window and escaped on Friday morning at about three o'clock.

These negroes were in the jail for larceny and were being held for the April term of Court. About twenty inmates occupied the jail when the delivery was made, these, however made no attempt to get away. Immediately upon the discovery of the escape of the men, Sheriff Goodman and his deputy went in search for the men. At the time of going to press the fugitives had not been apprehended.
