PERSONAL OF THE REGULAR ORGANIZATION TICKET

BENJANIM W. DULING, of Millington, in the first Election District is a contractor and carpenter and a man accustomed to handling large business contracts. Mr. Duling is a candidate for the office of county commissioner. He is a man of matured age and good judgment. Mr. Duling has never held public office.

SAMUEL C. LOLLER, is a farmer residing near Worton in the Third Election District and is also a candidate for county commissioner. He is a man of rare good judgment and well qualified for the position which he is seeking. He knows the necesity of the rural sections of the county and if nominated and elected will give the people a good admistration.

CHARLES D. WOOD, of near Tolchester in the Sixth Election District is a candidate for county commissioner. Mr. Wood is a farmer and a man well and favorably known to the people of this county. He served his county some years ago as commissioner and is basing his campaign on his record of his former service to the taxpayer of this county. Mr. Wood is a man of unusual good judgment, conservative and if nominated and elected will serve the county faithfully and well, as he did when commissioner some years ago.

THE office of County Commissioners is one of, if not the most important office in the county. It is an office that shuld have our best business men; men of good judgement and conservative ; men who will look will to the best interests of the counties affair and considerate of our tax-payers.

DEATHS

Mr. Clarence Gale, of Raleigh, N. C., died Friday, July 2, at his home there. Interment took place at Easton, Maryland, on Wednesday of this week Mr. Gale was a road contractor and spent several months in Kent county building roads; at the time of his death he was employed by the Roads Commission of the State of North Carolina. He leaves many relatives and friends in Kent county He is survived by a widow and one son, Clarence, Jr.

Augusta Virginia Capel, daughter of Otto Capel, died on Monday at Union hospital, Elkton, of pneumonia, aged 5 years. She leaves a father, two sisters and six brothers. The remains were brought to the home of her uncle, Mr. Medford Capel where funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. F. Corkran. Interment n Chester cemetery. The pall bearers were her four brothers. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE GRADUATE PROMINENT IN ENGLISH POLITICS

Hitherto the English Women while having the right of suffrage are not allowed to vote until they are 30 years old. They are now demanding that they shall be allowed to vote at the age of twenty one astheir husband and sons do and they have asked their American friends to help them Among those who have gone over to help them is Miss Lucy Branham well known in Chestertown and a graduate of Washington College.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

According to a decision handed down by the Court of Appeals, Richard R. Whittemore will not be allowed a new trial and must pay the penalty of death for the murder of a guard while escaping from the Maryland Penitentiary last year. Judge William H. Adkins, of this circuit dissented from the opinion.

Operators of the New York subway and elevator trains have struck for an increase in wages. These trains are being operated by strike breakers and are running about 50 percent normal.

Efforts to have the Senate consider coal bills have failed year after year. King Coal holds the diamond belt as the champion strangulator of Congressional action. King Coal makes a terrible noise around the Capitol whenever there is a strike. The process of the politico—coal problem over these many years reminds one of the old, old story told by the Arkansas Traveler who came upon a man in the Ozarks who had a hole in the roof of his house. The householder explained that when it didn't rain he didn't need a roof, and when it did rain it was too late to fix it.

Despite the fact that the President and Senator Underwood are sponsoring a majority report of a joint committee of Congress for the leasing of Muscle Shoals, the measure has run into political shallows and is hung up on the sand bars of Congress. It wont get across this congressional trip.

Judge—George you have been in this court for about every petty crime in the code, and yet you expect to go to heaven and be an angel.

George—I's worried about being an angel, Judge; I can't figure how I's gwine get my shirt on over mah wings.

Judge—I guess your problem is gwaner be how to get your hat on over your horns..
