LINDSAY DAMAGE CASE

An interesting point in the suit of Samuel Lindsay against Harry F. White and the Shore Transit Company was decided by Judge Joseph N. Ulman in the Superior Court of Baltimore May 15th. This case is a claim for damages against the defendants for causing the death of Harriett Lindsay, when she was struck by one of their trucks on the streets of Chestertown November 23rd last.

The defendants undertook to settle the case by entering a judgment in their favor on the strength of a release they claimed they had obtained from Samuel Lindsay. The Judge struck this judgment out on the ground that it had been obtained in a loose and irregular manner. The case will be tried now on its merits before a jury at a later date. Lindsay, the plaintiff was represented by Messrs. Morris K. Barroll and John W. Barroll. The Shore Transit Co. and Harry F. White were represented by Wm. Frazier Russell, Jr., and Harrison W. Vickers, Esqs.

SPORTING NOTES

WASHINGTON LOSES TO MARYLAND AND DEFEATS EASTON PROFESSIONALS

Washington College defeated Buck Herzog's Eastern Shore League team candidates at Easton Monday to the tune of 3 to 1 in 12 innings. Bennett had Easton at his mercy and pitched straight ball all through the game. Jeffries started off for Easton and had splendid control. He was taken two in the fourth when LeFleur batted for him. Burcher went in and in the sixth hit two men, gave two passes to first and then a single scored a run. Easton scored its run in the eighth when Mackey singled and scored on an out a pass and a steal. In the twelfth Dudley's error gave Dumshott a lift. Fitzpatrick singled, sending Dumshott to third. Cavanaugh rolled to second and was retired at first, but Smoot singled to right, scoring Dumshott, Galvin's long fly to left scored Fitzpatrick.

Undiscouraged by Jack Dempsey's previous rejection of an $800,000 offer in preference to signing with Tex Rickard for a heavy-weight title bout this year, Tom O'Rourke, veteran promoter, on Tuesday announced, on behalf of a New York syndicate, an offer of $1,000,000 to the champion for a match with Harry Wills. O'Rourke declared that $250,000 of this sum would be posted in Dempsey's name with any holding agent as soon as the champion signed articles to meet the Negro challenger and be forfeited in case the fight failed to come off. The remainder, he said, would be posted forty-eight hours before the fight. In addition, Dempsey would be guaranteed fifty per cent. of all gate receipts in excess of $200,000.

Speaking of Mike Thompson, who at one time was athletic director at Washington College "The Sun" said recently: Mike Thompson, is one of the most versatile officials in American sports. He has handled some of the most important events in this country during the last 20 years, and helped put track athletics on a firm basis in this section.

Thompson, who lives at Emmitsburg, is connected with Mount St. Mary's College and is president of the Frederick County Baseball League. He has refereed the Army-Navy football game many times, and Harvard and Yale have named him as chief official for their classic upon several occasions. Pop Warner and Andy Smith, respective coaches at Stanford University and University of California, paid the official a compliment when he was sent from Maryland to California to referee one of the most important gridiron battles on the Coast.

Mike has handled other sports. He was named to succeed Tim Hurst in 1909 as American League umpire, but declined the appointment. He has refereed basketball games, and organized the first Georgetown meet which developed into one of the biggest annual events on the track program. He helped local officials in putting across the first important meet in the Fifth Regiment Armory.

After defeating Easton on last Monday, Washington College baseball team journeyed to Salisbury on the following day with the firm intention of annexing another victory to their string. The Salisbury Eastern Shore Club, however, proved too strong for them in this contest and they were defeated by the score of 8 to 0. The Washington College team was away off in their batting, or else the pitching of the Salisbury hurlers was too much for them, and they failed to hit safely but twice during the contest.

Carroll was on the mound for Washington and was punded pretty hard throughout the game, but was allowed to remain during the entire contest.

From these two contests, one would judge that Salisbury has the far superior team of the Eastern Shore League and that Washington was about as good as the average Eastern Shore League team, which we have always contended. However, more games might make an altogether different conclusion to be reached.

The University of Maryland baseball team proved far two strong for Washington College Saturday and won the second game of the series somewhat easily. This makes two wins for Maryland over Washington this year.

The Washington College track team continued its fast stepping and forced Blue Ridge to take the small end of a 65 to 25 score in a dual meet last Saturday on the local field. Blue Ridge was able to take only one first place in the whole meet, that being scored by West in the 440 yard dash. The rest of their points coming from second and third places.

The Eastern Shore Women's Polo Association went to Washington Wednesday and played with the polo club of that city.

"NELODY LAND" PLEASE LOCAL PEOPLE

Minstrel Musical Revue, Staged by Wheeler Producing Co., and Acted by Local Talent, Draws Big Crowds For Three Successive Evenings

The Wheeler Producing Co., with the aid of local musical, minstrel and dramatic talent, has scord another triumph in the realm of entertainment. For three successive evenings, Lyceum Theatre was packed to the door by crowds who were anxious to see the local theatrical stars in action and at the same time, help the worthy cause of the Chester Volunteer Fire Company. While there has been some question as to whether or not the entertainment was as good as the one of about a year ago, the consensus of opinion seems to be generally that it was good enough. It was well conceived, well staged, well played and equally well attended. This is sufficient.

The first act, saw the children doing their stunts. They were well drilled and worked well together. "Melodies of Childhood" was the title of the act. These juvenile performance always please the people because of the interest that people, naturally, have in children generally, and especially in their own children. Those who took part were: Charles Harris, Betty Thibodeau, Clinton Robinson, Mary Joe Wheatley, Billy Atwater, Elizabeth Wheatley, Mary Emma Chairs, Jean Cooper, Harriett Gill, Margaret Ann Turner, Katherine Anthony, Nancy Shakespeare, Betty Hess, Elizabeth Baxter ,Carrie Schreiber, Katherine Chance, Miriam Thompson, Phyllis Greenwood, Virginia Barnes, Gladys Aldrich, Betty Lewis, Jane Robertson, Christine Clark, Mary Westcott, Margaret Anthony, Betty Barnes, Kathryn Strong, Harriett Louise Rogers and Elizabeth Strong.

The "Wooden Soldiers" were Charles Atwater, Charles Hadaway, Louis Hess, Vannort Simpers, Rumsey Anthony, Billie Russell, John Bibbs, Bobbie Ayres, Scott Beck, Francis Parsons, James Kreeger.

The Yankie Dixie Dolls were: Virginia Reed, Lucille Rasin, Margaret Cosden, Anna Lewis, Esther Allen, Sara Beckley, Betty Anthony, Irma Adams, Kathryn Baker, Margaret Malin, Gladys Everett, Zoa Coleman. Louise Goodman, Clara Robinson.

Solos were rendered by Charles Harris and Frank Price.

The second scene of this act was entitled "Melodies of Real Life"—at the Stile. This scene was acted by young ladies and young men in a most exceptional manner. The parts taken were unique and Misses Dorothy Woodall, Kathryn Wright, Susie Smith, Dorothy Keats, Mariam Hunter, Mrs. Barber Bartley; Messrs. Jimmie Chapman, H. F. Ward, Charles Kirby, Jimmie Kirby.

Miss Elizabeth Culp and Miss Katherine Ford then sang solos which drew considerable applause from the audience, while later Miss Mary Power and Mr. Wm. M. Davis, acted a "rube scene" in such a manner that one's mind reverted almost instantly to the cross-roads. Those who accompanied in the act were: Louise Simpers, Nancy Jean Usilton, Kitty Shakespeare, Margaret Rasin, Grace Wright, Clorea Baxter, Emily Jewell and Dorothy Pennington.

In Scene Three, entitled "Melody Dreams," the following participated; each rendering a solo which was well received: Miss Gertrude Merrick, Miss Helen Connoelly, Mr. Thomas Perkins, Miss Elizabeth Roe, Mr. David B. Ford, Mrs. H. J. Wheeler.

Scene Four was entitled "Melodies of the Woods," and was supposed to represent a gypsy camp in the woods in England. Personally we have never seen a gypsy camp in England, but we have seen a great many in Kent County in the past years, and Judging from the type of English gypsies represented in this show, they far exceed Maryland gypsies both in the grace with which they performed their parts and the winsome and attractive manner in which they were attired. As we said before, we have never seen English gypsies, but hereafter we have only the highest admiration for them. Miss Rebecca Moffett was the gypsy queen, while Miss Margaret M. Crew, Mr. Melvin Davis and Mr. F. V. Zappa were the other principal actors in the drama of the gypsy camp. The other gypsies were: Misses Marian Hunter, Catherine Wright, Elizabeth Culp, Elizabeth Titsworth, Miriam Smith, Margaret Russell, Helen Coleman, Dorothy Woodall, Dorothy Keats, Katherine Smith, Mary Beckley, Julia Keats, Margaret Coleman, Virginia Bell. Ruth Jones, Cora McWhorter, Catherine Jarrell, Margaret Smith, Susie Smith, Miriam Kirby, Rose Gordon, Hazel Greenwood, Carrie Walters. Mrs. Barber Bartley. Messrs. Jimmie Kirby, Joe Jefferson, Jake Reiger, Charles Harris, J. W. VonBriesen, Bobby Cavanaugh, Michael J. Fiore. Gipsy Dance,Miss Dorothy Woodall, Miss Catherine Wright.

Then came the minstrels, with Messrs. Phillip Sewell, Eddie Keenan, Joseph Wheatley and Clarence Newcomb as the end men, with H. J. Wheeler as the interlocutor. The other minstrels men were: Julian Coleman, J. H. Thompson, John Barnes, Thomas Bowers, Thomas Maslin, Thomas Perkins, James Chapman, A. L. Sparks, W. G. Smith, William Blakeney, Heigh Hill, W. L. Fowler, James Kirby, E. R. East, Herman Blackway, W. Jefferson, Carl Lecates, Charles Kirby, Joe Lewis, John Hadaway, Clark Davis, D. B. Ford, Willard Thawley, Clarence Armstrong, R. H. Rogers.

The following sang solos during the minstrel part of the entertainment: John Alderson, Eddie Keenan, Philip Sewell, Thomas Maslin, Jimmie Galvin, Joseph Wheatley, Clarence Newcomb and Heighe Hill, while Messrs. Bowers, Barnes, Perkins and Carroll also sang together. The minstrel feature was particularly attractive. The jokes of Messrs. Sewell, Keenan, Newcomb and Wheatley drew considerably applause from the audience, which always looks for local hits as one of the principal features.

The first two end men, Messrs. Sewell and Kenan, as well as the later two, Messrs. Newcomb and Newcomb and Wheatley, who came in on wooden horses were in their usual fine form and caused many hearty laughs from young and old.

Mrs. H. J. Wheeler was musical directress of the entertainment. The pianists were Mrs. D. B. Ford and Miss Mary Covey. The orchestra was as follows: C. A. Bacon, Norman Graves, Donald Stam, John Alderson, Dr. Fred Livingood, Earl Nichols, Louis R. Carroll. Roy Woodland.

MASSEY DEFEATS CHESTERTOWN FIRE COMPANY

On Saturday, May 15th, 1926 Massey defeated Chestertown in a closley contested game. Cornell on the mound for Chestertown was going along fine until the sixth inning when Massey got to him for four runs and got four more in the seventh. Outside of these two innings no was effective. The Massey club scored twice before these innings. Groff was doing the mound work for Massey. He also ran into a storm of basehits in the sixth which amounted to three runs. Groff was a trifle wild at times but was effective in the pinches. Ten of the Chestertown batters churned the air for these strikes bringing his strike out record for the season to twenty-three. While he was doing excellent mound work he has been doing some mean stick work leading the Massey club with an average of .625. Groff and Moffett are the only two men on the Massey nine that haven't fanned so far this season. The Massey club has won two and lost no games this season giving them a percentage of 1.00. The final score on Saturday was 10 to 5. The batting averages of the Massey club including Saturdays game are. H. A. Groff .625, Morgan Rowan .500, Earl Haley .500, Joe Peacock .445, Gilbert Moffett .429, Issac Gibbs .429, C. Pinder .286, G. Newnam .125, L. Newnam .112.

DELAWARE REDUCES TRUCK SPEED

Growers and shippers of truck and produce from the Eastern Shore who are using motor truck transportation to convey their crops to the market in Philadelphia, New Jersey and New York are decidedly wrought up over the enforcement of the traffic regulation in Delaware which demands a reduction in speed of all trucks weighing with load 6,000 pounds or more, to twenty-five miles per hour, instead of thirty-five.

There has been a very rapid growth in truck travel over Delaware highways during the last two or three years. From records maintained by the State Highway department, this increase has jumped from twenty or twenty-five trucks a day to approximately one hundred within the same period, in less than two years.

Trucks or less than the 6,000 pound limit and those making return trips without load, and having pneumatic tires, are still permitted to travel at the thirty-five mile an hour speed limit.

REFLECTIONS

The sun is slowly sinking,
Down beyond the streams
Of waters sent from Heaven,
That form my "Bay of Dreams."

Now gone from human vision,
At the close of day,
There stiff, is the impression,
Reflected in the bay.

Just like a little candle,
Life must have an end;
Snuffed out it's light continues,
To travel round the bend.

So life is like the sunbeam,
Dancing through it's day.
Till God makes it's impression,
Reflect in "Mem'ry's Bay".

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET TODAY

The fifth annual Eastern Shore Interscholastic track and field meet will be held today on Washington Field. All the nine counties of the Shore will be represented. About 600 have entered for the contests. Prof. Woodland, of Washington College, has charge of the affair. Great interest is being manifested in the big event and a great crowd is expected.

PHYSICIAN DIES SUDDENLY

Before the performance of "Melody Land" had begun in Lyceum Theatre on Tuesday evening, Dr. Fred H. Malone, a physician of Greensboro, Md., died suddenly of heart trouble in the balcony. Dr. Malone was about 65 years of age and leaves several children and a wife. Dr. Malone who was a graduate of Washington College was well and favorably known in this community had been in poor health for several years. The body was moved from the balcony at once upon his condition being discovered and taken to Greensboro on Tuesday night for burial services and interment, which took place on Friday. The sudden death of the physician cast a gloom over the performers and the attendance of the evening.

SPARE THE TREES

"O Woodman spare that tree!" is felt when great noble trees that have borne the burden and heat of many many years are ruthlessly felled without a thought of those who will miss their grateful shade.

If the trees are hollow why not fill them with cement if overtowering top them and they will be renewed for many years.

In many places the trees are treasured and protected in every way and it seems that Chestertown is unique in having no care for her trees.

Germany has taught the world a valuable lesson in her noted efficiency "If one tree is cut down plant two in its place," is a command that the people have to obey. Cannot we too follow her example and have our town so beautifully located by nature, adorned with towering trees instead of being deprived of those she already has.

Cannot our Town Development Club and our Rotarians do something to make our burg situated, as it is on such a lovely body of water, a town adorned with protected and valued trees?
