You have heard it—"they are all good automobiles"—

THE impression that all cars sold at approximately the same price give approximately the same results, never was less true than today.

There are now two ways of building motor cars. One is to forget quality and build cars for trading purposes. The cost of production is cut to the bone, so that dealers may offer you more than the market value for your used car.

The Buick way is to build for quality's sake—to give owners a better new car full of value—with every modern feature.

Compare Buick design to that of other cars of the same or higher list price, and fix Buick superiority firmly in your mind, before you spend your money.
