FRIGIDAIRE SELLS BIG

MANY NEW STYLE REFRIGERATORS PLACED IN KENT

Many New Frigidaire Refrigerators have been installed in Kent by Mr. George Baldwin. Gill Bros., have placed them in all their ice cream stations in Kent and Queen Annes.

Drastic price reductions effective August 10, on all lines of Frigidaire were announced today. The cut in price ranges from $20 to $90. Increased demand for Frigidaire, followed by increased production, is assigned as the reason by E. G. Biechler, president and general manager of Frigidaire.

"Through anticipated production increases we expect to materially lower our production costs," said Mr. Biechler commenting on the announcement. "We have sold more than 200,000 Frigidaires to date, a larger number than has been sold by all other makers of electric refrigerators combined. We feel that the public will demand Frigidaire in ever increasing quantities and now it is time to pass on the savings that will be accomplished."

Frigidaire recently announced a $20,000,000 factory expansion program which will give it an output of 600,000 refrigerator units next year. This new General Motors plant will be completed within a short time and will be in production early in 1927.

The price cut affects Fridgidaire metal cabinet models, residential and commercial installations and also cooling units designed for use in the standard makes of ice boxes.

"Retail sales for the first seven months of 1926 indicate that we will pass far beyond the $80,000,000 market set as our goal for this year." Mr. Biechler said, 'We have every reason to believe that cold weather sales will run many times higher than last year, for the public is just beginning to realize that it is summer in the kitchen the whole year round and that adequate refrigeration is needed every day in the year.

During the past twenty years, the expectancy of life of the average American citizen has been prolonged ten years. This has been done through dissemination of knowledge of sanitation and healthy safeguards, plus the fine work done by the government in supervising the preservation of foods in transit. Better refrigeration in the home is the next logical step."

Rapid strides are being made by Frigidaire in the commercial refrigeration field. Sales to grocers, restaurateurs, meat dealers, druggists and florists have more than doubled in the past year. The tremendous increase in this field is altogether due to the great economies and added convenience afforded by electric refrigeration, Mr. Biechler stated.

HERE AND THERE ON THE DEL-MAR-VA PENINSULA

During the last eight years soy beans have become a very important crop in the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore. The seed brings a good price and the vines plowed under provide a splendid fertilizer. The average soy bean takes but 85 days to mature and soy bean hay makes excellent cattle feed.

Distribution of permanently improved highways on the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula, based on figures obtained previous to work of this persent season show Delaware to lead with 726 miles; Maryland with 579 and the two Virginia Counties with 41.

Samuel B. Field, President of Stuart, Keith and Company, Baltimore, Md., holds the original King George grant to the whole of Assateague Island which will probably become an important point in the proposed Ocean Boulevard from Lewes, Del., to Chincoteague, Va.

The largest single block of apple trees in the world 1,000 acre is owned by the Townsend Orchard Company. near Bridgeville, Del. This orchard was formerly the property of the Delaware Apple Company and is located on the Bridgeville Georgetown State Highway, five miles east of Bridgeville. It contains 80,000 trees, 10 to 14 years old and the prospects are that it will produce this season one-quarter of a million bushels of apples.

Inquiry has been received by the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association from the owner of one of the largest foxhound packs in the country for information relative to a suitable location for fox hunting. Location must provide an open stretch of approximately six square miles with little or no wire fencing and with a minimum of heavy undergrowth and woodland.

The Del-Mar-Va Peninsula ships all the year round, early March: turnip, spinach and broccoli; April: Spinach and lettuce; May: Asparagus, strawberries; June: strawberries main crop; July: Irish potatoes, cucumbers, wheat; August: cantalopes, watermelons, apples and peaches, potataes and tomatoes; September: sweet potatoes man crop, soy beans; October: late white potatoes, sorghum; November: late white potatoes main crop; December: holly wreaths. During the whole year poultry and fish are marketed. In the winter clams and oysters are tonged and market.

The bank resources of the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula total $202,445,686.33.

The Del-Mar-Va Peninsula has a total shore line of 1,750 miles. The Chesapeake Bay and tributaries contribute 1,175, the Atlantic Ocean, Delaware Bay and Delaware River 575 miles.

—Wednesday, September 8th, will be Farm Bureau Day at Timonium Fair this year and Farm Bureau members in the 18 Farm Bureau counties of the state are being urged to rest from their farm labors on that day and journey to Baltimore county and Timonium Fair, there to mingle with their friends and fellow members from every section of the state. Last year and the year before, good crowds of farmers were in attendance at the Fair on Farm Bureau Day and they all had a good time. This year, from all accounts, the crowd will be just as large with the usual program of interesting stunt attractions.
