SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

An unusual use of telephone service was recently demonstrated in Richmond, Va., when J. C. Lawrence, president of a large rubber company, "attended" a conference in that city by long distance telephone from Chicago.

Mr. Lawrence was unable to reach Richmond in time to attend a salesmen's conference in the offices of Richard Gwathmey & Co., local distributors for his firm, because of a train wreck. Not wishing to delay the conference, he immediately arranged with the telephone company for a long distance line to Richmond.

The telephone company arranged for a quick installation of special apparatus, including eleven headsets, at Richmond, the headsets being so connected that each man at the conference could hear Mr. Lawrence from Chicago.

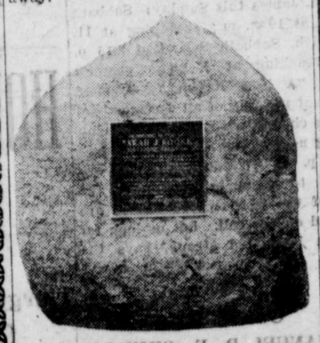

The conference was conducted by E. C. Toone, secretary-treasurer of the Richmond Company. Mr. Toone conversed with Mr. Lawrence, and then Mr. Lawrence made his talk, which continued for forty-seven minutes. All the salesmen heard clearly, and the conference was considered as successful as if Mr. Lawrence had been there in person. All questions of the salesmen were relayed by Mr. Toone, as he was the only member of the conference in Richmond equipped to talk to Mr. Lawrence.

It is believed that this is the first conference held over so long a telephone circuit, and requiring special facilities. Its importance was due to the fact that the Richmond company was making its annual special drive for business, and Mr. Lawrence wanted to discuss the rubber situation with them.

OPERATOR IS HONORED FOR HEROIC ACTION

Sarah J. Rooke, a Folsom (New Mexico) telephone operator, who perished in the flood waters of the Cimarron River, has been honored by her former associates who have placed a monument to her memory.

Miss Rooke, an operator employed by the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company, stayed at the switchboard during a severe flood, warning people of the approaching danger, and thus lost her life that others might live. While nineteen people were drowned, hundreds were saved by the heroic action of this brave telephone girl who stuck to her post until the building was carried away.

A rough granite boulder, mounted at her grave, bears a bronze tablet with this inscription:

In Honored Memory of
SARAH J. ROOKE
Telephone Operator
Who Perished in the Flood Waters of The Dry Cimarron at Folsom, N. M., August 27, 1908,
While at Her Switchboard Warning Others of Their Danger.

AMERICA'S WORLD LEADERSHIP

According to statistics collected by the National Industrial Conference Board ,the United States produces over one-half of the world's copper; almost two-thirds of the world's pig-iron; nearly three-fourths of the world's petroleum; over one-half of the world's cotton and almost one-half of the world's lumber.

It supplies more than 43 per cent of the world's coal; nearly 60 per cent of the world's steel ingots and castings and 57.4 per cent of the world's paper.

That the United States, with only about 5 per cent of the world's area and only six per cent of the world's population, should hold this commanding ecommic position is not due to its vast natural resources alone. Its supremacy is not mere accident, nor is it a mere coincidence that with its economic leadership goes a leadership in the development of all forms of communication facilities upon which industrial and commercial progress is vitally dependent.

There are in the United States approximately 10,000 telephone companies, of which some 9,000 have connecting arrangements with the Bell System for the interchange of toll traffic. In addition, there are a large number of rural lines which do not rate as companies. Of these, more than 28,000 connect with the Bell System.

BACK BAD TODAY?

Then Find the Cause and Correct It As Other Chestertown Folks Have.

There's little rest or peace for the backache sufferer.
Days are tired and weary—
Night brings no respite.
Urinary troubles, headaches, dizziness and nervousness, all tend to prevent rest or sleep.
Why continue to be so miserable?
Why not use a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys?
Use Doan's Pills.
Your neighbors recommend Doan's.
Read this Chestertown case:

Mrs. Bertie Crouch, 111 S. College Avt., says: "I had such a miserable ache across my back I wasn't able to be on my feet. There was no let-up to my suffering day or night. Headaches almost drove me frantic and I was dizzy, too. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Pills from Hudson's Drug Store and they quickly stopped the trouble."
