LILTS 'O LOVE AND LEAUGHTR

By JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

THE BETTER WAY

We who read the newspapers, we have seen it lately stated
Some judge somewhere tells all the world no man is obligated To dodge a hefty motor car which down the road comes scooting;
And when we read it first we almost said: "Now you are hooting!"
We almost made our mind up that the next swift car that tooted
Would find us standing on our rights, as though we there were rooted;
But just then a big car bore down and
tooted, just to try us,
And we jumed up so high that it went under us and by us.
And we've been jumping ever since when big cars threatened bumping:
The car that ever lands on us will have to catch us jumping; We're kinda old and kinda fat, but you pull out the stopper
On your old horn and you will see u outjump a grasshopper.
We might stand still upon our rights
and start to raise a rumpus, But where would all our rights go to when a big car should bump us?
We'd rather hop to every hoot, to th
end of endurance,
Than hold a lily while our wife splurged on our life insurance.

SEASON UNSUCCESSFUL

KENT TRAPPERS HAVE HAD LITTLE SUCCESS THIS YEAR ON MARSHES

With the end of the muskrat season but a short distance away, persons interested in the industry are beginning to figure up what the "crop" will bring this year to Kent and how results compare with seasons of former years.

During the greater part of the trapping season, which began January 1 here has been complaint that the atch was poor as compared with former years.

Some are inclined to the belief that he Eastern Shore 'marsh rabbit" faced extinction for the same reason as he Chesapeake Bay oyster, namely hat too many had been caught, hough others still have thoupht that few years ago a numper of rats died rom some cause unknown even to hose who have spent their lives traping them.

A great part of January, when most f the trapping is usually done, condiions for taking the rats were unusualy bad, owing to snow and ice covering he marshes where the rats live.

One of the large buyers declares the atch of rats this season will be about hree-fifths of that of last year, but he cash value of the crop will run a ittle better because of the higher price f pelts, which are now bringing from 1.60 to $1.65, according to quality.

In spite or the poor season generally ome Kent trapeprs report an average eason, and that there are plenty of ats but trapping conditions have been ad due to frozen marshes. One trapper recently caught two coons for hich he received $16.00.

WHITE MUSKRAT IN CECIL

A white muskrat, caught by William P. McConnell on the marsh on his farm, along the Port Penn road, about a mile from Delaware City, was shown in that town for several days. It was supposed to have been the first ever caught in that vicinity or perhaps in the State. It was reported entirely white, even to its feet considerably larger than the grown or black ones and with no long hair protruding out from its fur. White spotted ones mostly marked on their backs, are caught at times. Whether this entirely white one's fur will bring a special price, Mr. McConnell will learn when he offers it for sale with others of the season's catch.

New Method Quickly Banishes Heavy Coughs

Why be annoyed and weakened by persistent, strength-sapping coughing spells when you can, through a very simple treatment, quickly stop all irritation and very often banish the trouble entirely in 24 hours?

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. Thus, with the throat soothed and cleared, coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for
