LOCAL MATTER

—Mr. J. H. Clendaniel, Sr., produced 5500 bushels of wheat from 160 acres.

—Dr. H. C. Hughes is attending an international convention of druggists in Philadelphia.

—Many fishermen have been catching fish on Chester Bridge here recently.

—The tournament, scheduled for last Thursday, will be held on the French farm, near town, on Thursday, September 2, beginning at 2.30 p. m.

—The Board of Education this week declined to permit the building of an addition to Galena High School because of lack of funds.

—The Dempsey-Tunney heavyght championship fight will be held in Philadelphia at the Sesqui Centennial Stadium on Sept. 23.

—Mary Westcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Westcott, of Chestertown, swam over a mile in the Sassafras river recently. She is eleven years old.

—Capt. J. P. Franklin and his medical detachment, Maryland National Guard, returned on Saturday from a two weeks encampment at Virginia Beach.

—The Eastern Shore Womans Polo Association is preparing to enter three interesting events next week, a match at Easton the 21st, Betterton, and the Kent county Horse show.

— Miss Ruth Kitchin, of Baltimore, succeeded in a 15 mile swim across Chesapeake Bay on Thursday. The 14 year old swimmer covered a distance of 15 miles from Annapolis to Bloody Point, Kent Island.

—Mr. H. B. Derrick, County Agent, who recently returned from Europe, addressed the Chestertown Rotary Club Monday night. He gave a very interesting talk on the British Isles and the Continent.

—Sheriff William Goodman and Town Officer Samuel Cooper believe that the arrest of Stewart Johnson, negro, will be the means of breaking up for a time at least, the frequent raids made on hen roosts in the town and county.

—The Samuel V. Kilbourne store and dwelling in Broad Neck was sold this week by Mrs. Lydia Lusby Ziprian, who has occupied this property for several years past, to Mr. William Jones, of Baltimore, a former Kent Countian. Mr. Jones will take possesion about September first and will engage in the merchantile business. The price paid for the store and dwelling was $1500 exclusive of the stock of goods.

—Among the passengers in the Paris to London airoplane which crashed in a fog on the English Coast on Thursday were Misses Victoria and Mildred Baden. Miss Mildred Baden received a briken arm and a severe scalp wound, while Miss Victoria received only minor injuries. Both of these young ladies have been frequent visitors in Chestertown, the guests of Miss Miriam Jones on Washington Ave. Three passengers were killed in the crash.

—Contractor Albert Raleigh, who is installing the new cafeteria at Washington College, which will cost $10,000 when completed, states that it will be ready for service by the opening of the summer conference for rural ministers which is to be held there September 6 to 10. Numerous additional concrete walks are being laid on the grounds, and dormitories and class rooms are being renovated. President Titsworth reports that the total enrollment will reach around 250 for the year with a Freshman class of 125.

—The streets of Rock Hall were plunged into darkness and have remained unlighted for over a week since the electric lighting plant became permanently disabled. With the exception of the first night, stores and dwellings have not suffered although extra current is lacking for the various cooling plants used by merchants and automobile owners with batteries that need recharging have had to wait with what patience they could muster. A Delco system will provide lights for the carnival which opens Saturday, August 21st.

—On the farm owned by Gatch brothers, of Baltimore, and tenanted by the family of Warners, south of Rock Hall, nine large eagles have recently been killed. The Warners have some of the birds on exhibition and are lying in wait to get the remaining eagles which are menacing their smaller live stock. The farm which borders on the Chester River near the mouth of Grey's Inn Creek is noted for its fine view and its wild beauty.

APPLE-SAUCE

"Happiness is like a kiss; the only way to get any good out of it is to give it to somebody else." There's the philosophy of this charming comedy-drama in the words of the hero, Bill McAllister. One hundred and thirty laughs in 111 minutes of actual play. Count 'em. This play is but a year old. Long runs in Chicago Boston, New York and Philadelphia. On Chautauqua circuit by special permission. New York cast.

The week's program wouldn't be complete without a sure fire giggle produced like "Apple-Sauce." Go prepared to come home with aching sides. And don't forget to tell your friends about getting that season ticket, only $2.50 for adults.
