HON. T. ALAN GOLDSBOROUGH

HON. T. ALAN GOLDSBOROUGH, who has represented this Congressional District in the U. S. Congress for the past six years is a candidate to succeed himself at the Democratic primaries on September 14. This paper has consistently supported Mr. Goldsborough in his past three campaigns and we see no reason why we should not give him our loyal support in his present campaign for the reason that he has ably represented his constituents, his State and his nation. Congressman Goldsborough is looked upon by his fellow members in congress as one of their ablest members, one who they can depend upon; a man of excellent judgment and keen intellect; a man who, though hampered by a large Republican majority has succeeded in passing some important measures for this state and in our opinion he should be returned to congress.

WE SUGGEST FOR Chestertown and all other towns of the county a town beautifying club, whose work will be the beautifying of the home town. In the present business, money making, and pleasure seeking age too little time and thought is devoted to the upkeep of the natural beauty spots of our various communities, and they are gradually being encroached upon by business enterprises. In Chestertown a few years ago the ladies of the town formed a Town Improvement Association which built a beautiful park out of a rubbish heap and were instrumental in bringing about other improvements which still shows the results of their labors. At the present time there is no organization to see to the upkeep of these improvements and carry out new town beautifying projects. At the foot of Main street the abandoned M. D. & V. steamboat wharf property could be made into a beautiful park, overlooking the Chester River.. The building of this park and proper upkeep of the park at the corner of Main and Cross streets will make Main street second to none in the state . With the proper leadership, this could be accomplished.

THE PRIMARY CAMPAIGN in this county is being contested with much vigor, each side presenting to the voters their claims. From reports that are reaching our office the only conclusion we can reach is that Senator Copper and his running mates are fast gaining favor with the people of this county. Senator Copper's stand on the moral questions in the past session of the Maryland Senate has appealed to our church people and those who stand for moral issues. Senator Copper believes in law and order and the enforcement of our prohibition law. He is opposed to the flagrant violations of law as is now going on by the bootleggers, and if nominated and elected he will use his best endeavors to secure such measurers as will put a stop to this vicious practice which is now going on within this county. We are told by those who are in a position to know that it is no uncommon thing to see boys and girls from fifteen years old and upward boldly drinking from the same bottle until they become absolutely drunk. Such conditions, we are told, are common scenes at dance halls and entertainments at both public and private gatherings. Are the mothers and fathers of sons and daughters aware of these conditions? Or are they blind to what is going on and to the inevitable. We contend Senator Copper is entitled to the nomination and election from former precedent of two sessions as senator. We further contend that there is no logical reason why Senator Copper should not be returned to the Maryland Senate—he represented his county with dignity and ability; he stood for right legislation and won the admiration of the state administration and his colleagues.. Owing to the recent bereavement which has come to Senator Copper it cannot be expected of him to continue the active campaign which he otherwise would do, so he must therefore depend upon his friends to do it for him Lets not fail him, but let every one of us put forth our best efforts and see that he and his entire ticket is nominated and elected.

The clouds of sorrow are hovering around him, and the shadows of bereavement are thick across his pathway, but the sympathy and loyalty of his host of friends are with him to the end.
