SENATOR J. H. C. LEGG, of Centreville, candidate for the State Senate has withdrawn from the contest and William R. Wilson, of Ingleside, has become the candidate. Senator Dudley G. Roe is the opposing candidate.

THAT THE PEOPLE of Kent County are becoming stronger in their support of Governor Ritchie is evidenced almost daily by the expressions we hear. They are not, as far as we hear, being influenced by the attacks being made on him by an opposing candidate. Governor Ritchie is well able to take care of his position on the Conowingo and other matters of public interest to the people of this State. In due time we, and other supporters of the Governor in this County will be heard from. We believe the Governor is justified in his position on the questions on which he is being so much criticised, and we believe his position will be vindicated at the September primaries by an overwelming majority.

WEDDINGS

John W. Rolph, son of Charles W. Rolph and wife, of Chestertown, and Miss Julia Angle, of Philadelphia, were quietly married at the M. P. parsonage, Chestertown, Friday at noon. They will go to Buffalo where they will reside.

The following marriage licenses have been issued by the clerk of the Court the past week:

Louisa Urie, Kent County, and James Price, Kent County.

John W. Rolph, Philadelphia, Pa., Julia E. Angle, Philadelphia, Pa.

WOMEN'S SHORT COURSE

The fourth annual Short Course for Rural Women will be held at the University of Maryland from June 14th to 19th inclusive.

Plans are being made by women all over the State to attend this Course. Fifty-six rural women of Maryland are eligible to receive certificates, testifying to four consecutive years of attendance. Exercises incident to the presentation of these certificates will be one of the interesting and impressive features of the Short Course.

The University looks upon this Short Course as being one of its most important activities, and this year's commencement is again to be held one week sooner, in order that the dormitories may be in readiness by Monday noon June 14th.

In addition to the educational program for the week, plans have been made for ample recreation. The musical feature of the week will again be in charge of Dr. H. C. House, Director of choral music at the University of Maryland. Dr. House has the rare faculty of inspiring groups of singers and making the musical feature of the program highly enjoyable.

All Kent women who desire to take this Course should secure registration cards and general information from the Home Demonstration Agent, Susan V. Hill, on or before June 1st.

The Cost of this Course is so little that no woman who can plan to be away for five days, can afford to miss it.
