JOHN D. MAKOSKY

NEW ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Washington College has secured as the second additional instructor, lately authorized by the Board of Visitors and Governors, Mr. John D. Makosky of Baltimore, Maryland, to be assistant professor of mathematics and instructor in history.

Mr. Makosky, who is a son of Rev. E. C. Makosky, the present President of the Maryland Annual Conference in the Methodist Protestant Church, comes to Washington with the finest kind of testimonials as to his ability and character.

After finishing high school at South Side High in Newark, N. J., where he captained the track team for two years and played foot ball and basket ball, he attended for one year the Webb Institute of Naval Architecture in New York City, where he thought to prepare himself as a marine architect. Then, his plans changing, he matriculated at Western Maryland College from which he was graduated about 1925. At Western Maryland he was decidedly a student leader organizing there the first fraternal organization on the campus, conducting a profitable student newspaper, carrying out a successful campaign for students for his Alma Mator, taking part in numerous successful debates, managing the debating team, and winning his letter in basket ball and in track.

Mr. Makosky has received his Master of Arts degree from Columbia University. Although he majored in English, he as always shows a particular fondness and aptitude for mathematics which qualities admirably adapt him for his position on the Washington faculty.

His coming to Washington College fits in splendidly with the purpose of the purpose the college to strengthen particularly the freshman and sophomore years of work.

WHY A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE?

The county is the smallest legislative body in which all branches of business unite in a common government and make and enforce local laws for the benefit of the community.

Kent county is composed one people engaged in various occupations such as manufactures, farmers' merchants, and professional, and while each is a business in itself, its future depends directly upon the welfare of the other.

A Chamber of Commerce is an organization in which all these various branches unite in an effort to benefit themselves and each other. In the present age it is impossible to accomplish anything without an organized body, and if this were not true the individual has neither the time nor the money to combat with organized bodies of other sections.

The duties of a Chamber of Commerce is to look to the interests of each branch of business of which it is composed. When it speaks, it speaks as a county and is heard, when it works it works as a county and is recognized as such.

The Salisbury Chamber of Commerce states that their traffic department alone saves the famers of Wicomico county thousands of dollars annually by adjusting freight rates. Are our farmers losing money this way.

If you did not attended one of the organizing meeting held this week, loon for the date of the next meeting. Each district in the county will organized separately.

A NEW OILER OIL

"The Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) worked several years to perfect a new oil. Even then, after conducting more than a hundred exhaustive tests, the company decided not to offer it to the public until they had given the new oil a thorough trial of twelve months in their ows fleet of cars asd trucks.

"These were gruelling tests under every day driving conditions, yet this new motor oil brought an increase in gas mileage as high as 12%. It gave an increase in power or from 3% to 10%. Oil mileage was better by 8% to 35%.

"In all these tests, the motor ran cooler with the new oil. There was less crankcase dilution. Carburetors could be adjusted or leaner mixtures, and many of the men reported they could actually feel the difference' while driving."

—At a meeting of the Commissioners of Chestertown on Monday evening of this week it was voted to give the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co., 300 feet of new hose.

AUTO GOLLISION

Two Ford cars were badly wrecked in a collision Tuesday morning at the corner of Skinner's Neck road and the Rock Hall road. One car owned by Mr. Roy Jaquette was coming out of the Skinner's Neck road, the other, owned by Mr. James Jones was coming from Rock Hal toward Fairlee. The accident resulted in slight cuts and bruises to the occupants of the cars.

THE BLACK SNAKE

Mr. Joseph Brice, proprieter of Brice's Mill, which recently burned, brought to the Transcript office this week the sluff of a black snake which measured seven feet in length and five and one-half inches in circumference. The sluff was perfect in every respect and is the largest we have ever seen.

This snake has lived in the old mill for years and has been a pet of Mr. Brice. It has been a valuable asset by keeping the mill free from rats and mice.

The black snake, found in large quantities in Kent county is harmless, its bite is non-poisonous and proves in many cases to be a great asset to farmers.

A FALSE ALARM

On Monday while scores of cars were parked waiting for the boat from Baltimore, a Stanley Steamer belonging to Mr. Percy C. Lee, of Chestertown was thought to be on fire. An elderly lady, the only occupant of the machine was assisted to safety whereupon the anxious bystanders promptly pushed the steaming menace into the bay where it remained for at least half an hour. In the efforts to pull the car out of the water about fifteen men pulled on ropes attached to the immersed machine. The ropes broke frequently causing the crops of workers to fall about like children playing "snap-the-whip." Finally a powerful car and chains were brought to the aid of the toilers and the car damaged by water was towed away. According to a statement made by Mr.. Lee the car was not on fire, but the excitement was caused by steam escaping through the safety valve. The car is a Stanley Steamer.

FRANKLIN FARMERS TO VISIT KENT COUNTY

The farmers of Franklin County, Pa., with their wives and children, each year make a tour through agricultural sections of neighboring states and this year they will visit Cecil and Kent counties and spend the night of August 5th in Chestertown.

Messrs. J. H. Knode, county agent of Franklin county; W. Lee Gordy, supt., of schools of Chambersburg, Pa., and a graduate of Washington College in the class of 1898; W. Crawford, pres., Farm Bureau of Franklin county and J. Porter, local supt., of Heintz pickle factory came to Chestertown recently to arrange with Dr. Paul E. Titsworth for the entertainment over night of this delegation of farmers totaling five hundred. Dr. Titsworth with a committee are making arrangements to house most of this delegation at Washington College using the four domitories and the gymnasium.

These wide-awake farmers carry their own provisions and pay for their lodging and arrangements will be made to supply the party with coffee and ice cream. Aside from a delightful outing much can be gained by a trip of this kind.

ACCIDENTS AT CROSSINGS.

Kent county has had some serious accidents at railway crossings in the past.

In considering the railroad highway crossing situation, dramatic and distressing as its mishaps are, we should not lose sight of its relation to other accidents upon the highways, in which automobiles are involved.

The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce has reported 19,828 motor fatalities in 1925, an increase of 10% over those during the previous year.. As there were 450,000 motor injuries in 1924, the same rate of in crease indicates 500,000 injuries last year. Railroad-crossing and street-car casualties are not included in these figures, as such accidents are charged, for statistical purposes, to the heavier vehicle. Railroad-highway crossing fatalities were but 10% and injuries 1 3-10% of all highway casualties.

Automobile registration increased in 1925 12.70; Automobile highway fatalities increased in 1925 10.00; Automobile highway injuries increased in 1925 10.00; Railroad crossing fatalities increased in 1925 2.60; Railroad crossing injuries increased in 1925 .54.

CAFETERIA FOR THE COLLEGE

Contract to build the new $10,000 cafeteria at Washington College was Saturday awarded to Albert Raleigh, contractor, of Chestertown. The innovation at the shore school will be ready for use, it is expected, by opening of college in September. The present dining halls for men and women in Reid Hall will be abandoned and the entire student body will be permitted to take their meals in the new cafeteria, to be consructed in the large basement of the gymnasium.

OBSERVES HIS 91ST BIRTHDAY

Col. William J. Vannort, oldest grand Army veteran in Kent county, quietly observed his ninety-first birthday at his home here and is enjoying fairly good health for his age. Mr. Vannort is the oldest living member of Christ Methodist Protestant Church in this town and has been a member of its official board for many years. He as been for years one of the leading Republicans in the State and in 1880 was his party's candidate for Governor against Gov. Frank Brown. Notwithstanding his age, Mr. Vannort takes daily walks from his home to the business section of the town.

FOUR ARRESTED FOR THIEVING

Sheriff William Goodman has succeeded in arresting four of a gang of thieves who, for several months past, have been terrifying the farmers in the vicinity of Kennedyville by robbing hen roosts and meat houses of hundreds of dollars worth of meat and good fat hens. Warrants have been placed in the hands of Cecil county authorities for the arrest of several other members of the gang living in that county, and until those arrests are made, the sheriff refuses to divulge the names of the prisoners now in jail here awaiting a hearing. It is expected that there will be several arrests shortly.

FIRE DESTROYS OUTBUILDING

A fire of unknown origin destroyed the horse stable and cow stable on the farm near Fairlee owned by Mr. John Walter Skirven and tenanted by Mr. Grover Coleman, on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Coleman was awaked at 1.30 a. m., and found the stables on fire; after rushing to a neighbors and phoning the alarm to Chestertown, he returned to the scene, and with the aid of neighbors, succeeded in protecting the barn until the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co., arrived on the scene. The local company, with the aid of chemicals and a small supply of water, kept the fire from spreading.

There was very little property loss aside from the two buildings which were practically new. The spread of the fire was checked by sheet metal roofing on the buildings, the clear thinking and hard work of Mr. Coleman and neighbors, and the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company.

KENT HORSE SHOW

AFFAIR TO BE HELD AUGUST 19TH MUCH INTEREST BEING SHOWN

COMMANDMENTS FOR SAFE DRIVING

STATISTICES SHOW BIG TOLL TAKEN BY RAILROADS

I Thou shalt learn to recognize railroad crossings and approach them with extreme care.

II Thou shalt look both ways and listen for trains.

III Thou shalt be doubly alert if there are two or more tracks.

IV Thou shalt always use good judgment at railroad crossings that thy days may be long upon the land and the enjoyment of thy car continuous.

V Thou shalt keep thy brakes girded with effective brake lining.

VI Thou shalt not kill the passengers within thy car.

VII Thou shalt not depend upon the driver of the car ahead.

VIII Thou shalt not try to "beat the train."

IX Thou shalt, when in doubt, take the safe course always.

X Thou shalt cross Crossings Cautiously.

Everyone is vitally concerned in the hazard at the crossing.

There are 242,807 highway crossings passing over railroads. During the past five years, 3,059 were eliminated; yet, because of additions there has been an increase of 14,494 crossings.

Over 20,000,000 automobiles are registered in the United States. Their field of operaton is every highway—every crossing.

The 1925 statistics show 2,206 persons were killed and 6,555 injured at such crossings. Automobiles were involved in 84% of these casualties.

The complete separation of railroads from highways would eliminate these mishaps, but its accomplishment will require generations of time, and cost about $19,000,000,000. Immediate remedies must be sought. The following suggestions are offered.

The separation of the highways from railroads should proceed in an orderly and consistent manner.

Public authorities should discourage the creation of new crossings.

—About fifteen new hotels and homes have been erected at Betterton since January 1.
