Mrs Kathleen N. Archibald and E. LeRoy Hayes, of Rock Hall, were married at three o'clock the afternoon of Monday, August second, at Elkton, Md., by the Rev. Mr. Wagner, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, at his home in that town.

GUARDSMEN HAVE VISION

Folks who stay at home in comparative comfort might give a thought to the men of the Maryland National Guard, spending sultry days at Virginia Beach with a full quota of hard work.

It requires courage to face the blistering heat of the glaring white-sand parade ground in midsummer for hours on end, when there is no battle line waiting just over the horizon. Courage and endurance.

And our guardsmen do this just that they may be ready in case something happens to require their services as fighting men, that they may live up to the high traditions of the Maryland Line.

So, besides courage and physical vigor, these men have vision. It will be better for all of us when more of the stay-at-homes are able to match them on all three points, or, at least, the last.

'Mr. Harry F. Jefferson of "The Ladies' Store" writes us that fancy trimmings and fur are the big thing for ladies dresses and cloaks for the coming season. Blouse effects in cloaks and dresses will prevail while very short skirts without flares will be in vogue. The ladies will appreciate these style tips direct from America's center of fashion.

KENT COUNTY HEALTH ASSOCIATION

WORK ACCOMPLISHED BY KENT COUNTY HEALTH NURSE DURING JULY

The following statistics give an idea, in part, of the work done by the Kent County nurse, Miss Ruth Taylor, during the month of July and show the value of the Health Association especially along preventive lines. Miss Taylor visited 87 homes, made 145 visits which included instructive, nursing and social service work; she spent 122 hours in field and 42 hours in the office. She also accompanied two patients to the Maryland State Sanitorium and one to Eudowood. Four children have been accepted at the Claiborne Preventorium three in other hospitals and two others placed on waiting lists. The follow up in connection with the examinations of children of pre-school age is well under way.

The Kent County Health Association has moved from its rooms on High Street and is waiting for the completion of the new Health Center in the Voshell House. The central location of the new quarters will be an aid to the community, especially to those who attend the clinics. Part of the proceeds of the Horse Show which is to be held August 26 will be given over to the Health Association.

—The local mail truck was over an hour late on Thursday morning.

DEMOCRATIC VOTER WRITES ABOUT CAMPAIGN

Messrs Editors:—

The Democrats of this county will be called upon on September 14th to nominate candidates for the repective state and county offices and it is the duty of the good thinking people of this county to analyze the policies of each faction in the party and also give due consideration as to the merits of the leadership of each faction.

The popularity of a "faction" is in a measure determined by the personnel of the entire ticket, but the Senatorship the man at the head of the county ticket, is regarded as representing the policies of the faction to which he is allied.

We accept the Kent News statement in its issue of June 19th wherein it stated that the old organization ticket is headed in Kent by "that matchless leader, S. Scott Beck; and as the News is supporting Mr. Beck, we are justified in accepting Mr. Scott Beck as the leader of the organization.

Remember, the News did not assert that the leadership is composed of Charles L. Dodd, Fred G. Usilton, Wm. F. Russell and S. Scott Beck, but the "matchless leadership" is one man, S. Scott Beck.

Now let us return to the Regular Organization, upon which ticket we find W. B. Copper, the candidate for Senate. We have not heard it stated by those politically close to Mr. Copper that he claims or desires "leadership." One issue therefor to which the voters must give attention is this: Do they desire Mr. Copper reelected to the State Senate? or do they intend to place the destinies of the party and county in the hands of Mr. Beck?

It is fair to consider these two candidates as public men. Senator Copper is a business man; as a banker he is in close touch with the people of the county. He is level headed, fair minded and courteous.

Of course Senator Copper is the proper one to speak as to his attitude on good roads, economy, and the public schools; but from a personal knowledge of many years the writer is warranted in saying that Mr. Copper will use his best endeavors to increase the mileage of good roads for Kent. For at least twenty years he has been an advocate of economy in affairs of state and county and he was always found supporting candidates for county office who stood on a platform of economy and efficiency. He will urge, as far as the ability of the county's treasury will allow, improved school facilities where needed.

Mr. Copper's running mates are safe, correct and substantial citizens who are committed to give the affairs of the county, intelligent and efficient attention.

Not only does the leadership in the Beck organization center in Mr. Beck, but as three other candidates for important offices on his ticket are his relatives, it may be correctly said his ticket is decidedly flavored with the same leadership.

And finally it is the duty of all Democratic voters who are permitted to vote at the September primaries, to cast their ballots for those candidates who are the most capable to administer the affairs of state and county.

Respectfully submitted:
Democratic Voter.

FEW HINTS ON READING

WHICH IS BETTER READING POETRY, FICTION, TRAVEL, HISTORY, SCIENCE OR BIOGRAPHY? WHY ARE THEY ALL GOOD?

I would say poetry, as we can take anyone of these subjects and translate it into poetry, which can be easily understood by children also older persons who are often very poor readers. In poetry there are epies and lyrics with the subordinate classes, ballads, odes elegies and sonnets. For the gay hours there are lively stories by Kipling, rollicking lyrics by Holmes: for times of doubt there are inspiring songs of Longfellow, for times of grief the heart felt lines of Lowell and the encouraging complexes of Tennyson.

No phase of mind is so peculiar that its nature is not known to the great hearted men who have written for us. Whatever in printed matter brightens uplifts and encourages that is true literature. Every intelligent parent knows the importance and difficulty in these days of many books and sensational newspapers of making a wise selection for their children's reading. It is almost an axion that the boy who is provided with good books will not select the worst for himself. To the young literature is as interesting as a new toy, the working of which they would know; to the middleaged a recreation and an inspiration to the old and a solace. Strangely enough the same selection may affect thus differently at the same time people of all ages.

FIREMEN'S CARNIVAL IN SEPTEMBER

ANNUAL EVENT TO RAISE FUNDS FOR EQUIPMENT—WILL LAST TEN DAYS

This is to advise the readers of this paper that the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co. will hold its annual carnival from Sept 10th to Sept 18th. They need your support, both financial and otherwise. They will aim to have things better than ever. The big Thursday parade, Sept 16th, promises to be far superior to that of last year, providing we all help? Will you help?

They want Kent county represented in every possible way. The Polo team, the Fox hunters, The Boy Scouts the Camp Fire Girls, Sheens Cavalry, Chamber of Commerce and above all the school children of the entire county will be asked to be in line of march on big Thursday night.

Committees of ladies over the entire county, section by section, will be formed with a view of getting subscriptions to help detray part of the expenses as well as to put life in the enterprise. They will be asked to endeavor especialy to get the consent of the parents of the children to enter the parade and also the county teachers will be asked to use heir best efforts in this respect, small children will of course be accompanied by larger ones.

The firemen feel that the school children have never marched close enough to a band of music to realize they had one, but in this case it is their desire to furnish one for their own special benefit, not only during the parade, but at either the High School grounds or the Elementary School grounds they will be treated to a special concert in advance of the parade.

Now reader you may ask the question, "What do the firemen do with their money?" Our answer is just come to any meeting you wish on any Monday night in the year and you will find out, but in order that certain matters may be brought to your attention and correct evil thoughts will say that they do not pay salaries to any living person, each man has bought personally his own musical instrument, every man works without pay, the business is carried on in a business manner, they want the public to call on them at any and all meetings.

They are abused at times for not coming to your rescue more promptly but does the public give at all times sufficient information? The boys are not kickers, but ever ready to risk life and limb for others.

SUSQUI MARYLAND DAY

ELABORATE PROGRAM BEING ARRANGED BY A. S. GOLDSBOROUGH

Friday, August 27, 1926, will be Maryland Day at the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial. This day will be the anniversary of the Battle of Long Island, in which Maryland troops played an important and decisive part.

The program is in charge of Mr. A. S. Golsborough, one of Maryland's two representatives on the Centennial Advisory Board, and elaborate preparations are under way to make the exercises a credit to the State.

Governor Ritchie accompanied by Adjutant General Reckord and his military staff will be present.

County Commissioners of each county to appoint from five to ten representatives who will wear colonial costumes and act as a special escort to the Governor when he delivers his address in the Court of Honor. They will form in Semi-circular array, with a replica of the Maryland state seal as the centerpiece.

The Baltimore Evening Sun band will attend and furnish music throughout the day, and it is hoped that the Baltimore and Ohio Glee Club will be present also.

A large attendance from Maryland is expected. The Pennsylvania Railroad and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will run special excursion trains leaving Baltimore at 8 o'clock on the morning of August 27, and leaving Philadelphia on the return trip at 9.30 o'clock that evening. A special rate of $4.00 for the trip, which includes admission to the Exposition grounds, has been arranged. The Pennsylvania will also provide excursion rates for the Eastern Shore and the Baltimore and Ohio will do the Western Shore.

—Still Pond will have electric current this week. The line connecting the town with the Betterton Ice Company's powerhouse is about completed, and for the first time in its history the town will enjoy the benefits of electricity.
