THE TRANSCRIPT

MARCH 1ST MEANS the coming of spring and the starting of the year on the farm. Let us all mark this date as the beginning of a booster year for Kent Conty. To make it a booster year we must all get behind the county and push. Forget the hardships of the past, keep our hard luck stories to our selves, and shout our success to the world. A community is only what the people make it, and it is within the power of the residents of this county to push it forward or hold it back. Mr. Robert E. M Cowie, president of the American Railway Company, said at a meeting of the Salisbury Chamber of Commeree, "In traveling through this peninsula, I find that if you are making any mistake at the present time, it is that you are not blowing enough about this splendid section of the country." Let us adopt some of the western blow, talk success and forget failure and watch Kent County forge ahead. We have all the assets of a most successful and progressive community, let us make the most of them and enjoy the prosperity that is due us.

THE TOWNS WILL CO-OPERATE

A plan is being worked out by business men and property owners in all the larger towns in Kent county whereby, through co-operation each town may secure adequate fire protection at a minimum cost. It is proposed to divide the county into two "fire protection" zones, with Chestertown and Millington as centers, these two towns already having well-equipped fire companies and powerful fire trucks. Tach town concerned in the movement will be asked to install such apparatus as can be used in connection with Chestertown and Millington trucks by members of the two fire companies. In the Chestertown one will be Rock Hall, Still Pond, Betterton and probably Kennedyville, while the Millington zone will include Massey, Sudlersville, Crumpton and probably Galena.

FIRE DESTROYS COUNTY HOME

Fire, which started from a defective flue, completely destroyed the home of Captain and Mrs. Wright Dill, in Hanesville, four miles from Chestertown on Sunday at about 4 p. m., together with most of the contents, causing an estimated loss of $3,000, with partial insurance. Capt. and Mrs. Dill were visiting neighbors and knew nothing of it until Capt. Dill noticed flames breaking through the roof. The place was in ruins by the time the Chestertown Fire Company reached the scene Capt. Dill, a dealer in antiques lost a valuable lot of furniture and glass ware. The house belonged to Edward Jewell, of Baltimore, who carried insurance of $1,000. The contents were only partially insured.
