INTEREST IN THE success of the Regular Organization ticket, which is headed by Senator W. B. Copper, is increasing as the campaign advances and new recruits are being added each week. As stated last week in this paper Senator Copper stands for law and order and the uplift of the community and humanity and his record in the last session of the Maryland Senate can be referred to with just pride along these lines. There is nothing in that record for him to be ashamed of; his conduct and position on public matters that came before that body are in keeping with the life he has lived. As chief judge of the Orphans Court of this county for six years and as a member of the school board for about five years, four years of which time he was president of that important body, all serve as a justification for his return to the Maryland Senate in 1927. Senator Copper is what might be termed a conservative and safe man, and his leadership of this county would be along safe and conservative lines, while his associates on the ticket which he heads are among our best citizens and when you place the management of our political fortunes in the hands of such men you make no mistake. There is much political propaganda afloat but who is, or where is the man who can show W. B. Copper ever neglected a public duty? We have known him ever since, and before he entered public life, we have closely followed his political and business life and we are frank to say we have never known him to falter in the performance of his duty. When such busy men as Senator Copper are willing to make the sacrifice to accept the senatorship and take three months out of twelve to devote to the interests of his county it seems to us that he should have the nomination with thanks. Take the personnel of this ticket and analyze it and see if it can be materially bettered with men who are willing to accept public trust and take the criticism that follows. The securing of good men who are willing to enter a primary contest is no small matter and only those who have been in close touch with it know the difficulties of such an undertaking.

EGGS NOT INCLUDED

A Scotch farmer had agreed to deliver 20 hens to the local market. Only 19, however, were sent, and it was almost evening before the 20th bird was brought in by the farmer.

"Man," said the butcher, "you're late with this one!"

"Aye," agreed the other, "but, ye see, she didna' lay until this afternoon."
