WEDDINGS

At five o'clock on Saturday afternoon. January 30, 1926, old historical St. Paul's P. E. Church of Kent county Maryland, its colonial structure of red brick, over-run with English Ivy, and surrounded by giant oaks and massive evergreen. became the scene of one of the most attractive weddings to take place in Kent county this year.

This old Puritan church was made to look even more colonial by the simple but most beautiful of all decorations, candles. To each pew-end was attached a miniature colonial column about six feet high, around which artistically climbed ivy. Atop of each column was a lighted candle and the side walls, chancel and alter were also aglow Banked in between and behind the many candle sticks and rare old candle labras were evergreens and cut flowers. In this setting with the soft mellow tones of the organ thru out the ceremony, Miss Angelin Bard Skirven, the attractive and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Skirven, became the bride of Mr. William Belt Townshend, a prominent young business man of Chestertown, Maryland and son of Mrs. Lottie Evans Townshend and the late Sydney P Townshend.

The bride was preceded up the aisle by the four ushers, Mr. Charles A. Skirven, her brother; Mr. Willis Usilton, Mr. John Townshend. brother of the groom; and Mr. Frank Connelly. Following the ushers came Miss Helen Blackiston, a cousin of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Blackiston wore powder blue gorgette crepe and carried pink sweet peas; following her came little Miss Margaret Anne Brice as flower girl; this dainty little Miss was dressed in pink with picture hat and carried a basket of spring flowers; next followed the bride on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The bride's gown was of white crepe romaine, trimmed with rose-point lace She wore a veil with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair fern.

The bride was met at the alter by the groom and his best man, Mr. Rolph Townshend, a brother, and the Rev. Mr. C. L. Atwater, rector of Emmanuel Church, Chestertown, who officiated, the usual impressive Episcopal service being used.

Immediately after the ceremony a buffett supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, Caulk's Field Farm, Mr. and Mrs. Townshend leaving shortly afterwards, among the usual hilarity, for a honey-moon to points north.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's Seminary, also a member of Old Kent Chapter D. A. R. and enjoys a host of friends throughout this and adjoining counties.

A few of the out-of-county guests who attended the wedding were Mrs. Anne Pennington Trott, of Wilmington; Mrs. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wills and Mr. and Mrs. Reindollar, of Baltimore.

FINDS A CRIPPLED DEER

While several men were walking along the shore of Furnace creek, Cecil County, they noticed a buck deer on the ice, near Poplar Point, this county, with a broken leg. They notified District Deputy Game Warden John Anderson of Cecilton, by 'phone, who went there with an auto-truck and removed the injured animal to his home, and will ship it to the State Game Reserve, if it recovers. During the past several years quite a number of deer have been reported seen in various parts of this county, especially in the southwestern section, near Principio Furnace. About a year ago, a deer was killed along the road in that vicinity by an automobile; the deer running in front of the machine. There is no open season in this country for deer; in fact practically all sportmen are interested in the propagation of

THE FIRE COMPANY BUSY

The local fire company was particularly busy on Wednesday evening during the near-hurricane which swept over this section. The cyclonic wind threshed the wires about and started several fires, all of which were extinguished without any considerable damage.

Christ Methodist Protestant Church Turner's garage, the home of J. Waters Russell and the office of the Bacchus Coal Company were among the places catching. The loss to the service companies from fallen wires will amount to several hundred dollars. The church chimney caught afire while services were being held and the fire company played water over the church until the danger was past.

I want to thank the public in general—out of town customers in particular—for their wonderful patronage you bestowed on my store during our seven-day sale which closed Saturday night, January 30th.

It has never been our policy to describe our merchandise in lurid language. We have always had too much respect for the common sense of the people on whom we depend for our patronage.

The success of this sale and our store is largely attributed to the straightforward, honest policy which has governed our relations with our customers. Statements that will not bear the right of reason will never be tolerated—nor have they during this sale. This is the platform on which we have conducted our business. And in the future as in the past our aim will be to serve you with the same quality merchandise at the lowest possible price.

I thank you.
