UNBAFFLED BY STORM.

During the heavy wind storm of last week, a hen house, 20x50 feet, belonging to Mr. E. K. Chism, one of our progressive poultry raisers of Quaker Neck, was blown twenty feet off its foundation and rolled down a bank into Lankford Bay.

Mr. Chism, failing to be discouraged by this unfortunate occurance, made a temporary hen house out of a wagon shed, moved his poultry in and kept up his egg production.

MAY TRY CECIL CASE HERE

The Cecil murder case may be tried here in April. The March grand jury of the Circuit Court for Cecil County spent the greater part of Monday examining witnesses in the Yeamans murder case and then brought in a true bill of indictment. "Sam," alias Alvin, Downham, of Elk Mills, who is under arrest, charged with the murder of Franklin Edwin Yeamans' a taxicab driver of North East, has notified States Attorney Joshua Clayton, of Elkton, he would ask a change of venue. He will probably be brought into Court next week. Downham is in the Baltimore City Jail.

NEGRO HANGS AT GEORGETOWN

Five thousand or more people were in Georgetown Friday when Harry Butler, colored, aged 21 years, was hanged for his felonious assault upon Elinora Steinmetz, aged ten years near her home on a farm not far from Bridgeville on January 21. Religious services were conducted in the jail instead of having them on the scaffold with the doomed man standing on the trap as is sometimes done. Rev. Henry Y. Arnett, a minister of Wilmington, was spiritual comforter to Butler and walked with him from his cell to the scaffold. The body was viewed, it is said by 4,000 people, who had arrived for the hanging from all parts of Delaware and Maryland.

Contest begins March 1—ends March 31
You do not have to own a radio set to enter this contest.

BOYS! Here is your chance to win a big cash prize just by writing a good essay!

First prize is $1,000—enough to buy an automobile—a six weeks' trip to Europe—or to pay your college tuition for four years.

Then there are five prizes of $200 each. Just think—$200 will buy a brand-new first-class motorcycle—or a saxophone, bicycle and camping outfit—and still leave spending money.

In addition there are 260 other prizes ranging from $100 to $5—all well worth competing for.

These 266 prizes aggregating $5,000 are being offered by the Radio Corporation of America for the best essays on radio broadcasting written by boys from 12 to 18 years of age. Don't do any writing until you come in and learn the particulars of the contest.

Come in after school—or in the evening. Come in at lunch hour. We'll be glad to tell you all about this contest—tell you what you must do in order to win a prize.
